YANK BOMBERS RIP NAZI RAIL LINES IN ROME

Germans' Cassino Front 'Breached.'

BULLETIN.

New York, Feb. 16.—The Germans, renewing their attacks on the Anzio beachhead in Italy, have laid down a 24 hour artillery barrage and tonight sent out large formations of tanks to probe allied positions, the British radio said in a broadcast monitored here. The fiercest German thrusts have been toward the harbor of Anzio, it said.

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, Feb. 16 (AP).—American A-36 Invaders dive-bombed the Rome railway yards for the second straight day today and the Bari radio appealed to Italian patriots behind the German lines to help the destruction by sabotaging Nazi traffic.

While the Invaders struck again at the freight cars of German war material and switching facilities in Rome, P-40 Warhawks bombed the ruins of the Benedictine monastery on Mount Cassino.

The Invader planes over Rome singled out the same two targets as yesterday, the switching yards at the Ostiense and Tiburtina stations thru which the Germans are supplying their forces on the Anzio beachhead and the main front. The bombs started big fires.

Shell Monastery Hill.

Augmenting the aerial bombardment of the Germans on the Cassino front, American siege guns have opened a concentrated shelling of Monastery hill and "breaches" have been opened in that main sector of the German line overlooking Cassino, it was announced.

Warships again battered the Germans ringing the Anzio beachhead and R. A. F. bombers raided them.

Tho a lull in fighting on the beachhead continued, the Nazis having relaxed their fierce pressure, headquarters admitted Carroceto [Aprilia], the fiercely contested village 20 miles from Rome, was in German hands. This marks a retreat of approximately four miles by the allies.

The attack by United States artillery on Monastery hill followed the aerial destruction yesterday of historic Mt. Cassino abbey, which the Germans had converted into a fort.

Doughboys Patrol Around Abbey.

German infantry presumably still held the key hill, above besieged Cassino, where violent fighting swept into its 15th day.

The fighting increased as American soldiers, who hold one-third of the town, continued the methodical destruction of houses which the Nazis have converted into miniature fortresses.

Other American doughboys were "aggressively patroling" the area around the Benedictine monastery.

NAZI WAR BULLETIN

Germany's Wednesday war bulletin, broadcast by Berlin, said:

"In Italy the day passed with scouting and shock troop sorties on both sides, but there were no major engagements. Local enemy thrusts were warded off. The devastated building of the Cassino abbey, which as reported yesterday [Tuesday], was attacked by the enemy air force altho there was no single German soldier there or in the vicinity, has been largely destroyed by fire. The ruins have now been included in the German defense line.

"The air force, with bomber and battle plane formations, yesterday evening and during the past night effectively attacked enemy shipping concentrations and the harbor area of Anzio and Nettuno. One destroyer and four freighters aggregating 19,000 tons were damaged."

New Deal Bars Veteran from His Old Trade

New York, Feb. 16 [Special].—Home with an honorable discharge after 18 months in the army, Paul Skobbeko, an independent coal dealer since 1935, has run up against a firm burocratic "No" blocking his return to the business he gave up when the government inducted him into service.

This was disclosed here today when Walter J. Dockerill, area distribution manager for the solid fuels administration in New York, confirmed that Skobbeko has been denied a coal quota certificate because SFA rules call for the fixing of quotas at 90 per cent of coal sold from April 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943.

Barred by Technicality.

Skobbeko was inducted into the army April 6, 1942, and in consequence sold no coal during the period the SFA uses as a base. Dockerill said that as far as SFA is concerned it is immaterial that Skobbeko's failure to earn a quota was due to military duty and also immaterial that Skobbeko conducted a thriving business for several years and has at least 100 old customers clamoring for coal.

So far as he knows, Dockerill told an interviewer, there is no law which gives protection to a man who wishes to resume business after being honorably discharged from military service.

Skobbeko said he has written to Interior Secretary Ickes protesting against Dockerill's ruling and also has a letter in the hands of Dr. C. J. Potter, deputy SFA administrator in Washington.

Customers Give Orders.

After getting out of the army in September, he said, he got new tires for his truck and two huge trailers. His old customers gave him orders and, with his three younger brothers who had worked for him in the business previously, he began driving to Pennsylvania for coal. Collieries gave him coal for a while, despite his lack of a quota certificate, but a stop order came at Christmas time.

"We can't give a man coal tonnage out of a clear sky just because he would like to go into business," Dockerill commented.

Dockerill summed it up by saying, "The trouble is he wants to do what he wants to do. We are willing to do anything we can for the man, but there is nothing we can do."

Playing Stork, a Pilot Finds, Is a Tough Job

AIR BASE IN ITALY, Feb. 11 [Delayed] — (AP). — There was not much light in the little Italian home where the doctor and his "nurse" worked in silence.

Each outside sound started the sweat streaming anew from the harried face of the "nurse." Enemy airplanes, flak, and countless dive bombing missions had never affected him that way but this midwife mission was almost too much for Lt. Col. Harold E. Kofahl, commander of an A-36 Invader group, from Fellows, Cal., a bachelor.

Outside of the door the Italian papa-to-be had been pacing since 5 o'clock in the afternoon and now it was almost midnight.

Chicagoan Delivers Baby.

He had made friends with flight surgeon Capt. Donald [Andy] Anderson of 5025 Erie st., Chicago, who was an obstetrician back in civilian life.

When the prospective father came running for him late in the afternoon, Andy rapidly drafted his commanding officer and instructed him carefully in what a good nurse should do in such cases. At midnight a chubby red faced boy bambino greeted the world with noisy squalls.

Name Shows Father's Gratitude

They said good-by and started back to base thinking the incident was closed. But they reckoned without the gratitude of the father.

The next morning he came bursting into the colonel's office.

"My bambino, my bambino," he cried.

"Yes," said the colonel, almost as excited as the father, "what about him?"

"We name him Mario Invader."

U.S. LIBERATORS SMASH PONAPE, CAROLINE BASE

Fly Farthest West in the War.

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, Feb. 16 (AP).—American heavy bombers stabbed westward to Ponape Monday to blast that important Japanese "Gibraltar" in the mandated Caroline Islands with 55 tons of bombs in its first air attack of the war.

The daring raid, farthest western penetration by land-based army bombers, was made in "considerable force" and without the loss of a single plane, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

The Liberators of the American 7th army air force dropped most of their bomb loads on enemy installations, but also sank a small cargo ship in the harbor. There was no air interception, and anti-aircraft fire was not mentioned, indicating the midday strike caught the Japanese by surprise.

Ponape and the big naval base of Truk are the administration centers for the eastern group of islands in the Carolines. Ponape is 593 miles west of Kwajalein, the Marshalls atoll captured by American troops earlier this month, and about 2,581 miles southwest of Pearl Harbor.

Only 410 Miles from Truk.

At Ponape, the American raiders were within 410 miles of Truk. Only twice before have United States planes carried the war so far west into Japan's inner defense ring. Those were the carrier-borne raids on Tokio itself and on Marcus Island, within 1,200 miles of Japan.

In preparation for the lunge at Ponape, fleet headquarters disclosed, a marine photographic plane flew over that area Feb. 7. Photographs showed 25 enemy ships in the lagoon, extensive harbor facilities, and barracks buildings.

Because of the lofty and heavily fortified rock that guards the entrance to the best harbor in the islands, Ponape has been referred to as Japan's Gibraltar. The island is surrounded by a barrier reef and more than a hundred islets.

Holds Ancient Ruins.

In pre-war days the natives lived comfortably off the fertile land of Ponape, which raises virtually every tropical product. The uninhabited interior has many ruins of an ancient and mysterious civilization.

Nimitz also announced 7th A. A. F. planes and search aircraft of fleet wing 2 bombed five Japanese-held atolls in the Marshalls Feb. 14 and 15. One or more of those atolls has been raided every day this month with the exception of last Sunday.

A navy search plane also made a thrust at Mejit Island in the eastern Marshalls Monday, the first attack on that enemy-held position.

U. S. FLYING BOAT AT KAVIENG RESCUES 15 AS JAP GUNS BLAZE

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

ALLIED HDQ., SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Feb. 17 [Thursday].—The town of Kavieng, New Ireland, was burning brightly Tuesday. In its harbor a 3,000 ton ship, three coastal vessels, and a smaller craft were sinking. American Bostons, Mitchells, and Lightnings had just delivered a smashing bombing-strafing attack at treetop level.

Aviators from eight American planes shot down by ack-ack were floating in the water. Suddenly a Catalina flying boat landed in the harbor. Shore guns blazed. The crew of the Catalina, the "Black Cat," took on some American aviators and started for the sky, then landed again.

Four times while Japanese guns chattered the "Black Cat," piloted by Lt. Nathan G. Gordon, with a crew of seven, landed in the bay, taking off 15 navigators. The rough sea damaged the vessel, but she winged to her base, landing the rescued, some of them wounded by ack-ack.

Shaw Refuses to Teach Irish Not to Be Shy

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 16.—Publication of the will of Mrs. George Bernard Shaw tonight disclosed that she directed that $400,000 of her $619,868 estate be left in trust to "teach the Irish people manners and how not to be shy," but her playwright husband declared it would not be paid so long as he lives.

Shaw, who recently was reported to have been taxed more than $160,000 in death duties on his late wife's fortune, said he had planned to make a similar bequest to educate the English people on his death, but now he was too poor to do so. [Recently Shaw complained Britain's income taxes are excessive.]

Training? "Irish Need It."

However, he said he approved his wife's plan to assist the Irish in learning "self-control, elocution, deportment, and the arts of personal contact and social intercourse," adding:

"They need it. They get no training. They have no manners. They are ignorant."

Asked whether Mrs. Shaw had found him shy and tongue-tied when they first met, Shaw replied:

"I don't know. You see, she didn't know me when I was quite young. Besides, I'm only an Irishman by birth. Really, I'm a Londoner."

Already Asked for Money.

Explaining his refusal to allow the Irish trust fund to be set up, Shaw said that, altho his wife's bequest does not come into operation until his death, many persons in Ireland already have written him requesting the money. To a British reporter he added:

"They are not going to get it. What I have I hold. Mr. Churchill's attitude is my attitude. These conditions won't come into force until I am dead. So they are no concern of mine. You'd better wait until I am dead. Then you can get in touch with me and interview me as much as you like."

[The reference to the prime minister was not explained, but might have concerned Churchill's statement that "I have not become the king's first minister in order to preside over the liquidation of the British empire."]

Girls Ride with Governor; Should've Had Chaperon!

Columbia, S. C., Feb. 16 (AP).—After church services last Sunday Gov. Olin D. Johnston gave a lift to four students at Columbia college, women's school here. Now the girls are restricted to the campus for a week for infraction of the rule which forbids students to ride with a man unchaperoned.

F. D. R. NAMES ICKES SUPERVISOR OF JAP RELOCATION CAMPS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16 (AP).—President Roosevelt by executive order tonight gave Secretary of Interior Ickes supervision over the war relocation authority, the agency that operates Japanese relocation centers.

Some members of congress, critical of the authority, had demanded that the relocation centers be turned over to the war department. It was understood, however, that the administration preferred a civilian agency.

The authority, which has been an independent agency, was moved in its entirety to the jurisdiction of the interior department. Dillon S. Myer is its director.

WRA operates 10 relocation centers for persons of Japanese ancestry who were moved from the Pacific coast early in 1942.

Lost His Wife in a Black-Out! Suit Charges

New York, Feb. 16 [Special].—A romance between a naval gunner and the beautiful blonde wife of a former United States diplomat, which allegedly flourished under the nose of the husband on a long voyage home from Suez was described by the indignant spouse in a separation suit disclosed here today.

Love laughed at both conventions and submarines, declared the ex-envoy, Martin Meadows, in relating the billing and cooing he said went on between his wife, Krassimira, and the gunner. In fact, he claimed, love was practically hilarious as the smitten couple demonstrated their affection both in the open and during blackouts aboard ship.

Wife Does the Complaining.

But it wasn't the husband who sued. His charges were in reply to the Supreme court suit brought by Krassimira, who asked a separation because her husband had accused her "of adultery with a member of a gun crew" and because he would "sulk for long periods."

Meadows married Krassimira, daughter of a leading Bulgarian banker, in 1936 while he was chancellor of the American legation in Sofia, Bulgaria. In December, 1941, he was ordered to Cairo. The following May he resigned from the state department and started for the United States with Krassimira aboard the S. S. Buchanan.

Within a few days after they boarded the ship at Suez, the ex-diplomat charged, his wife took up a friendship with Lt. [j. g.] J. W. Cox, who was then an ensign in charge of the gun crew aboard the Buchanan.

'Twas Talk of the Ship.

"There was open demonstration of affection between them," Meadows declared. "Soon it was the talk of all the passengers on the ship, and the gun crew as well.

"My wife accompanied Cox on shore both day and night during the two days we anchored off Zanzibar. So notorious was their conduct that the ship captain reprimanded Cox and forbade him to go into the lounge or on the promenade.

"However, since the ship was constantly blacked out at night, Cox and my wife found this condition convenient for their rendezvous. On several occasions I found them embracing in secluded parts of the blacked out decks."

Krassimira denied her husband's counter-charges and Lt. Cox sent an affidavit calling the whole thing "a dastardly lie." He declared he and Krassimira never were intimate, they just went sightseeing together.

Democrats Put Money Behind New Deal Foes

Pledges of support, many accompanied with checks or cash, have been arriving at the rate of 200 to 250 daily since the launching here on Feb. 4 of an anti-New Deal movement among Democrats, Robert E. O'Brian, secretary of the American Democratic national committee, announced yesterday.

Temporary headquarters have been established in the Palmer House and arrangements are being completed to carry on a nation-wide campaign among Democrats in an effort to "wrest control of the Democratic party from the palace guard," O'Brian said.

Woodring to Confer Here.

Harry H. Woodring of Kansas, former secretary of war, elected chairman of the committee after his Chicago address, is expected here Saturday for conferences with Democratic leaders from several states, after which he and O'Brian will leave for New York for consultation with eastern anti-fourth term leaders.

O'Brian said the movement was gaining support from every section of the country, many adherents urging an early decision on the date and place of the proposed national convention.

Support in South and East.

Among the pledges of support Woodring received was that of E. Wayles Browne, Democratic state chairman of Louisiana, who telegraphed: "Am with you heart and soul and am now assisting in the organization of southern anti-New Deal association which will work with you."

John J. O'Connor of New York, former Democratic congressman, wrote to pledge his support.

James M. Thomson, New Orleans publisher who was unable to attend the Feb. 4 meeting because of illness, wrote that "things look very encouraging" in Virginia, where he has been consulting leading Democrats. "I have absolute confidence in your success," he added.

"I am highly gratified," wrote T. H. McGregor, Austin [Tex.] attorney, reporting on reaction in that state to announcement of the anti-New Deal organization. "We sincerely commend all you have done."

PHONE COMPANY ADVANCES HOUR FOR NIGHT TOLL

The Illinois commerce commission yesterday approved a proposal by the Illinois Bell Telephone company that its long distance rates for calls anywhere in the state change to lower night charges at 6 p. m. instead of at 7 p. m.

Commissioner Frank Peska said that the change would save Illinoisans $92,000 a year and would be a great help to soldiers and sailors who wish to call their homes. Recently governmental regulations were approved making the night rate in interstate service effective at 6 p. m.

The companies are to file new rate schedules and put the plan into operation by March 1.

U. S. QUESTIONS RELIABILITY OF METHOD USED

Mann Act Violation Case Pushed.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 16 [Special].—Reliability of blood tests in paternity cases was under investigation by federal authorities here today as United States Atty. Charles H. Carr announced prosecution of Charles Chaplin on Mann act and other charges will proceed despite tests purporting to show he is not the father of Miss Joan Berry's child.

Dismissal of the paternity suit brought against the former screen comedian by the 23 year old Miss Berry, his erstwhile protegee, was delayed today by John J. Irwin, her counsel, who said he would not sign a dismissal order until he had studied all the facts.

Irwin and attorneys for Chaplin engaged in a heated interchange over a report that Irwin had stated that blood tests may be distorted by the use of drugs. Irwin denied he had made any such remark, adding, "I have talked to no one and have made no decision."

3 Undergo Blood Tests.

The blood tests were submitted to yesterday by Miss Berry, her baby, and Chaplin in accordance with a stipulation that the paternity suit would be dropped if it were established by the tests that Chaplin could not be the parent of the baby, a girl, born last October. Three physicians who made the tests reported Chaplin is not the father.

Carr was reportedly interested in the fact that the California Supreme court has shown no disposition to regard blood tests as conclusive evidence in paternity cases.

Superior Judge Thurmond Clarke, who ruled in a similar case a few years ago that the man involved could be the father of a child altho blood tests indicated otherwise, furnished Carr with records of this case. Judge Carr's decision was reversed by Justice Marshall McComb, but in December, 1937, the Supreme court upheld Judge Clarke. The case was that of Daniela Arais versus Louis Kalensnik.

Criminal Case Not Affected.

Carr said the blood test concerns only the civil action brought against Chaplin by Miss Berry, and that he contemplates no change in his plans to arraign Chaplin and his co-defendants Monday. Chaplin is accused of two Mann act violations by transporting Miss Berry across state lines for immoral purposes and is named with several others on a charge of conspiring to deprive her of her civil rights.

"As far as this office is concerned, Chaplin will go on trial on those charges," Carr stated.

Discussion of the possibility of altering the results of blood tests thru drugs was started by a report Irwin had said: "Since there are some medical men who have asserted that drugs can be administered that could change the blood type, I think there should be no haste in closing the case until every angle of the blood test has been investigated."

Skulduggery Denied.

This brought from Loyd Wright, Chaplin's attorney, a vehement denial of intimations of skulduggery and a statement that whoever was spreading such ideas was "either attempting to mislead the public or ill advised." Wright said he doubted if Irwin had said such a thing.

Asked to comment on the possibility of a blood test being influenced by drugs, Dr. V. R. Stone, director of the bureau of laboratories of the county health department, said flatly, "There is no such known drug."

Miss Berry, in her first statement since results of the tests became known, said she does not think the tests "change the picture at all."

Joan Finds Some Comfort.

"I was not afraid to undergo the test, and I was the one who didn't want the test delayed," she said. "I understand the California law has ruled such tests are not conclusive anyway. That is some comfort to me. At any rate, I have a beautiful baby and I can work to support her. I will take whatever advice my attorney gives me."

An attorney representing Police Judge Charles Griffin, Capt. W. W. White, Lt. Charles Marple, and Matron Jessie Reno of the Beverly Hills police department hailed the blood test as in effect vindicating his clients. They are among Chaplin's co-defendants on the conspiracy charge on the theory that they deprived Miss Berry of her civil rights by trying to force her to leave California under threat of a term for vagrancy.

Chaplin in Seclusion.

At his Beverly Hills home Chaplin was in seclusion and was reported in the throes of musical composition.

Blood tests such as those employed in the Chaplin case have been accepted by medical men for 25 years as conclusive in ruling out a person as a parent, medical authorities here said today, but in cases of actual paternity they can do no more than indicate its possibility.

The physicians who made the tests announced their findings today, stating that Chaplin has Group O, Type MN blood.

Miss Berry was shown to have group A, type N blood, it was said, while the baby has group B, type N.

A Matter of Agglutinogens.

It is all a matter of agglutinogens, medical authorities here explained. Agglutinogens, they said, are substances in blood which cause coagulation.

There are three agglutinogen factors recognized in blood group tests, it was said. These are known as A, B, and O, and result in four blood grouping designated as A, B, AB, and O.

Two additional agglutinogen factors, M and N, are the basis for tests of blood types and result in three types of blood, M, N, and MN, medical men said. Among the so-called laws of heredity regarded as accepted is the proposition that agglutinogen factors A and B cannot appear in the blood of a child unless present in the blood of one or both parents.

Six Matings Possible.

Six matings by blood types are possible, it was said, with the following results:

MN marries MN—M, N, or MN children possible.

MN marries N—only M and MN children.

M marries N—only MN children.

N marries N—only N children.

M marries M—only M children.

There are 10 matings possible by blood groups, it was said. These are:

O marries A—only O or A children.

O marries O—only O children.

O marries B—only O or B children.

A marries A—only O or A children.

A marries B—O, A, B, or AB children.

O marries AB—only A or B children.

A marries AB—only A, B, or AB children.

B marries B—only O or B children.

B marries AB—only A, B, or AB children.

AB marries AB—only A, B, or AB children.

Berry Child Is an N.

Speculating on possibilities suggested by the theory, it was said that in accordance with the blood type tests, a union between Chaplin [Type MN] and Miss Berry [Type N] would result in children whose blood types would be M or MN. Miss Berry's child is type N.

By the blood group test, such a union, with Chaplin in group O and Miss Berry in group A, would produce children in group O or A. Miss Berry's child is in group B.

Carrying the speculation still further, it was said, a group B child born of a group A mother must have had a group B father, and a type N child born of a type N mother must have had a type N father.

CROWLEY DUE TO QUIT ALIEN PROPERTY POST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—Leo Thomas Crowley will resign soon as custodian of 375 million dollars worth of enemy controled property in the United States, it was authoritatively learned tonight.

He will be succeeded by Francis J. McNamara of Watertown, Mass., chief of the property division of the office of alien property custodian, who will probably receive $10,000 a year.

Crowley, who is a protege of Victor Emanuel, capitalist, will retain his FDIC post and also his position as administrator of the foreign economic administration.

It was reported that Crowley was being relieved of his alien property custodianship at his own request to devote more time to FEA.

RANKIN ASSAILS FIELD'S $7,500 COCKTAIL PARTY

Eclipsed Belshazzar, the House Is Told.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—A gigantic cocktail party thrown in the capital Sunday by Marshall Field, New York publisher, was brought to the attention of the house today by Rep. Rankin [D., Miss.], who said the affair made "Belshazzar's feast look like a Chinese soup kitchen."

Terming the Field party "the nearest thing to a desecration of Lincoln's birthday that I know of," Rankin said he understood Field "spent more than $7,500 on that wasteful revelry at a time when every American is being called on to save and buy bonds in order to fight this war."

The party, given at the fashionable Statler hotel, was ostensibly in honor of two of Field's employes who have recently been elected presidents of newspapermen's clubs in the capital. It was attended by some 1,500 guests, including high administration officials, Washington socialites, and reporters.

No Liquor Shortage.

The guests were made temporarily unaware of the liquor shortage, as drinks "on" Field were served from four bars.

"I am told," Rankin said, "that he [Field] threw a party that could make Belshazzar's feast look like a Chinese soup kitchen. [Belshazzar was a Babylonion king famed for revelry].

"They had everything from cocktails to caviar. He is the same Marshall Field who last September received a fortune of 70 million dollars that has entirely escaped taxation and is now being used to finance PM, a Communist publication that is being used to malign the white people of the south, stir up race trouble, promote communism, and discredit the congress of the United States.

Fears He'll Squander All.

"I hope the commissioner of internal revenue attended that party, as an observer, for I am trying to get him to bring suit to collect the taxes on that vast fortune, before Mr. Field squanders it all in riotous living or in financing subversive publications."

Guests at the Field affair said it outranked in extravagance even the huge prewar cocktail party given here by Paul V. McNutt, now man power commissioner, who at that time was hoping to get the 1940 Democratic Presidential nomination, in case Mr. Roosevelt should decide against seeking a third term.

BAN ON ESQUIRE CALLED CURB ON PRESS FREEDOM

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16 (AP).—Attorneys for Esquire magazine contended today that freedom of the press is an issue in their suit to prevent Postmaster General Walker from barring the publication from second class mailing privileges.

They said in a supplementary complaint to federal District court that Walker revoked the privileges illegally in the face of an examining board decision the magazine was entitled to them. Walker based his action on a contention Esquire did not meet requirements for second class rates. The board did not sustain contentions that the magazine was obscene.

Supplementing an injunction suit against the postmaster general, Esquire's attorneys said Walker's order "is unconstitutional in that it amounts to an unlawful interference with and abridgement and denial of freedom of the press."

DIES CONDEMNS PEACE NOW UNIT AS 'TREASONOUS'

Report Assails Plea to Drop Arms.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—The Peace Now movement, which is actively campaigning for the allies to lay down their arms, was charged today by the house committee on un-American activities with committing seditious acts "deliberately designed to lead toward wholesale treason on the part of the armed forces of the United States."

The committee, headed by Rep. Dies [D., Tex.] made this charge after five months' investigation of the organization, which has its headquarters in New York City.

Examination of Peace Now's files, the report said, disclosed that its chief organizer was John Albert Collett. It found that Collett, 32, was born in Oslo, Norway, and entered the United States in the spring of 1940 with a passport issued by the Nazi controled police in Oslo.

Collett from Russia.

Collett came to this country via Russia, which was then in league with Germany under the Stalin-Hitler nonaggresison pact, the committee observed. His activities for 10 years prior to his emigration are a mystery, it reported.

Collett, according to Peace Now files, "created" the movement last summer and became its field secretary. Subsequently, in Cincinnati, he was arrested and pleaded guilty to voyeurism [peeping]. Thereupon he resigned from Peace Now, but continues to work for it "anonymously," the committee reported.

In charging seditious activity to the movement the committee made public a letter which Peace Now sent last fall to 59 prominent religious leaders in the country. The letter said, in part:

"This is a direct invitation to ask you in your high office, and those in authority in your denomination, to publicly request all the followers of Christ under your banner at once to lay down their arms and cease supporting this war."

"Limits Transgressed."

The above statement, the Dies report declared, "clearly brands the Peace Now movement as an un-American group, at least one [Collett] of whose officers has been guilty of sedition."

"Within very broad and generous limits," the report continued, "the supreme law of the United States recognizes and provides for bona fide cases of conscientious objection to participating in war on the part of individual citizens. These limits are clearly transgressed by those who go beyond private conscientious objection and advocate treason.

Harvard Man at Helm.

"The laying down of arms, such as was advocated in the letters . . . Would of course be treason and would subject all those guilty thereof the supreme penalty. . . . The mailing of each and every one of these letters was a seditious act deliberately designed to lead toward wholesale treason on the part of the armed forces of the United States."

The committee noted that the founding of Peace Now coincided "almost exactly" with the Nazi drive for a negotiated peace, when the war trend began to favor the allies.

The official Peace Now organizing committee, the report said, presently consists of George W. Hartman, chairman, a Harvard university professor; Mrs. Dorothy Hutchinson, associate editor of Peace Now; Marjorie Ewbank, treasurer, and Bessie Simon, secretary.

In New Guinea

Privates Joseph A. Fowler and Eddie Gorski, both paratroopers, were sketched by Gary Sheahan, Tribune staff artist on assignment in the South Pacific, when the artist met them recently in New Guinea.

Fowler, whose guardian, Mrs. Jane Kaiser, lives at 6925 S. Paulina st., was a machine operator for the Campbell Soup company before he enlisted in the army. A former student of Harper High school, Fowler received preliminary training at Camp Roberts, Cal., and later was assigned to the Fort Benning, Ga., paratrooper school. His hobbies are baseball and fishing. He is 19 years old.

Gorski, 27, worked as a products reporter for the Carnegie Illinois Steel company, prior to his induction into the army, and lived at 1532 E. 72d st. His mother, Mrs. Mary Gorski, lives at 115½ Griffin av., Pittsburgh, Pa.

POLICE HUNTING CLEW FROM GUN OF DRAKE KILLER

Rookie Patrolman Is Set Free.

Police investigation of the murder of Mrs. Frank Starr Williams, who was shot Jan. 19 in her room in the Drake hotel by a fur-clad gunwoman, was narrowing down yesterday to a search for the owner or any former owner of the gun used in the slaying.

From Detective Chief Sullivan and District Capt. Frank Reynolds to the detectives working on the case, the belief is that solution of the crime almost certainly depends upon tracing the gun's previous ownership.

Gun Made 30 Years Ago.

The weapon was an old fashioned break-open blue steel revolver, manufactured more than 30 years ago by the Iver-Johnson company. Its serial number is D-37449.

In the general inquiry about the gun police questioned Probationary Policeman Adolph A. Valanis, a brother of Mrs. Ellen Bennett, red haired former key clerk at the Drake, who also had been questioned in the case. He is a former gun collector.

Valanis, in lie detector tests, denied ever having seen the weapon before, but said he furnished the gun which Mrs. Bennett used in an attempted robbery in Park Ridge in 1939. She had borrowed it for target practice, he said. Mrs. Bennett was placed on probation for the attempted holdup.

"Not Under Suspicion."

Police questioned Policeman Valanis from Monday evening until yesterday morning, then sent him home. They said he had not been under any suspicion and had not been in custody. His appearance for the 36 hour examintion at the detective bureau was voluntary.

Meanwhile, Chicago av. police were still endeavoring to trace a mysterious telephone call from Mrs. Williams' room in the Drake to a near north side tavern less than three hours before she was shot.

COMMUTERS WIN FIGHT FOR WEST SUBURBAN STOPS

Residents of Kane and Du Page counties won their fight yesterday to prevent the Chicago, Aurora, and Elgin railroad from eliminating flag stops at 16 stations, most of them west of Wheaton.

The Illinois commerce commission issued an order refusing to approve the proposed reduction in service, which the railroad contended was an effort to comply with the office of defense transportation's request to conserve power, labor, and critical materials.

The commission held the proposed changes would cause inconvenience to many passengers, including war workers, and many would be compelled to use their automobiles, thereby consuming gasoline and tires. The commission also found that the savings possible under the new schedule would be offset to some extent by the addition of trains east of Wheaton.

Road Must Post Notice.

Under the proposed changes, "approximately the same number of cars will operate and the same amount of man power will be required," the commission concluded. It ordered the railroad to post a notice in all its stations, announcing that its request had been denied.

Involved in the railroad's proposal were 317 train station stops. At three days of hearings before Examiner Robert Friedlander numerous residents of the Fox river valley testified they would have to go from a half mile to two miles farther daily in order to use the service. Some said they would be obliged to give up their homes for lack of transportation.

Objectors submitted to the commission an advertisment carried by the railroad in its timetable inviting people to locate their homes in the area served by the line.

Service 42 Years Old.

Among the objectors were representatives of Wheaton, Glen Ellyn, Elmhurst, Elgin, West Chicago, and St. Charles, and of numerous other groups of commuters. They argued that the service they wished to retain had been in effect since 1902 and that the proposed changes were arbitrary, capricious, and unwarranted.

Chauncey McCormick, who operates a large dairy farm in Du Page county, was one of the witnesses who protested at the hearings before the commission. After the order was issued yesterday, rejecting the railroad's plea, McCormick said:

"This is an example of what people would have to put up with if they were ruled by burocrats in Washington. The only thing that saved us was the commerce commission appointed by Gov. Green."

70,000 AMERICAN ALARM CLOCKS GO TO AUSSIES

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 17 [Thursday]—(AP).—Australia will wake up earlier.

Thirty thousand alarm clocks have arrived from the United States and another 40,000 are on the way. These, the first alarm clocks shipped here since the war started, will be distributed to workers in essential industry.

War industries, suffering from the late arrival of workers, predicted the alarm clocks would add many hours to production.

BARRETT MOVES FOR DISSOLUTION OF RACIAL UNIT

Atty. Gen. Barrett yesterday filed quo warranto proceedings in the Superior court asking the dissolution of the Gentile Coöperative association on the ground that its existence is inimical to American interests.

The association, said to be anti-Jewish in character, lists offices at 30 N. La Salle st. No officials are named in Barrett's suit, but its organizers have been previously identified as Eugene R. Flitcraft, Marvin Ferree, and John Nolen. The association was chartered Jan. 20, last.

Barrett's suit declared that the association's aims are not, as stated, to promote Gentile interests, but are rather to discriminate against certain racial and religious groups contrary to the Constitution. "The Gentile Coöperative association is an instrument of subversive and un-American activity," said Barrett. Its existence would only encourage other similar groups, he added.

DAILIES REPORT 14% NEWSPRINT CUT IN JANUARY

New York, Feb. 16 (AP).—Dailies reporting to the American Newspaper Publishing association consumed 194,690 tons of newsprint paper in January, a drop of 14.1 per cent as compared with January, 1943, consumption of 226,741 tons, the association reported today.

In January, 1942, the reporting newspapers used 231,961 tons and in the same month in 1941 consumption was 229,799 tons. The association said the total estimated newsprint consumption in the United States for January, 1944, was 259,587 tons which included all kinds of uses of newsprint paper.

JAPS 'FATTEN UP' YANKS IN PRISON AS SLAVE LABOR

Dyess Tells of Good Food —and Harsh Work.

In this, the 19th instalment of the late Lt. Col. W. E. Dyess' story of his life as a Jap prisoner of war in the Philippines, he tells of the neglect that caused many deaths in the prison camp at Davao, on Mindanao Island. Col. Dyess was killed in an airplane crash last Dec. 22 after escaping from the Japs.

BY LT. COL. W. E. DYESS.
[United States Army Air Forces.]
As told to CHARLES LEAVELLE.
[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Davao prison camp, in Davao province of southern Mindanao Island, had been built for the confinement of offenders against the Philippines commonwealth. Murderers made up 90 per cent of the prison population when we arrived there Nov. 7, 1942.

Of the camp itself I will say little at this time, except that it had the usual watch towers, barb wire entanglements, and machine gun emplacements. Its physical details will be of greater importance in a subsequent chapter.

Maj. Mida, commander of the camp, was displeased when he saw our emaciated condition. He had asked for laborers, not scarecrows. To our surprise, he did not put the blame on us. Instead, he ordered that we be given rehabilitating food.

Good Treatment at First.

In addition to rice, we got pork and beef, cabbage, spinach, squash, onions, potatoes, and peanuts. All these were produced on the camp's vast truck farms and live stock pastures. From the orchards, we had assorted fruit, including both raw bananas and cooked plantains. There was plenty of water for drinking, bathing, and laundry.

Sick men were sent to the hospital to recuperate. Men more than 45 years old were not required to work. Guards were tolerant.

It seemed to us at first that in Davao we had found a prison camp very closely approaching heaven. But, like most Japanese good things, the swell treatment didn't last. Apparently the recuperation didn't proceed fast enough to please Maj. Mida, so he took his laborers, anyway, cutting our diet to rice and greens soup. That was enough to sustain life and permit the prisoners to do some work, but no more.

Every man not actually in the hospital was put to work, regardless of age or rank. Chaplains, officers, and enlisted men labored side by side, planting rice, harvesting it in murky paddies, building and cleaning Jap latrines, cultivating crops, and building roads, bridges, and revetments.

"Grand Bunch" of Murderers.

The only bright spot was the presence of our friends, the Filipino convicts. They were the grandest bunch of murderers and cutthroats I have ever known. They referred to us as "the gentlemen prisoners." They hated the Japs almost as much as we did because the Japs were constantly promising them pardons, asserting that their crimes against the commonwealth were of no concern to Japan.

All they had to do, the Jap authorities told them, was teach the Americans to work hard and very soon they [the Filipinos] would walk out free. But the pardons never came. Consequently, the convicts made it as easy for us as possible. They showed us how to appear very, very busy without actually doing anything. It is amazing how little a Filipino can accomplish if he doesn't want to work. Yet you'd think he was going like sixty. We soon mastered the trick.

Maj. Mida may have perceived this, because he transferred most of the Filipino convicts to distant Paulau to work on fortifications. The brunt of the work at Davao then fell upon us.

Work Without Shoes.

For two and a half months, I cultivated fields, harvested, cleared jungles, and worked barefoot in the rice paddies. Few of us had shoes. The nails of all my toes were black for months from wading in the ooze around Davao.

The men who worked in the paddies came down with angry, tropical ulcers. When Filipinos plant rice they cover their feet and legs with heavy wrappings, but the Japs sent us in barefoot. As we sank knee deep into the bog, our feet and legs were cut by the stones and debris imbedded there.

A host of diseases are endemic in the Philippines. Any skin break becomes a vicious sore within a few hours unless it is cleaned and medicated. A request to the Japs for such treatment would have only gotten us a clout in the face. In those camps virtually all ailments are allowed to run their course, and more often than not the course leads to a shallow grave.

It was not long until my legs were a mass of ulcer scars. Simultaneously, a finger became infected and swelled to triple normal size. For a time it looked like I might lose it.

Disease Strikes Victim.

To add to my troubles, I fell victim to scurvy, which, with wet and dry beri beri, began sweeping the camp a few weeks after the diet was reduced to rice. It was the old story of vitamin deficiency.

The inside of my mouth was a mass of scurvy blisters so painful that in order to eat I had to throw my head back and drop the rice down in balls, praying none of it would touch the sides or roof of the mouth. My lower lip was swollen and covered with blisters. This came at the same time as my ulcers. The Japs would do nothing for me, tho I was very much under the weather.

The scurvy eventually was cured when my friends managed to steal quantities of papaya melons and fruit. The sores healed by themselves.

I have said before that the Japs never seemed to do anything that made sense. Maj. Mida was crying for laborers, yet he would let men lie sick and inactive when he could have had them on their feet with a little of the fruit that grew in profusion around Davao or by applying a few cents' worth of unguents and antiseptics to their ulcers.

Fruit Left to Rot on Ground.

If this was not deliberate cruelty, if it was just the Jap way of doing things, the war probably will be much shorter than we now hope. Providing us with fruit, which was rotting on the ground, wouldn't have increased the cost of feeding us, which I am reliably informed, was less than 1 cent a man per day.

The hospital compound where the sick were kept was the scene of one of several cold blooded killings that marked our stay at Davao.

An American soldier was one victim. He had been assigned to a task outside the barricade and had been given a pass. He went thru the gate and began his duties near the northwest guard tower. After working 45 minutes he grew thirsty and called to some one within to toss him a canteen of water. A Jap guard in the tower saw the canteen go over the wire. He began shouting and shaking his rifle.

Prisoner Shot to Death.

The soldier, believing the guard thought the canteen contained something contraband, unscrewed the top and poured out some of the water to show him it did not. Without a word, the Jap raised his rifle and shot the American three times; once in the chest and twice in the back after he had fallen.

Then in a tantrum, he turned the gun on the hospital building and emptied the magazine. The bullets passed thru the pine board structure, but didn't hit any of the patients.

Japanese officers who had witnessed the murder summoned an American surgeon, a lieutenant colonel, who examined the victim and pronounced him dead. The Japs explained to him that the shooting was necessary. The man had tried to escape.

There was nothing we could do in retaliation. Striking a guard or even talking back to him meant almost certain death. I was told by several witnesses of a case on Corregidor in which an American soldier who had been struck by a Jap guard walloped him one in return and knocked him flat.

Another Jap bayoneted the American several times from behind and he died in agony.

Filipino Exacts Vengeance.

Our friends, the Filipino murderers at Davao, took quite a different view of retaliation. They were willing to bide their time, then strike.

One day we were on detail at the edge of the dense Davao jungle with a Filipino—his fellows said he really was a Moro—who a few days before had been tied up and flogged for selling leaf tobacco to an American. He had been brooding and silent for days, and, I later realized, waiting for his chance.

It came now. The Jap guard called a rest period, then took off his shoes and sat down in the shade of a tree. With a spring so swift it made him look like a little brown blur, the Filipino seized an ax and buried it in the Jap's neck, almost decapitating him. Then he snatched a bolo knife and executed some intricate and pretty shocking carving on the remains.

After this he put on the Jap's shoes, picked up his rifle and, without a glance at us, took to the jungle. We expected terrible repercussions, but as a Filipino convict and not one of us had been responsible, nothing happened.

Japs Burn Their Dead.

The aftermath, however, was pretty satisfying—in a creature way—to us. The Japs of Davao turned out en masse for an impressive funeral. After considerable ceremony, the dead man was placed upon a funeral pyre and burned. When the flames had died, the ashes were placed in an urn, and the Japs gathered up the beer, rice, meats, sweet cakes, and other foods that had stood nearby during the burning. These they removed to a small building so they would be ready at hand for the departed's spirit when he started his journey to the great beyond.

Well, I guess they had to figure that this was one Jap ghost that took his chow with him, because when they went back after it they found nothing but empty beer bottles. There was nothing they could say because, according to Jap tradition, no one but the ghost could have taken the food.

It was the first beer I had had in many a day. And with beef, too!

Ask Aid for Bataan Prisoners

Corp. G. E. Sacson.

Sgt. M. G. Tonelli.

Pvt. J. A. Bainbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Sacson, 1423 N. Central av., received 140 cards and letters last September when their son, Corp. Gunnar E. Sacson, 26, broadcast by short wave from a Jap prison camp.

A graduate of Austin High school, Corp. Sacson went overseas with the 202d coast artillery anti-aircraft unit in September, 1941.

His last letter to his parents was dispatched the day after Pearl Harbor. His fiancee is Miss Thelma Hodges, 5115 Kolmar av., who is a secretary.

"We have cut out and saved every Tribune article on Lt. Col. Dyess," Mrs. Sacson said yesterday. "We feel very strongly that the quicker we send more aid to Gen. MacArthur the sooner the war will be won and the Jap atrocities avenged."

Sgt. Mario G. Tonelli, 28, a former fullback on the Notre Dame football team, is in Philippine prison camp No. 2, a postcard to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tonelli, 1614 Wilson av., last November revealed.

A graduate of De Paul High school and of Notre Dame in 1939, Sgt. Tonelli played professional football with the Chicago Cardinals before enlisting in March of 1941.

He trained at Camp Wallace and Fort Bliss in Texas, and went to the Philippines as a member of the 200th coast artillery. His brother, Aldo, is also in the army.

"We feel that we must do something to help the Bataan heroes," his parents said yesterday. "Let's really open up a Japanese front!"

Pvt. James A. Bainbridge, 25, was a radio operator with the 192d tank battalion when Bataan fell. The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bainbridge, 910 S. 9th av., Maywood, he was graduated from Proviso Township High school in 1937.

He was a past master of the Maywood chapter, Order of De Molay. He enlisted in the army in September, 1940. He took his training at Fort Knox, Ky.

His parents, who have another son, Jack, in the Pacific theater, were notified recently that James is believed to have died in a Japanese prison camp.

"I can't understand why we don't send more aid to Gen MacArthur," Mrs. Bainbridge said yesterday. "Surely we shouldn't have all these heartaches for nothing."

8 MISSIONERS WALK 4 MONTHS TO ESCAPE JAPS

[The following story on mistreatment and killing of missionaries by the Japanese in New Guinea was written last August by an Associated Press staff writer, but was released yesterday.]

BY VERN HAUGLAND.
[Associated Press War Correspondent.]

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Aug. 31, 1943 [Delayed].—The Japanese have robbed and imprisoned more than 200 New Guinea missionaries, most of them German citizens, and have killed an undetermined number.

This was disclosed by three Roman Catholic missionaries and five nuns—all German or Dutch—who reached this base today after a flight on foot thru jungles and across mountain ranges.

Among the imprisoned missionaries was Father Arthur Manion, believed to be from Pittsburgh, Pa., and Boston, Mass.

German citizens who arrived in an American plane from a forward base expressed relief at being in friendly, tho enemy, hands after eluding the Japanese. They included Father Karl Laumann of Westphalia, Brother Alphonse Widemann of Wuerttemburg, Sister Auxilium of Vienna, and Sister Arnoldino, whose German address was not learned.

200 Imprisoned.

Dutch citizens in the party included Father Anthony Cruysberg of Lindberg, Holland, and Sisters Alena, Antoniala, and Vincenia.

Father Cruysberg, only member of the party able to speak English, said:

"Only 20 or 30 missionaries have been rescued or escaped from our area into Australian territory. The Japanese imprisoned over 200 missionaries from Madang to Wewak. Most of those prisoners were citizens of Germany.

"Father Manion was tied to a pole at Wewak by natives and taken to the Japanese. Manion's bishop intervened and he was released, but was forced to operate his 20 ton schooner for the Japanese. American bombers destroyed so much shipping they desperately needed boats. Both the bishop and Manion later were imprisoned."

Walk Four Months.

Father Cruysberg related how his small party fled from Wewak April 28, just ahead of the Japanese. He recounted:

"We walked four months thru the wildest part of central New Guinea, thru jungles and across passes 10,000 feet high. The first three weeks, we three were barefooted. Then we met an Australian lieutenant who gave us shoes and guided us. The sisters made the entire distance in clerical habit.

"For three weeks, we were without food and ate only leaves. Finally we got word to the Americans and a Liberator bomber dropped supplies to us.

Shoot Two Germans.

"At last we reached an Australian camp, where we rested for two weeks, with plenty of fresh vegetables to eat. Then we walked 140 miles more to an allied forward air base.

"At But, near Wewak, the Japs killed two German missionaries.

"Six Japs took two Germans to where natives were digging graves and shot both."

Father Cruysberg said he doubted if there were any Nazis among the German missionaries. He said reports that missionaries had helped the Japs probably grew out of boat owning priests such as Father Manion being forced to move Jap cargo.

AWARD DYESS MEDAL FOR HIS DEATH CRASH THAT SPARED OTHERS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16 (AP).—Lt. Col. William E. Dyess, of Albany, Tex., who escaped from a Japanese prison camp and reported to the war department the enemy atrocities against prisoners recently disclosed in an official announcement, today was awarded the soldiers medal posthumously.

Dyess was killed Dec. 22, 1943, when his plane crashed at Burbank, Cal., and the decoration was awarded him because he sacrificed his life "by crash landing his plane in a small vacant lot in order to avoid hitting civilians traveling on a broad road where a comparatively safe landing could have been made."

Dyess had taken a P-38 [Lightning] fighter plane from the Grand Central airport at Burbank and was returning to the field when engine trouble developed.

MRS. ROOSEVELT BACKS CIO RACE MIXING POLICIES

New York, Feb. 16 (AP).—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said today that Rep. McKenzie [D., La.], who had deplored activities at the new CIO sponsored canteen for white and Negro service men in Washington, apparently was misinformed.

Rep. McKenzie.

Mrs. Roosevelt was present Sunday at the opening of the canteen, which is operated by the CIO Washington Industrial Union council. Approximately an equal number of white and Negro service men attended.

McKenzie placed newspaper accounts of the opening in the Congressional Record, and asked:

"How can any one be a party to encouraging white girls into the arms of Negro soldiers at a canteen dance while singing 'Let Me Call You Sweetheart'?"

"Soldiers who come there [to the canteen] have been in unions composed of both white and Negro members," Mrs. Roosevelt said, "and naturally if whites and Negroes work together their union, when it sponsors a canteen, cannot cut out one group of its members. As usually happens, the people chose their own friends."

OUTLAW JAPAN FOREVER, EDEN URGED IN HOUSE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 16.—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden on behalf of the government turned down a demand today by a member of the house of commons that, in view of Jap atrocities against war prisoners, he consider outlawing Japan and making a public statement that after the war there would be no place for Japan among civilized nations.

"The question of treatment accorded Japan as to other enemies after the war is clearly a matter for consultation between the allied governments concerned," Eden said. "His majesty's government does not wish to make any unilateral declaration on the subject."

Previously Eden, asked the reason for an exchange of 1,600 civilian internees from the far east and the British commonwealth, said it would not be in the interest of either the interned civilians or the war prisoners if negotiations with Japan were discussed publicly.

JAPS UNDERFEED U.S. CIVILIANS, CONGRESS TOLD

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16 (AP).—Several thousand United States citizens still held by the Japanese in the orient, congress was informed today, are facing death thru malnutrition.

The disclosure was made by Breckinridge Long, assistant secretary of state, during hearings on the state department appropriation bill reported to the house by the appropriations committee.

Discussing plans to bring the Americans back home, Long told the committee some of them have lost from 50 to 60 pounds in weight. They do not get the elements in the food that are sufficient to constitute the basis of life according to our standards," he explained. "It is adequate, probably, for the Japanese but our people cannot live on it."

Negotiations Held Up.

The Americans are interned in the Philippines, Shanghai, Corea, Japan, and Manchuria. Negotiations for the return of about 1,500 of them, Long said, had been started at the time disturbances broke out at the Tule Lake, Cal., Japanese detention center, and the Japanese promptly halted the negotiations until they could investigate the treatment of their nationals in the United States.

An investigation was made by the Spanish embassy on behalf of Japan, Long said, and on the presumption the Spanish report would be satisfactory to Tokio, the United States renewed its offer to negotiate for the return of more of our nationals.

"Their reply was 'no,' that they would prefer to wait and to do this in their own way," Long said. "So, we are hung up for the time being on that."

Tokio Explains Delay.

New York, Feb. 16 (AP).—The Tokio radio asserted today that the Japanese government at one point last year had approved the American proposal to send relief supplies to her war prisoners but had backed down because of the "Tule Lake incident, in which a number of Japanese were subject to maltreatment, and the Americans' bombing attack on the Japanese hospital ship, the Buenos Aires Maru."

The propaganda broadcast in English attributed the statement to Sadao Iguchi, spokesman of the board of information. He said:

"In view of the seriousness of these incidents, the Japanese government decided to postpone its reply to the United States government on the matter of relief supplies, and informally notified the Swiss minister to this effect. The question remains in this status."

YANK BOMBERS TURN KAVIENG INTO AN INFERNO

New Ireland Base Left a Mass of Flame.

ALLIED HDQ. IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Feb. 17 [Thursday]—(AP).—A heavy raid on the Japanese base at Kavieng, New Ireland, which left the town a mass of flames and cost the allies eight planes, was reported by allied headquarters today.

The Green Islands landings by United States and New Zealand troops Monday night and Tuesday met little resistance, and Gen. MacArthur's bulletin said the invaders' positions had been consolidated "without incident."

Medium bombers and attack planes, with fighter escort, flew thru intense anti-aircraft fire to hammer Kavieng at low altitude. Besides converting the town into an inferno, the attackers sank a 3,000-ton cargo ship, three coastal vessels, and several smaller craft in the harbor, destroyed or damaged five float planes, and blasted the airdrome.

Eight Planes Lost.

The loss of eight allied planes to enemy ack ack was the heaviest toll ever exacted of our aircraft in many thrusts at Kavieng.

Sixty-five tons of bombs were dropped and 100,000 rounds of ammunition expended.

Australians flying medium bombers hammered enemy supply areas at Jacquinot bay, on the New Britain coast, with 23 tons of explosives. Other aerial blows on New Britain were struck at Talasea in the Willaumez peninsula area and Cape Hoskins, both on the north central coast.

On the west coast of New Britain, marines have cleared the Japanese from the Borgen bay and Cape Mensing area, 21 miles east of the cape, and are continuing to move forward.

Ten Japanese planes were destroyed on the ground in a dive bomber and fighter raid on Alexishafen airdrome, near the enemy's Madang base.

"Infantry Must Win."

Gen. MacArthur said today that blockade and bombing alone will not defeat Japan.

MacArthur's statement evidently was inspired by recent allied successes in this area in which blockade and bombardment have been important factors.

"We must defeat Japan's army, and for that purpose our strategy must devise ways and means to bring our ground forces into contact with his at decisive points," said the supreme commander. "The strongest military element of Japan is the army, which must be defeated before our success is assured. This can only be done by the use of large ground forces. It's useless and misleading to talk of short cuts. They do not exist."

Team Work Will Win.

While conceding that blockade and bombing are "powerful weapons," MacArthur said, "decisive results in modern war can only be achieved thru the combined efforts of all three forces—ground, naval, and air. We delude ourselves if we plan otherwise.

"It's teamwork of a united, well balanced command used as a unit and not the preponderance of any one element that is essential to victory. We delude ourselves if we plan otherwise. Just as is the case with Germany, we must devise ways and means to bring our ground forces into contact with his at decisive points."

MacArthur said the old concept of Japan as a predominantly maritime nation based upon her island empire is no longer "factual," adding:

"With her immense holdings on the Asiatic continent, Manchuria, Corea, and northern China, to say nothing of her southern mainland conquests, she has become intrinsically a continental power with her greatest potential inland.

"Her outlying islands of the Pacific represent an outpost position important, it is true, but no longer decisive."

ALLIES RETAKE HILL POSITIONS ON BURMA FRONT

NEW DELHI, India, Feb. 16 (AP).—The Japanese have been forced to abandon some of their positions on the Haka front in Burma, while bitter fighting continued today in the Arakan area where an enemy force estimated at 2,000 penetrated allied lines 12 days ago and engaged in hand to hand battles with British and Indian troops.

The Japanese withdrew Feb. 13 after their positions were set on fire, a southeast Asia headquarters war bulletin said. Last night counterattacking allied troops retook one of two hill features overlooking the pass over the Mayu range, occupied by the Japanese near Ngakyedauk.

Writer Sees Landing from the Air.

BY VERN HAUGLAND.

GUADALCANAL, Feb. 15 [Delayed]—(AP).—Despite all the Japanese at near-by Rabaul could do about it, today's occupation of the Nissan or Green Islands was an overwhelming success.

I watched the operations from the air from the time the Higgins landing craft started unloading until the last ship in the big convoy had disgorged its cargo. It was a beautiful show of precision and efficiency.

The best the Japanese could do was to send three planes in at dawn to attack—all three were promptly shot down by naval anti-aircraft fire—and two hours later to fire feebly from shore long after hundreds of troops had landed. Landing craft and naval units replied furiously to the enemy shore guns and quickly put an end to that.

Lt. Col. Floyd Skow of the army engineers and I were passengers in the navy Liberator photo-ship of Comdr. John H. McElroy, Birmingham, Ala. We rode over the target for three hours.

Planes Shot Down.

We arrived over the pretzel shaped island group at 6:30 a. m. Barges were streaming from their mother ships, which stood off at sea, and filing thru the narrow channel into the Nissan lagoon in graceful lines.

An instant later all the ships shifted their course and began zig-zagging sharply. We at once saw the reason for it—three airplanes streaking in fairly low from the direction of New Ireland.

American destroyers and other warships guarding the convoy, as well as landing ships in the convoy itself, threw up a furious barrage of anti-aircraft fire.

Shoots at U. S. Plane.

Waist Gunner Walter Theobald, Redondo Beach, Cal., let go with a burst at one plane before it was found to be one of ours. "It was a Corsair," he said. "I think I put a couple of holes into him, but it didn't seem to do any harm."

Nissan Island had been used by the Japanese as a daytime barge hideout on the two nights' journey between New Ireland and Buka.

A large New Zealand force made the main landing, with American complements including Seabees who immediately began unloading their heavy machinery and putting it to work.

The commander, New Zealand's Maj. Gen. J. E. Barrow-Clough, expected determined air attacks by the enemy during the first few days.

We saw a flash of fire on one of our ships and thought for a minute it had been hit. But there was no smoke or further flames, so we figured it had been a flash of guns that we saw. Not one of our vessels—and there were dozens of them in the small area—was hit or damaged.

We saw landing ships pound the Japanese gun position so furiously some of their charges went clear thru the jungle across the narrow island and spattered into the sea on the other side. The firing ended quickly, tho a couple of American gunboats hung off the beach. Our dive bombers and torpedo bombers went on and raided Rabaul.

One type of craft did a particularly quick job of unloading. We saw the first one beach at 8:10 a. m. and it was unloaded by 8:45 a. m.

Isle Raided on Jan. 31.

A small force of New Zealand commandos, accompanied by a handful of American specialists and observers, raided Nissan Island Jan. 31. The raiding party remained on the Japanese occupied atoll for almost 24 hours. I was one of two correspondents who went along on the mission.

The Japanese fired at us from shore and Zeros came over for bombing and strafing attacks. Three American sailors and one New Zealander were killed and nine men wounded. Enemy casualties were at least three killed.

REVISE CABINET IN ARGENTINA'S ANTI-AXIS CRISIS

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Feb. 16 (AP).—The Argentine cabinet was patched together today with three appointments by President Pedro Ramirez in an attempt at a compromise between elements which precipitated yesterday's crisis.

Vice Adm. Benito Sueyro was made acting foreign minister, J. Honorio Silguira, president of the Argentine bar association, became minister of justice, and Lt. Col. Domingo Cortese, undersecretary in the presidential office, was appointed the president's executive secretary, a cabinet rank.

Blamed for Crisis.

The crisis apparently was provoked by a totalitarian sympathizer, Gustavo Martinez Zuviria, minister of justice, after he had learned Foreign Minister Gen. Alberto Gilbert was advocating war against the axis.

To solve the situation Ramirez accepted resignations of both as well as that of Col. Enrique Gonzalez, his secretary, who had been aligned with Gilbert. The resignation of Leopold Lugones, advisor to the secretariat, also was announced.

The move to bring Argentina into the war was understood to have resulted from insolent notes sent by Germany and Japan protesting detention of their military attaches and threatening reprisals.

When Zuviria, reactionary member, heard of Gilbert's proposed decrees for a declaration of war he submitted his resignation and spread alarm in nationalist circles.

Colonel's Lodge Acts.

This brought swift action from his supporters in the "Colonels' lodge," or GOU—Gupo Officiales Unidos [group of united officials]. By removing the leaders of both factions, Ramirez seemed to have gained a breathing spell.

Silguira last year represented Argentina at the convention of the American Bar association. Sueyro has been minister of navy since last June.

Gen. Arturo Rawson, who was president for the two days after the June revolt apparently was watching developments from Buenos Aires, but was reported under constant vigilance.

Independent Union Beats CIO in Plant Election

The Independent Electrical and Railway Supply Workers' union yesterday was chosen by employes of the Pyle-National company of 1334 N. Kostner av. to continue to represent them in bargaining with the company. The right of the union to represent the workers was challenged by the Farm Equipment Workers' Organizing committee [CIO]. In the consent election, held under the supervision of the national labor relations board, the independent union obtained 281 votes to 133 for the CIO.

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Feb. 16.—Guards at the national stadium today fired into a crowd of laborers who had become restless while waiting to apply for farmwork in the United States. The workers later marched to the national palace where they shouted their protests. Several days ago police had used tear gas when the workers, several of whom had spent weeks in the line, became restless. The first trainload of 1,000 will leave for the United States tomorrow.

JAPS SMUGGLE POISONED BOOZE TO U. S. TROOPS

HEADQUARTERS, U. S. 14TH AIR FORCE IN CHINA, Feb. 14 [Delayed]—(AP).—The Japanese have turned bootlegger in this war theater, attempting to peddle phony American liquor—some of it poisoned—to American troops.

Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell in an order to his troops in China declared liquors represented as Scotch, rye, brandy, and others are "being smuggled into China from enemy occupied territories by Japanese agents intended for sale to American troops."

"Recent reports indicate the Japanese in some instances introduced poisons into these liquors," the order stated. "All United States army personnel is warned that the purchase of these spurious liquors actually is aiding and abetting the enemy, and drinking the Japanese beverages may result in serious illness or death."

Kills Jap with Yule Gift from His Mother

CAPE GLOUCESTER, New Britain [Delayed].—A mother's Christmas gift saved her son's life in the bitter fighting for a sector known locally as "Coffin corner." A few days before going into action, Corp. Edward R. Luehdar received the gift, a hunting knife, in a package from his mother, Mrs. Mary Luehdar of Belleville, Ill. In an enemy counter-attack, three Japanese ran into his machine gun emplacement. He shot two of them and killed the third with the knife.

BOND QUOTA IN, BUT NO CREDIT TO INDIVIDUALS

Drive Is On to Improve Halfway Score.

Chicago and Cook county had topped their goal for the 4th war loan drive yesterday, but campaign workers were disappointed because the goal was reached only thru an oversubscription totaling 128 per cent in corporation bond sales, while individual purchases continued to trail, at 55 per cent of the goal. Combined sales were 102 per cent of the quota.

Corporation type bonds were withdrawn from the market Tuesday night and at that time, it was reported yesterday, the county had bought $598,476,000 worth of bonds, of that type, against a quota of $469,858,600. Individual bond sales were $139,787,000 at that time. The grand total to date was $738,254,000, against a total quota of $721,818,400.

Plan Fifth and Sixth Drives.

In Washington, D. C., treasury officials announced that plans already are under way for not only the fifth war loan but the sixth as well. Neither dates nor quotas have been determined, altho early June was indicated as the starting time for the next campaign—and some officials are known to favor a record quota, possibly upwards of 20 billion dollars—to carry the treasury thru the rest of the calendar year. National Director Ted Gamble, said sales in the fourth campaign will total not less than 16¼ billion dollars.

Individual bond sales lagged thru most of the nation, Frank McNair, county drive chairman, reported, but Cook county's 55 per cent was below the national average of 67 per cent of the individual bond goal.

Speed Windup of Drive.

McNair said community rallies, special events, and school children's drives will be pushed in the next nine days in an effort to sell more than 111 million dollars' worth of E bonds by Feb. 26, when the drive will close.

The employe-management committee of the Douglas aircraft plant, near Park Ridge, reported $510,225 collected for purchase of a C-54 skymaster plane, manufactured at the plant.

The Philippine Guerrillas of Bataan association, headed by Jay J. McCarthy, reported a drive in progress to purchase two bombers, one for Gen. MacArthur and another for Gen. Eisenhower.

CHICAGO FLYER BAGS 2 GERMAN PLANES IN ITALY

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, Feb. 16 (AP).—Among the American airmen who shot down German planes in yesterday's widespread raids over Italy was 2d Lt. John Anderson of Chicago, who bagged two Messerschmitts.

Lt. John Anderson.

Lt. Anderson, 24, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, 7356 Dante av. His wife, Katherine, of 6704 Blackstone av., gave birth to a daughter Sunday in the Lewis Memorial hospital. Lt. Anderson, a graduate of Hirsch High school, joined the army in September, 1941. In a letter to his parents, he reported he shot down a bomber on Christmas eve.

SLAYS FATHER WITH HAMMER TO AID MOTHER

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 16 (AP).—Barton Tucker, 45, war plant worker, died in Receiving hospital tonight and juvenile authorities arrested his son, Harold, 15, who police said admitted striking the older man with a claw hammer "because he tried to kill my mother."

The elder Tucker died less than four hours after he was taken to the hospital with 10 gashes in his head.

Assistant Prosecutor Glenn Temple quoted the youth as saying his father had been drinking and, becoming enraged at noise made by children at play in the back yard, attacked his mother, Anna, who has seven other children.

ANZIO'S GLOOMY NEWS BLAMED ON ALLIED LEADERS

British Press Calls Censor 'Stupid.'

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP).—The British press tonight blamed American and British officials for pessimism over the Anzio-Nettuno beachhead battle and called new censorship governing frontline dispatches "stupid" and "intolerable."

"If there was any pessimism it was not, as Alexander [Gen. Harold Alexander, allied commander] has imputed, the fault of the correspondents but of highly placed American and British authorities," the News Chronicle said. "For five days last week most of the gloomy and disconcerting statements were being made from President Roosevelt downwards."

A Call for the Facts.

The Daily Herald said "The best of all recipes for avoiding undue optimism or pessimism is to give the public the news reported by impartial, conscientious men."

Delayed dispatches from the beachhead reported the 5th army command had banned on-the-spot radio facilities to correspondents, ordering copy censored at base headquarters, because reports written on the battle scene tend "to oscillate violently."

5th Army Censorship.

A Reuters [British] news agency dispatch, dated Feb. 13, said Lt. Gen. Clark's command had taken this action because of annoyance caused by some dispatches. The dispatch said there was criticism of reports which called the beachhead another Tobruk or Dunkirk.

Norman Clark, representing the combined British press, said in a Feb. 13 dispatch that this "bridling of the correspondents' attempts to represent the day-to-day situation correctly must not be allowed to stand."

Jewelry of Manville's Seventh Wife Recovered

The $750 wrist watch and $350 ring stolen Jan. 2 from Sunny Ainsworth, 19, of 3709 Pine Grove av., seventh ex-wife of Tommy Manville, were recovered yesterday by Detective William J. Clark of the Chicago av. station. Clark said he found the jewelry in a room rented by John Gelenius, 21, of 1221 N. State st., who was arrested Sunday as one of the three men who robbed Miss Ainsworth in the Sherone hotel, 4423 Sheridan rd., where she formerly lived. Police withheld the address of Gelenius' room.

NAZIS FIND FIGHTING IN ITALY AS SEVERE AS ON RUSSIAN FRONT

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

BERNE, Switzerland, Feb. 16.—A correspondent of the Berlin Mittagsblatt with the German army reports that the war pace in Italy is becoming accelerated and that the fighting has taken on severity which German soldiers have only encountered in Russia. The correspondent writes:

"Enemy fire is resolving itself into a hellish test of nerves, and the measure of endurance which the German soldier is opposing to this conglomeration of modern and highly refined Anglo-Saxon war mechanism already borders the legendary."

The account describes how allied artillery is concentrating barrages on single units of grenadiers and motorized columns to an extent which makes German advances possible only at night. The allied air force is playing havoc with German reënforcements.

PUPPET MAYOR ASSASSINATED.

RUSSIAN CROSS LAKE PEIPUS ICE, GERMANS CLAIM

LONDON, Feb. 17 [Thursday]—(AP).—Soviet forces, driving down from the north, have reached the narrow neck of water between Lake Peipus and Lake Pskov, 45 miles northwest of Pskov. German reports said today the Russians had already sent sledges over the ice in an attempted crossing into southern Estonia.

Meanwhile, Moscow reported that 2,500 more Germans were killed and 107 of their tanks wrecked in a frenzied German attempt to break the relentlessly contracting soviet ring around the remnants of 10 Nazi divisions trapped in the Ukraine.

The Berlin radio said Russian forces had sped across the ice of Lake Peipus and reached the western shore, but were thrown back.

Naval Airmen Aid Troops.

The Moscow midnight war bulletin, recorded by the soviet monitor from a broadcast, said naval airmen of the Baltic fleet were helping land forces.

In addition to menacing Estonia, the Russians coming down along Lake Peipus, were nearest to Pskov, where four railways and two highways meet at the doors of the Baltic states. They captured the railway station of Yam. Soviet ski troops were active here, capturing 400 German supply carts.

To the east, other forces advancing along the railway and highway from Leningrad were within 58 miles of Pskov.

Berlin radio, meanwhile, reported a new cold wave snapping the unseasonable thaws of the north, freezing the mud that has hindered both sides.

Reports from Estonia said Red army troops had forced the Narva river at Krivasuo, 13 miles southwest of Narva and eight miles inside the Estonian frontier. These reports said the Germans had ordered the evacuation of all Estonian towns east of Tapa, 75 miles from Narva.

Break-Out Attempts Increase.

German attempts to break out of the encircling soviet band in the Ukraine increased as the Russians swept in on a seven mile front to capture four more communities west of Korsun as well as 18 German transport planes.

Outside the soviet ring, the Germans also continued fierce attacks to reach their comrades.

South of the Korsun area, German reports said, the Russians have renewed their drive for Krivoi Rog, iron ore center. The Russians, coming up from the southeast, were reported to have made several penetrations in German defenses.

GERMAN WAR REPORT

Following is the German Wednesday war bulletin as broadcast by Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press.

"Southeast of Krivoi Rog, our troops after heavy fighting repulsed numerous enemy attacks and in counter-attacks ironed out several breaches.

"West of Cherkasi and east of Zhashkov, with the terrain a complete morass, stubborn enemy resistance was broken. Heavy counter-attacks were beaten off and our attack was pushed farther forward.

"In the northern sector of the eastern front, strong local attacks were frustrated south of Staraya Russa, between Lake Ilmen—and Lake Peipus and at Narva."

2 RED RAIDS HIT HELSINGFORS IN TRUCE TALK ECHO

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Feb. 16 (AP).—Two waves of Russian planes bombed Helsingfors tonight and caused fires and damage to the Finnish capital from which rumors of maneuvers for a separate peace have been emanating since it was last attacked on Feb. 6.

Reports to the Swedish press said that 50 Russian planes in the first formation kept the city under alert from 7 to 10 p. m. Message said Abbo, on the southeast coast, had also been bombed.

The second attack, which appeared heavier, began at 11 p. m. and ended shortly before midnight.

Finnish Foreign Minister Henrik Ramsay reported to the foreign affairs committee of parliament today on the "foreign political situation," a Swedish dispatch from Helsingfors said, as rumors of an imminent Finnish-Russian armistice continued.

[The Nazi controled Vichy radio said Juhu Kusti Paasikivi, former Finnish minister to Russia, had left Stockholm for Moscow to present Finland's peace proposals.]

Pittsburgh, Feb. 16 (AP).—The Rt. Rev. Alfred Koch, archabbot of St. Vincent monastery, Latrobe, Pa., today said he understood that monks of the abbey on Mount Cassino left for provinces south of Rome several weeks before the allied bombing of the famous monastery yesterday.

The last report reaching officials of the Benedictine order in this country, he said, was that all the Mount Cassino monks were safe.

RECORD BOMBING SET UP BY STAFF OF 60,000 MEN

4,000 Spend Five Hours Loading Berlin Bombs.

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP).—Nearly 60,000 R. A. F. men were involved in the tremendous task of carrying out history's greatest aerial assault, last night's 2,800 ton raid on Berlin by probably close to 1,000 bombers.

One station commander said approximately 50 men were working on the ground for every bomber that got into the air.

It took 4,000 men about five hours to load the bombs.

Some 7,000 flying personnel were briefed for the raid.

The planes used more than 1,000,000 gallons of gasoline, many thousands gallons of oil and a great volume of fluid for their hydraulic undercarriages, de-icing systems, and various pumps.

750,000 Bullets Put in Guns.

Not the least of the advance chores was the preparation of 7,000 flying suits and the loading of 750,000 rounds of machine gun ammunition.

Last night's unprecedented bomb load was dumped on the capital in 30 minutes, turning the city into a hurricane of flame and shattering explosions from which smoke rose four miles.

In the raid on Berlin, a feint attack on Frankfurt-on-Oder, 50 miles to the east, Mosquito raids on western Germany and Holland, and mine laying operations, the R. A. F. lost only 43 of more than 1,200 bombers, including 1,000 "heavies."

The R. A. F. armada probably was the largest ever sent over the reich in one night.

Industrial Regions Hit.

Stockholm advices said great fires were blazing in Berlin today in the wake of the R. A. F.'s 15th heavy attack since Nov. 18. Most of the vast new damage was done in the industrial outer belt, including the Wittenau, Lichtenberg, and Marienfelde districts.

Travelers reaching Malmoe, Sweden, from Berlin said the attackers struck particularly hard at the northern and northwestern section of the city and that in the Schoeneberg district not a house was left standing.

Others persons coming from the capital said Hitler's chancellery was hit again and that the Charlottenburg and Grunewald sections also had been bombed.

One traveller said Hotel Bristol on Unter den Linden was demolished and 2,000 dead were taken from the ruins.

The heaviest previous raid on Berlin was on the night of Jan. 20 when more than 2,578 tons were dropped in an hour. The R. A. F.'s previous record raid on one target was its 2,800 ton attack on Hanover Sept. 22.

GIRL HICCUPS 44 DAYS; HUNT FOR DOCTOR IN ARMY

New York, Feb. 16 [Special].—For the 44th day Anna Mayer, 21, of Long Island, hiccuped without relief while the army sought today to come to her assistance by producing Capt. Lester Samuels, army surgeon, who in October, 1941, performed an operation on her to end a similar series of spasms.

Miss Mayer is said by physicians to be near death and has refused to submit to an operation unless Dr. Samuels performs it. When the family of Miss Mayer appealed to him to come here from Fort Leonard Wood he replied he had been unable to obtain leave.

Today's developments brought a show of good will from the army, but did not make it clear whether Dr. Samuels will appear. An appeal to the White House brought Presidential intercession with the surgeon general and a telegraphic order for leave for the captain. Then it was learned he had been transferred and his whereabouts is now a military secret.

British Hitting Berlin with New Bomber: Halifax III.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—The royal air force today announced that a new bomber, the Halifax III., is being used in the battle of Berlin. Four Bristol Hercules engines, each developing more than 1,650 horsepower, give the new Halifax a quicker takeoff, faster rate of climb, greater top and cruising speeds, and a higher ceiling.

SOUTH BEND PRIVATE INHERITS 2 MILLION FROM CANADIAN AUNT

OAKVILLE, Ont., Feb. 16 (AP).—A United States army private will receive 2 million dollars from the estate of Mrs. Mary Martin, who died recently in Oakville after making a fortune in northern Ontario mines.

Pvt. Ben R. Violette.

The private, Ben R. Violette, 26, of South Bend, Ind., is a nephew of Mrs. Martin and is a military policeman in London. Mrs. Martin's will specified that he receive the money when he is 30.

Mrs. Martin, born in Indiana, first went to northern Ontario in 1907 as a stenographer in the days of the Cobalt silver rush.

HOUSE TO STUDY CHARGE AGAINST WALLACE CLIQUE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—A special house committee headed by Rep. Smith [D., Va.] will investigate charges made by William La Varre that followers of Vice President Wallace are attempting to sovietize American business, counsel for the committee disclosed tonight.

The committee is the select house group chosen to investigate acts of executive agencies beyond the scope of their authority. Aaron L. Ford, counsel for the committee, said La Varre has agreed to appear for a conference Monday.

Sen. Byrd's committee on reduction of nonessential expenditures is also expected to open preliminary study of the La Varre charges, which have brought demands for investigations from both houses.

La Varre resigned this week as chief of the American republics division of the department of commerce. In announcing his resignation he protested against what he says is a secret war against American business and free enterprise.

SENATE PASSES REPEAL OF FOOD SUBSIDY AGAIN

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16 (AP).—The senate quickly gave final approval today to legislation outlawing subsidy payments to hold down the cost of food one of the administration's chief weapons in the stabilization program.

The subsidy repealer, hitched to a measure extending the life of the Commodity Credit corporation, now goes to the house where prompt acceptance tomorrow is expected.

As soon as the house agrees, the bill will go to the White House where Democratic leaders say it faces an almost certain veto.

AFL CHIEF FLAYS LABOR DRAFT AS SLAVE SYSTEM

Says Law Would Ruin Worker Morale.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16 (AP).—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, told the senate military committee today a civilian labor draft would ruin the morale of war workers and might break up millions of American families.

The law, urged by President Roosevelt as the keystone of the administration's new legislative program, would force labor to work for the profit of private industry, Green declared in a fist pounding denunciation.

"Millions of American families might be broken up," he said. "Thousands of small business enterprises might have to be abandoned."

Green Clashes with Austin.

The labor leader, engaging in an exchange with Sen. Austin [R., Vt.], co-sponsor of the Austin-Wadsworth bill, asserted: "Your bill compels a man to work. It is conscription of labor."

"It's time that bubble is pricked," Austin retorted. "There is no compulsion in this law."

The bill would provide a system for workers to volunteer for jobs and, if convicted of noncompliance, could be sent to jail for six months and fined $1,000.

Plan Branded Futile.

Austin said passage of the bill would reduce labor turnover in war plants and would "tone up" war man power commission controls over job placement.

Green said the labor draft act would do nothing to remove the cause of strikes, adding, there have been more strikes proportionately in Britain than in this country since Britain adopted a universal service law.

"The major cause of strikes is that the government is attempting to enforce wage stabilization while it has failed to stabilize the cost of living," he said.

"The way to prevent strikes is thru upward revision of wage rates or, even more effectively, by rigid reduction and control of prices of the necessities of life. Unfortunately, neither the congress nor the executive branch of the government has seen fit thus far to put such a program into effect."

Green was the first witness in weeks of hearings to oppose the bill, previously supported by the war and navy departments. He wound up his argument by calling the bill unconstitutional.

"There can be no true comparison between drafting citizens to serve in the armed forces for the defense of their country and drafting other citizens to work by compulsion in industries operating for private profit," he said. "Neither can there be any nation-wide draft of labor without a correspondingly drastic draft of capital.

"Such measures are abhorrent to the American way of life, fatal to the free enterprise system, and clearly violative of the Constitution because they involve involuntary servitude and confiscation."

U. S. TANKS HOLD INVASION GAME AT BRITISH BASE

BY WILLIAM SMITH WHITE.

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Feb. 16 (AP). — American armored forces went forward today under live artillery fire to complete a grim maneuver simulating conditions they will face when the invasion comes.

This correspondent rode in a Sherman tank in the line of assault and found plenty of realism in the action, which was an impressive demonstration of skill and training. In the crew was Corp. John Stern, 3300 N. Halsted st., Chicago, acting commander.

The Sherman—a snarling machine as compact and crowded inside as an electric refrigerator — lurched forward over broken terrain under the howling fire of 105 millimeter, self-propelled guns.

Our tank threw out fire both from its 75 millimeter gun and from its machine guns, and at times our rear line barrage from 105s was kicking up earth less than 100 yards ahead of us. Machine gun bullets beat faintly on the Sherman's tough sides.

I went along as a wholly hypothetical assistant driver. My outstanding impression was one of reassurance. These men were plainly ready to go in every sense—in equipment, training, and morale.

WOE PILES UP FOR BOY OF 14 FIRED BY NAVY

James E. Bryant, 14, of Maywood, Cal., placed on probation Dec. 21 for illegally wearing a sailor's uniform, was ordered returned to Chicago yesterday on a charge of violating his probation. A warrant was issued by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe. The boy had been arrested as a vagrant at El Centro, Cal.

Altho arrested previously on the same charge, the boy won sympathy of the judge and two lawyers, who contributed $110 to buy him clothing and pay his train fare home.

Young Bryant enlisted in the navy last July, but was discharged after his age was discovered. He kept the uniform for hitch hiking across country. On this trip, he married at Greenville, Tex., a 19 year old girl whom he deserted after two days.

Soldier Home on Furlough Held on Bad Check Charge

Max Kerill, 36, of 1214 N. Damen av., was held by Racine av. police yesterday for passing four worthless checks. Sgt. William Devenny said Kerill had stolen 15 blank checks and four war bonds, which he used for identification, from a north side candy company where he had been employed. Kerill was on probation for a similar offense, Devenny said. He was inducted into the army recently and is on furlough.

IT'S A FIGHTING MESSAGE FROM SOLDIER TO WIFE

The marine corps has a message for Mrs. Isabel Brandt: Pvt. Walter Brandt, her husband, thinks about her whenever he goes into action against the Japs.

The marine corps found this out during the shelling of Kwajalein in the Marshall Islands Feb. 1. A marine combat correspondent, Tech. Sgt. Walter C. Cochrane, had been assigned to find out what soldiers thought about when they went into battle.

Sgt. Cochrane dived into a foxhole, where he found Pvt. Brandt.

"What are you thinking about?" he asked, his pad and pencil ready.

"My wife," said the soldier, listening to shells and machine gun bullets whistling overhead. "I always think about her when the fighting starts."

The marine correspondent promised to relay the soldier's message to his wife and it was sent to marine headquarters here. But Mrs. Brandt was unknown at 4440 Drexel blvd., the address the soldier had given. If she will call headquarters the message will be given to her.

NO OIL IN MARCH FOR SPAIN, HINT IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16 (AP).—A decision on whether the government's suspension of oil shipments to Spain will be extended from February to March is expected this week, with a possibility the ban will continue. The Franco government has failed to take satisfactory action on American requests which led to the embargo. The United States policy holds to the demand Spain stop sending tungsten ore to the Nazis. The Spanish embassy here confirmed reports the drying up of Spain's oil stocks has forced most cars off Madrid's streets.

ILLINOIS FLYER WITH NEW SON LOST IN PACIFIC

Lt. William McFerren, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McFerren of Hoopeston, near Danville, has been missing in action in the South Pacific since last October when the Liberator bomber, Fyrtle Myrtle, on which he was navigator, exploded. Lt. McFerren's name then was included on California rather than Illinois casualty lists as his wife, Betty Garvey McFerren, was living in Corona, Cal.

The Fyrtle Myrtle was so named because every officer aboard was a prospective father. Lt. McFerren's son was a few weeks old when the flyer was reported missing. A son was born to the wife of every other officer of the crew soon after the plane explosion, which occurred on Oct. 26 when a formation, for which McFerren was squadron navigator, was attacked by Jap Zeros. "Myrtle" was forced to fall out after dropping her bomb load and was within 500 miles of her base when another flock of Zeros attacked.

Lt. McFerren, a graduate of Hotchkiss school and Yale university, enlisted in the air corps the day after Pearl Harbor and had more than 200 hours of combat. Before the war he was with the American Can company in Chicago.

GENERAL LAUDS DOCTORS' WORK ON FRONT LINES

The army medical corps has developed its convalescent treatment and rehabilitation program for injured soldiers to such an extent that hospitals near the front lines have reported 89 per cent of their patients were able to return to active duty after treatment. Brig. Gen. Fred W. Rankin, chief army consultant in surgery, said yesterday.

Gen. Rankin, speaking before the sixth annual congress on industrial health in the Palmer House, said the lessons learned by the army have opened new fields in medicine and that convalescent treatment and reconditioning will become an important part of the training of physicians after the war.

"Complete figures on the success of overseas convalescent centers are not available yet," Gen. Rankin said, "but some of them have reported 89 per cent of their patients returned to active duty. Even general hospitals in this country, which handle the serious cases evacuated from combat areas, have returned 50 per cent of their patients to active duty."

LET RED CROSS DO UNRRA JOB, SENATE URGED

McKellar and Gillette Join in Fighting Setup.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—Sen. Gillette [D., Ia.] was out-voted 16 to 1 when he fought the united nations relief and rehabilitation bill in the senate foreign relations committee. Unbowed, he came into the senate chamber today to continue his fight against the international war relief agency in which he said there will be greater odds against the United States—43 to 1.

The silver haired Iowan got support from a fellow member who will have something to say about the American contribution to UNRRA—75 year old Sen. McKellar [D., Tenn.], chairman of the senate appropriations committee.

McKellar warned the senate it had better make sure the American contribution of 1 billion 350 million dollars won't skyrocket to 10 or even 50 billions. He suggested that since Americans must pay most of the bill for feeding and clothing the world's war victims the United States should appropriate the money and hand the job to the Red Cross.

U. S. Would Pay 67½ Per Cent.

The bill, which has passed the house, would authorize the United States to participate to the extent of 1 billion 350 millions in UNRRA. This is 67½ per cent of UNRRA's total expected capital, once estimated at 2¼ to 2½ billion dollars, but now mentioned without explanation as 2 billion dollars.

President Roosevelt has invited 43 other nations to help with the spending. Each will have one vote, as will the United States. British commonwealth units will have a total of six votes.

No "Milk Route" Provided.

The bill was commended to the senate by Chairman Connally [D., Tex.] of the foreign relations committee, and Sen. Vandenberg [Mich.], the ranking Republican member. Vandenberg said that if the UNRRA pattern were taken as a precedent in governmental affairs it would be "equivalent to committing hara-kiri here in the senate."

Vandenberg said America must be "chief almoner," but gave his assurance that the UNRRA plan doesn't include "a Vice Presidential milk route." Except for the committee's insistence, he said, the administration would have adopted UNRRA under an executive agreement without consulting congress.

$25,000 for Service Centers

Mrs. Edward J. Kelly receives $25,000 check, proceeds of Chicago waste paper sale, from Harold Shilling (center), waste paper drive finance chairman, and John R. Robinson, chairman of the drive.

Aid for Sleepers

The $25,000 presented yesterday by the Chicago waste paper salvage committee to the Chicago service men's centers will provide 125,000 nights of sleep for service men, spokesmen said. It was explained that laundry charges average slightly more than 20 cents per soldier each night. The sum was raised thru a Jan. 15 curbside pickup of waste paper in which 2,700 tons were collected. Mrs. Kelly, wife of the mayor, accepted the check in behalf of the centers, from Harold Shilling, chairman of the finance division of the salvage committee and John R. Robinson, salvage campaign chairman.

JUDGE FREES 5 KLAN LEADERS IN PLOT TRIAL

Asserts Free Speech Bars Conviction.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP).—Judge A. Marshall Thompson of Criminal court today dismissed the case of five leaders of the Ku Klux Klan on trial on a charge of conspiracy, holding that a conviction would "abridge the right of freedom of speech."

Judge Thompson freed James A. Colescott of Atlanta, Ga., imperial wizard of the klan, and four Pennsylvania associates by sustaining a defense demurrer that the prosecution had not made out a case.

The state had charged the five plotted to "create ill will, hatred, and strife against people of this country who are of certain religious or racial classifications."

Judge States Stand.

In dismissing the charges Judge Thompson asserted his action "shall not be considered by the defendants to give approval of this court to the organization of the Ku Klux Klan."

"The judges in this court include two Roman Catholics, two Protestants, and one Jew," continued the jurist, "and I feel that I speak for all of them in what I am saying.

"If the purposes of the Ku Klux Klan are to stir up religious dissensions or racial difficulties, there could be nothing more disturbing in a country like this, where we have so many races drawn from so many parts of the world, and where we have so many creeds.

Warns Against Abuse.

"But while our Constitution grants freedom of speech, this is a privilege which shall not be abused."

The name of Sen. Pepper [D., Fla.], was brought into the testimony today. Sgt. Willard Schauer of the Pennsylvania state police testified that Colescott, in a speech here Oct. 3, 1941, "said he either had or was to have dinner with Sen. Pepper of Florida."

Schauer said Pepper's name was mentioned as Colescott was telling of a senatorial committee investigating the motion picture industry and the sergeant quoted Colescott as saying names of the committee members sounded like former klansmen.

Colescott appeared for trial with his co-defendants, Samuel G. Stauch and Frank S. Fite of Philadelphia, and Walter H. Klinzing of Pittsburgh.. John V. Waite of Philadelphia failed to appear and Judge Thompson declared his $500 bond forfeit.

FREIGHT WRECK DELAYS TRAINS.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 15 [AP].—Several sections of eastbound passenger trains on the Northern Pacific railway were delayed today at Waco, Mont., while crews sought to clear the right of way of 15 freight cars derailed last night in a rear-end collision of two freight trains, the dispatcher's office here reported.

OPERATORS END PHONE STRIKE; PARLEY CALLED

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 16 (AP).—Telephone service in 10 counties was partly resumed tonight as operators of the Illinois Commercial Telephone company returned to work on the night shifts after a two day walkout for higher wages, C. R. Brown, vice president and general manager of the company, said. Communications should be normal by tomorrow morning, he added.

W. R. Boyd, business manager of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, No. 702 [AFL], which represents the operators, said a conference of union and company officials would be held tomorrow at the regional offices of the war labor board in Chicago. He termed the walkout unauthorized.

About 23,000 telephone subscribers in Franklin, Williamson, Perry, Jackson, Warren, Johnson, Saline, Massac, Union, and Randolph counties were unable to obtain connections except in emergency calls during the walkout.

Carpenter Seeking Home Calls Woman Swindler

Miss Ann Miller, 53, of 12 W. Chestnut st., will be arraigned today in Women's court on a charge that she obtained $800 by false pretenses from John Gleich, 77, of 64 W. Erie st., a retired carpenter. Gleich told Detective Edward Kelly that the woman disappeared after he had given her the cash on her promise to buy a rooming house and care for him for the rest of his life. She was arrested yesterday.

4-F ALIEN HELD FOR THREATS TO MOVIE ACTRESS

New York, Feb. 16 [Special].—John Marsh, 21 years old, a lean, lanky elevator operator who said he was not an American citizen but was 4-F in the draft, was arrested last night on charges of having sent threatening letters to Movie Star Kathryn Grayson in an attempt to get military information from her soldier husband, Capt. John Price.

Kathryn Grayson.

Police reported they found three letters on Marsh, one of which, addressed to Capt. Price, said that he and "all sentimental Americans who thought they could oppose us" would be shot "when the German troops march thru New York on their glorious and triumphant day."

According to police, Miss Grayson received several threatening letters and telephone calls over a period of three weeks while appearing at the Capitol theater and staying at the Essex House.

Marsh waived examination in Magistrate's court and was held in $10,000 bail.

REPUBLICAN STRATEGY.

Mr. Willkie, who has been in passionate pursuit of the Republican nomination for many months, has finally declared himself a candidate. There are now two men in the field: Gov. Bricker and Wall street's barefoot boy.

If the convention were to be held tomorrow, with no other candidates than these two, Bricker would be the overwhelming winner on the first ballot. Willkie might have a few hundred delegates, certainly not more than 200 The rest, the other 800 odd, would go to Bricker. That we know from the expressions of the national committeemen at their recent Chicago meeting and from the views, privately and publicly expressed, of Republicans of all ranks. They don't want Willkie. They do want a man who, because he can provide real opposition to Mr. Roosevelt's give-away foreign and domestic policies, will win the election.

The great concern of the Republicans thruout the country is to prevent Roosevelt and his New York bankers from stealing the Republican convention again, as they did in 1940. For this purpose almost any one of the 26 Republican governors, any one of the Republican senators, any one of the Republican congressmen, is greatly preferable to the Roosevelt stooge.

The New Dealers have become desperate as one election after another has gone against them. They have only one hope of winning this year, and that lies in controling the Republican convention. They want a nominee whom Roosevelt can defeat. If the Republicans nominate a man who is only a weak echo of Roosevelt the voters will have no real choice and might prefer the real thing to the imitation. It is against the effort to foist a New Deal candidate on the Republican party that all Republicans must rally.

PROSPECTS FOR FOOD.

Four major farm organizations have just issued the prediction in Washington that the country will begin to feel a shortage of beef this spring and that before the end of the year there also will be serious shortages of pork, eggs, and poultry.

Meanwhile the New Dealers are pushing the prosecution of an Indiana farmer for raising more wheat in 1940 than they told him he might raise.

C. W. Kitchen, deputy director of food distribution for the war food administration, informed canners meeting in Chicago that during the 1944-'45 canning season the WFA will reduce the supply of 12 principal canned fruits available to civilians from the 30 million cases allotted them last year to 17 million cases, and the canned vegetable pack for civilians from 128 million to 104 million cases.

The rest of the pack is reserved for military and lend-lease requirements and, as usual, the WFA doesn't say how much each use will get. American civilians' requirements are subordinated not only to those of their army and navy, to which they naturally assent, but to those of other nations as well. The nation that produces the food is seated at the second table.

The only permanent remedy for these conditions must be found at the polls in November, but votes cast then are going to be of no help to the American dinner table this year or next winter. Such help as the citizen gets before then he is going to have to get from his own efforts.

There is little the citizen can do about his meat supply. There is a rash of amateur poultry raising at present, it is true, but chickens are a public nuisance in the city and even in suburban areas are only tolerated temporarily because of the war. No one who in youth played nursemaid to a flock is minded to repeat the ordeal and, in addition, feed shortages present an increasingly serious obstacle. The home flock represents the least economical use of feed.

There is no reason, however, why any able bodied citizen who has access to a war garden plot need worry about his vegetable supply for the coming year. The last season was an unusually unfavorable one for amateur gardeners, the vast majority of whom were making their first venture since the last war, but along with the innumerable backaches, blisters, and sunburns the 20,000,000 or more war gardens in the nation produced enough food to make most of the gardeners independent of canned and rationed vegetables for more than half of the year.

Illinois led the nation in war gardens in both 1942 and 1943. Last year 1,151,000 were planted, of which only 145,000 were in the Chicago metropolitan civilian defense area, however. That is one field in which the OCD organization retains its utility. It can be useful in obtaining land for city gardeners.

Gardening is no picnic. It's hard and sometimes disappointing work, but if you have to work to eat you'll work.

AMERICAN POLITICS AND MR. EDEN.

The Yorkshire Post, a paper owned by the family of Anthony Eden, the British foreign minister, and frequently used to express his views, has lately been speaking most kindly of Mr. Roosevelt. Obviously the purpose of its comment on the forthcoming Presidential election is to indicate to Anglophiles in this country what England expects them to do. Not unnaturally, the Post and Mr. Eden have met with some criticism. The Post replies by saying that interest in the election and its outcome is not confined to America.

Obviously that is so, but equally obviously the choice of the next President of the United States is the exclusive business of the American people. People in foreign countries will no doubt follow political events in the United States closely, but they have no right to attempt to influence the decision.

Yet that is what they are doing openly in Mr. Eden's paper; and, if they make no secret of that and even defend it, the American people may safely conclude that a great many other wires are being pulled, calculated to bring about a fourth term for Mr. Churchill's man in the White House. The Yorkshire Post and the other British and colonial newspapers start the tune. It is then taken up by a host of British and colonial diplomatic agents and by British dominated newspapers in this country, and finally by the corps of lecturers, writers, and broadcasters whose American accents are supposed to disguise the alien origin of their ideas.

Americans resent such interference in our politics as impudent. If this kind of thing continues the major issue in the forthcoming campaign may well be: Shall America be allowed to rule itself?

MR. HULL ON JAP BARBARITIES.

Mr. Hull has sent two telegrams to the Japanese government thru the Swiss legation at Tokio. Both denounce and protest the treatment of American prisoners of war and civilian nationals held by the enemy. Our state department enlarges on the subject, giving in detail its proof of the violations of the Geneva prisoners of war convention and of the common rules of humanity. Most of the instances of "inhuman cruelty or of callous failure" recited by the American notes were taken from the story of Col. Dyess, obtained by THE TRIBUNE and distributed to other newspapers thruout the country. That story has ample confirmation.

The killer instinct with its refinements of torture and sadism which has appeared almost universally in the Japanese military just barely comes within the comprehension of our people. Such maniacal tendencies are known in individuals in criminal history. Our Asiatic enemy reveals a whole nation so saturated with them that they become a part of conduct by disciplined troops, not escaped from the control of their officers but acting under orders and looking to their officers for examples of barbarity. A discussion of the Asiatic psychology belongs elsewhere. We have learned that the Jap as an enemy delights in cruelty and satisfies an egoistic craving by torturing persons no longer able to defend themselves.

Nothing much can be done to make war other than what it is, but practical experience has taught some savage combatants that nothing is to be gained by excesses practiced against an able opponent. The Japs have not had enough experience as yet to learn this. It is one of the lessons we trust the future has in store for them. Americans find it difficult to live in a constant state of rage, but what Japan has done has produced in this country an abiding intention to see that justice is done upon the body of every responsible person who can be taken alive.

Our state department may not have much hope that its protests can change Japanese conduct and bring a degenerate government to respect the better conventions of war and conform to the dictates of common humanity. However, the notes will go into the record. They are the indictments. Notice has been given that penalties will be exacted. Mr. Hull must see a great deal of a breed of Americans who have not been interested in the plight of their own countrymen. He may even discover that by the emphasis he puts on America's own problem he is suspected of diverting public attention from the miseries of Europeans in whose behalf an exclusive attention has been sought.

Mr. Hull might even be told that he is doing Goebbels' work when he distracts the eyes from the European scene and asks that the sufferings of our own countrymen be considered. It is symptomatic of something ailing certain sections of America that only perfunctory notice is taken by them of the story of barbarities practiced at this moment on thousands of our own people. In the sight of persons excited only by what occurs in Europe our own people seem to be of little consequence and recognition of their condition is only tepid and occasional. The development of such a breed in this country is one which does us small credit. We must acknowledge that it is here and that it may be influential.

RECRUITS FROM INDUSTRY.

Donald Nelson, chairman of the war production board, asked the paper industry the other day to "let us have some of your best men" to help WPB solve its war problems. It would appear from his plea that there must be at least a grain of truth in recent rumors from Washington that some of the business men in WPB are anxious to get out of Washington.

If the paper industry furnishes the men they should be of a stronger type than Washington has come to expect.

No good purpose will be served by supplying business men of the caliber of Harold Boeschenstein, head of WPB's forest products bureau, or even Nelson himself, who take the socialistic ideas of the New Dealers lying down and forget all about the job they were sent to Washington to do.

The industries which are producing for war and which must soon begin to produce for peace don't need that kind of spokesmen in Washington. The New Deal insists on sharing the shortages instead of increasing production. This is a foreign doctrine and a deadly one to any system of private enterprise. It must be wiped out if our American economic system is to survive.

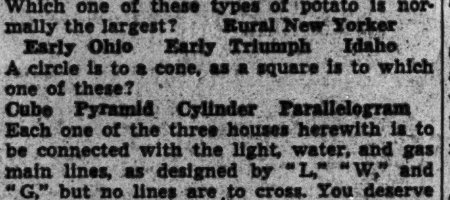
Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 18.

1. A man who was described as financially embarrassed, would probably be most relieved by receiving Scotch and Soda Meerschaum Crepe Suzette Long Green
2. Which one of these names is inappropriate in this general grouping? Wyandotte Brahma Shropshire Orpington
3. The term "icicle" refers to which one of these garden products? Radish Lettuce Cabbage Tomato
4. Which one of these types of potato is normally the largest? Rural New Yorker Early Ohio Early Triumph Idaho
5. A circle is to a cone, as a square is to which one of these? Cube Pyramid Cylinder Parallelogram
6. Each one of the three houses herewith is to be connected with the light, water, and gas main lines, as designed by "L," "W," and "G," but no lines are to cross. You deserve five points if you can do it, and I'll allot three points' credit if you can make all the connections except one, without crossing.



Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

In the Tavern club's pre-war years an assortment of bachelors habitually met for dinner in a womanless oubliette overlooking the lake and nicknamed themselves Estra Fenestra, which means East Window in a language that is probably Provençal. Their sessions were usually devoted to scholarly research into rare wines and peculiar liquors, but this course of study was abandoned after one of the members introduced a Croatian or Serbian tipple called slivovitz. The high point in the history of Estra Fenestra, however, was a dinner in Balkan style, with a roasted kid as the main dish, and a visiting Rumanian to give instruction in the ancient Danubian custom of eating without the aid of knife or fork.

Post-War Plan for Apple Vendors.

The close of World War I. witnessed a boom in street corner apple merchandising, but it lacked organization. Therefore, we submit usable plans for the aftermath of the present war. The street corner apple will rank with Big Business:

1. Permit the Washington alphabetic agencies to select and appoint farmers to grow S. C. A.'s [street corner apples].

2. Weather conditions will be created to promote the giant growth of S. C. A.'s. All excess political orations will be collected and directed skyward when rain is necessary.

3. Apples will be wrapped in discarded Congressional Record sheets. The taxpayers should be informed somehow what was going on during the previous years.

4. All trucks moving S. C. A.'s must be motivated by gasoline made from discarded and unmarketable apples. Tires, too, must in some degree contain rubberized apple fabrication.

5. To popularize S. C. A.'s, cosmetics, fabric, hair dye, home and industrial paint manufacturers should be compelled to advertise their wares in various shades of S. C. A.'s.

Now, who wants to get in on the ground floor of this virgin, fertile field of profits? Pick your favorite corner immediately. Franchise agreements will be fully protected by the S. C. A. Association of America. Alexander Belfuss.

GAZE STARWARD!

Straying by night in the unfixed city,
The headlong world,
The maniac welter of wrath and pity
By a mad age hurled—

Let's stoutly turn our eyes to the stars,
Steadfast as when
The ways of Venus, Jupiter, Mars
Were unknown of men!

Let's steer by the unstayed constellations
Hung in their courses
Far from the turbulence of nations
And war's fierce forces,

So high, and holy, and God-upheld
All hearts may see
Their many mansions, angel-dwelled
Since eternity,

And seeing, out of those quenchless suns
Draw light for that dawn
Which now, thru blasphemy of guns,
Comes steadily on! Lister Alwood.

He thought he heard a strange sound in the night and arose to investigate.

Then she thought she heard a strange sound and she got up, too.

Neither knew the other was up, and there was a collision. He suffered a bump on the forehead and she a black eye. They were both knocked witless for a moment and resorted to the aspirin bottle for a mutual headache. The night was ruined.

Next morning both were a sight. It was Sunday. Knowing it would never do to appear together in their bruised condition, they canceled church and a dinner date and, to avoid suspicious glances, went their separate ways.

The moral, if any, is to give notice before getting up in the dark to investigate sounds which merely turn out to be a new quirk in the radiator.

THE LONG WAVE PLAN IN BURSITIS.

THE bursae act as cushions over which tendons glide. Like ball bearings, they help to reduce friction. Several hundred in number, nature establishes them wherever they are needed.

But, like many other parts, they can become inflamed. They may even undergo degeneration, whereupon lime collects within the sacs. In such circumstances they become extremely sensitive—in fact, well nigh incapacitating. Distress may be so great that rest will be disturbed and the individual will go downhill rapidly.

There are many methods of management—such as physical therapy, the injection of anesthetizing drugs, or surgical removal. Experience has taught us that warmth should not be employed in the acute stage. Instead, cold compresses or an ice bag tied in place will enhance comfort. While this plan is slow, it will do much to allay inflammation. Not infrequently swelling will recede within two or three days, ending the incident.

Whenever movement results in pain, rest is the remedy. But if deposits of calcium have been detected via X-ray films, heat is the procedure of choice. For temporary amelioration, we can always rely upon a local anesthetic and occasionally this will be all that is required. The solution may be introduced directly into the sac or about it, or the needle may be able to penetrate the interior and withdraw some of the fluid.

By means of the electric current, magnesium may be driven into the parts [ionization], which likewise has the effect of easing suffering. This is a technical maneuver and must be carried out under the direction of a highly trained expert if the best results are to be achieved. This is an excellent way in which to force chemicals into the tissues when strains or sprains demand prompt healing. Thus magnesium sulfate, sodium salicylate, or other remedies may be introduced painlessly.

A recent report follows the progress of a number of cases, most of which exhibited calcified bursae of the shoulder. A few had experienced difficulty for more than two years. Heat was administered via long wave diathermy and from 12 to 20 treatments brought relief in the majority of instances.

Short waves were unsatisfactory because the "cooking" effects were so diffuse. The long wave, on the other hand, focused the rise in temperature directly upon the diseased region. In other words, its concentration was responsible for cure. The bone and the calcium deposits are raised to a higher heat than the muscle and the circulating blood, because more resistance is offered to the current. Thus it is not necessary to break up adhesions by force. The tissues seem to relax and become pliable. At the same time, the stony deposits dissolve.

One of the subjects, a lawyer aged 46, had developed a calcified area in the left shoulder. The condition progressed until the use of the arm had been lost. Short waves were utilized without benefit. In the meantime, considerable wasting of the muscles had occurred and there was definite limitation of motion. With the adoption of the long wave program, softening took place with complete restoration of function.

Naturally, surgery will be demanded with certain patients. But operations should be few and far between.

SUN LAMP.

Mrs. R. D. writes: I would like some advice on the use of an ultraviolet sun lamp—how many minutes it should be given and how far away from the patient. Also, should an exposure be stopped when a child has a chest cold?

REPLY.

Omit the treatments in the presence of fever. Otherwise go ahead. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for instructions on sunbathing.

BLOODSHOT.

F. S. writes: In bloodshot eyes, can anything be done to hasten return to normal?

REPLY.

Yes, by means of a solution containing a small quantity of adrenalin. This must be prescribed by your eye doctor. If inflammation is responsible he will know what to do.

PLANTAR WARTS.

M. T. writes: I am being treated for warts on the soles of my feet. How do these differ from the ordinary variety?

REPLY.

The lesions are termed "plantar" and are difficult to eradicate. You will need a goodly amount of patience.

USED IN EAR DISORDERS.

J. K. writes: What is the fenestration operation?

REPLY.

The structures within the middle ear space are destroyed so that vibrations go directly to the inner hearing machinery.

Wartime Whistle.

Whistling is tabu in the navy. The reason is simple: A whistle may be mistaken for the all important bos'n's pipe, causing confusion, if not worse. Recently a chief petty officer was drilling a group of boots at Great Lakes and kept hearing a low whistle. After some time he located the miscreant and asked if he did not know that sailors were not supposed to whistle. The boy said yes, but he had forgotten. "Very well, we'll fix you so you don't forget again," the chief said. "Report to my office immediately after drill."

The chief was busy at his desk with a pile of papers when the boy arrived. The chief glanced up. "Okay," he said, "start whistling," and went back to his work. No sound came from the embarrassed sailor. The chief looked up again. "Get going with that whistle," he commanded. The boy fidgeted, said "Yes, sir," and the chief's pencil again began to fly thru the papers.

Then, clearly, the boy whistled the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The chief jumped to his feet and, before he burst into laughter said, "That'll do, young feller. Now get the devil out of here—and it looks like you'll be a credit to the navy."

Hank, the mailman on Hinman avenue, Evanston, is a popular man right now. All up and down the block mothers and wives rush out to meet him every day to see if he has any V-mail for them. Early Bird pea: Hardy, robust, and attractive; semi-wrinkled or dimpled.

Petunia: White ruffled monster with light green veins in the throat.

Dwarf cherry tree: About 10 or 12 feet in height. Never grows so tall that fruit cannot be picked from the ground.

Man Bites Dog Note.

It was in the smoker of the second coach: A young girl was knitting a blue sweater. A young man was smoking a cigaret and crocheting a scarf.

The Gentle Sex.

A Winnetka lady stopped in a neighborhood knitting shop not long ago to get some instruction. Several of her friends were there, gabbing gaily, and as she got her instructions she kept one ear cocked on the chit-chat. Her complete instructions sounded like this:

Cast on 80 st's K 2 P2 until you meet me at 12:30 change to stockinette, knit until work measures 50 feet from street, add 2 eggs, a little sugar, mix well, and continue knitting until telephone and door bell ring at same time, decrease 6 st's each side until you reach the 17th hole, then decrease 2 st's on each side, shift gears and go full speed until knitting gets a shampoo and set, knit 24 st's, take off 12 st's with a vacuum cleaner, knit 24 st's, knit plain for one inch then give one coat of paint and let stand until morning. Increase 1 st. each side every other day, bid a little slam and go set until work measures 10 jars of chili sauce, increase 1 st. each side three times, then 2 st's until Junior bursts off his buttons, continue knitting and knitting and knitting until nuts.

MAINTENANCE OF MEMBERSHIP.

Moline, Ill., Feb. 12.—I have a husband in service; it will be three years this March. I also have a son 14 months old, and I read an advertisment asking for help in war industries, so I decided to help out all I could. I asked my mother to take care of my son while I worked during the day. It worked out just fine. I went to work for the International Harvester company. The CIO union there keeps after a new person to join. I hated to have people keep on asking me something week after week and into months, so I joined with the idea that I wouldn't be pestered any more. But I never did and still don't like the CIO, so I asked to be taken out. I was under the impression I was taken out of the union, but I found out later, after working for the company eight months, that my name was never taken out. Naturally I was behind in dues, so I was asked to leave the job I was holding.

I always was and still am against the union, and if it's getting to be a country like it is in Germany, "you do as I say or else," I feel as tho there should be something done to the people who seem to like dictators.

I don't care for some one saying, "You're behind in dues, so you will have to leave your job." I wish they would put all the CIO men up in the front lines. MRS. D. H. LAROLD.

THANKS FROM THE COLLECTOR.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—I would appreciate it if you would permit me thru your columns to thank the thousands of business men and corporation executives for their splendid work in preparing the forms W-2 that were required to be filed on Jan. 31. These forms, as you know, are the statements of the employes' earnings and the amount of the tax withheld.

In checking over these forms, my assistants have found them as a whole to be in splendid shape, and the business men of Chicago and of the 26 counties of northern Illinois, which constitute the 1st district of Illinois, are to be congratulated for their great work.

CARTER H. HARRISON,
Collector of Internal Revenue.

MORE ON REPORT CARDS.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—I thought I was one mother alone against the Chicago public school system. I see I have company.

My daughter, too, has a perfect report card and yet last June at passing time I was informed she was below grade in spelling.

This year it was worse. Two weeks before the end of the semester she informed me that she was going to flunk. A nice time to find out. Her report card showed all "E's." They call it progressive education. I don't know. Maybe some of our children are allergic to it.

MRS. RAYMOND W. HARVEY.

ROYAL PRECEDENT.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Concerning President Roosevelt's recent operation for the removal of a wen from his head it might be worth recording as a matter of minor historical interest that when the British king George III. underwent the same operation he bestowed a knighthood upon the surgeon who removed the wen from his royal scalp.

JAMES W. WALKER, M. D.

THE WEARY ROAD TO WAR WORK.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Discharged from the army, I applied for work as a turret lathe operator in a war plant near my home. My experience as a lathe hand dated back some 20 years. I was told that machines had changed a lot since then and I might have to break in all over again. That means you start in the lowest skilled wage bracket. My interviewer went on to say, however, should I prove to the satisfaction of my foreman that I belonged in a higher skill bracket he could place me there.

Having proved to your foreman and yourself that you belong in a high bracket he informs you the best he can do is to put you up one grade on the long road to a skilled machinist's pay. What will you do? You know you have what it takes, you know a lot of companies would be glad to have you, so you quit, the company won't give you a release, the district WMC upholds their decision, the area WMC upholds the decision of the district, the regional WMC upholds the decision of the area. You still can appeal your case in Washington, but by the time you get this far you will have only a short time to sit out your 60 day sentence.

In the meantime no war plant will hire you. This results in the loss of approximately 400 man hours. Multiply this by the number of "sitter outers" and you really have something. I don't believe the WMC was meant to be used as a club to be held over the heads of workers to make them stay on the job under any and all conditions, but there is no denying the fact that a lot of employers use it as such.

WALTER HALLADA.

WANTS BANK NIGHT, TOO.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Merchants have realized that many people are working six days a week and have no time to shop during the day and have come to the rescue by remaining open on Monday nights, for which we are most thankful. But I have yet to find a bank in Chicago that is open at night so that we might put the defense bonds we are buying into a safety deposit box.

E. L. CANFIELD.

EVERYTHING BUT THE KITCHEN SINK.

Moline, Ill., Feb. 8.—I cannot refrain from commenting on Mr. Eden's remarks about Mr. Roosevelt being hindered by our Constitution. What in the world does he want now that Roosevelt is afraid to give him because of the Constitution? We have given him everything now but the Constitution and an old kitchen sink. W. A. SCHANBERT.

REA HEAD BARES PALACE GUARD'S VOTE SCHEMING

Effort to Oust Him Told at Senate Inquiry.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—Lifting the veil on White House politics, REA Administrator Harry Slattery today told a senate investigating committee of palace guard pressure to force his resignation, leaving the way clear for use of his agency to manipulate farm votes in the coming Presidential campaign.

Harry Slattery.

The bluff Irish head of the rural electrification administration revealed details of a nine month campaign to oust him. Department of agriculture investigators rifled a safe containing his private papers, questioned scores of his acquaintances in an effort to impeach his integrity, and spread malicious stories about his physical and mental health, he said.

Called Before Rosenman.

The climax came when he was summoned before Jonathan W. Daniels, administrative assistant to President Roosevelt, and Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, the palace guard's legal adviser, last Thursday in the White House and handed a letter of resignation to sign. He refused.

Dangled before him, Slattery said, was the offer, which he indignantly spurned, of a state department appointment as head of a foreign REA which would presumably undertake the furnishing of electric light and power to African bushmen and Italian peasants at the American taxpayer's expense.

Aim at 4 Million Farm Votes.

The senate committee, headed by Sen. Smith, [D., S. C.] has been delving for more than two months into REA affairs and has exposed a plan for New Deal control of 4 million farm votes, branded as "sinister and corrupt" in the testimony, which would be accomplished thru setting up of a nation-wide system of private purchasing groups under REA control.

Slattery's opinion of this scheme was given in a letter to Presidential Assistant Daniels last Aug. 17 after another attempt to force him to resign. He denounced the "machinations of the Craig-Tate-Ellis cabal" to inject politics into the REA and warned:

"There is danger to the President in acceding to these unscrupulous and ambitious men."

Says F. D. R. Is Aware of Plan.

Slattery testified, under questioning by Sen. Aiken, [R., Vt.] that Mr. Roosevelt was aware of the efforts to force his resignation.

Members of the alleged "cabal" are Robert B. Craig, former deputy REA administrator who was permitted to resign in May, 1943, during a general whitewash investigation; Stephen Tate, wealthy Georgia marble manufacturer who is head of the national rural electrification coöperative association, a Washington pressure group, and Former Rep. Clyde E. Ellis [D., Ark.], now in the navy.

Because of his opposition to political control of the REA, Slattery said, he was first called to Washington by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard in June, 1943, and asked to resign.

When Slattery refused, he said, Wickard argued that his resignation was essential to "save REA."

3 NEW PETITIONS ADD OPPOSITION ON G. O. P. TICKET

Carlstrom's Name in Governor Race.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

The Republican primary campaign was pepped up yesterday by the circulation of nominating petitions for Oscar E. Carlstrom for governor and Lloyd C. Moody for attorney general. It seemed likely that there would be a full opposition ticket in the field by the final filing date Monday.

Oscar E. Carlstrom.

Carlstrom served two terms as attorney general and three times started out for the gubernatorial nomination without success. Reached at his Aledo home in Mercer county, he said he did not originate the petitions for governor and that he had just heard about them.

Carlstrom Watches the Tide.

"I don't want to disown the movement, tho," he said. "I want to see what is done and who is behind it. I expect to file for attorney general Monday, and if the governor petitions are in order those can be filed, too. Then I'll have until Feb. 26 to decide which to withdraw."

Moody, the new potential entry against Atty. Gen. Barrett, is a former assistant United States attorney who was a candidate for Probate judge of Cook county in 1930. His home is in Wayne, Du Page county.

Walter W. Waite of Mound City yesterday filed petitions for state treasurer. Pulaski county clerk for 25 years, his entry brings to three the number seeking this nomination.

County Opposition Expected.

Regular G. O. P. forces also heard rumblings that made them expect opposition for the Cook county slate.

The three way race for Republican committeeman in the 1st ward was spotlighted yesterday by the report that all state patronage would be placed in the hands of Bernard S. Black. Daniel A. Serritella, present committeeman, who often has been charged with bipartisan deals, was ousted from his state senate seat by the Black forces in 1942. William F. Gailing is the third candidate. Black is state lodging house inspector and 1st ward leader of the Business Men's committee, anti-vote fraud group.

Struggle for Democratic organization support for the 7th district congress seat of the late Rep. Schuetz was resolved yesterday.

William W. Link, president of the Polish-American Democratic association and a member of the county civil service commission, was given the city hall backing.

Alexander J. Resa, assistant corporation counsel, was chosen by the Democratic organization for nomination against Rep. Dewey [R.] in the north side 9th district. In 1930, Resa was a Republican candidate for Municipal court.

Protect Service Status of 10 Nurses, Kelly Rules

Mayor Kelly yesterday ordered the transfer of 10 civil service nurses who were to be dropped from the pay roll of the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium to the health department pay roll and ruled that their civil service status must be preserved. He said the city had made an appropriation for them under the health department budget a month ago when their salaries were raised from $192.50 to $209 a month.

24 DIE AS BRITISH SHIP HITS LEDGE OFF EAST COAST

Portsmouth, N. H., Feb. 16 (AP).—Twenty-four of the crew of 44 on a British freighter were lost last Friday when the ship piled up on Boon Island ledge, 12 miles off York, Me., in a blizzard and split in two, the public relations office of the 1st naval district disclosed today, with approval of the British admiralty.

The ship, a 7,244 ton motor vessel, crashed onto the rock in midafternoon. Pounded all night by heavy seas, it broke up Saturday morning.

Rescue ships stood by but could not get close enough to take off the men. The rescue craft, including coast guard and United States naval vessels, picked up survivors from the sea. Thirteen bodies were recovered.

Second Mate Johannes F. Olsen said the freighter was carrying a general cargo.

G. O. P. CARAVAN IN 73 COUNTIES DURING 16 DAYS

Galena, Ill., Feb. 16 [Special].—After today's six stops the Republican caravan of candidates had visited 73 of the 102 counties in Illinois during 16 days on the road.

Despite the snow good crowds continued to attend the meetings. Last night at Kewanee about 600 were in the audience. At the small town of Prophetstown 60 were on hand; at Morrison the courtroom was filled by 150; at Mount Carroll a theater held 150; and here the courtroom was jammed.

Freeport and Rockford were the final calls on today's schedule.

3,366 Allied Planes Lost in '43 Raids from Britain

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP).—A total of 3,366 bombers—997 American and 2,369 British—was lost over Germany and northern Europe in 1943 during operations from British bases, Air Minister Archibald Sinclair told the house of commons today. Losses in January, 1944, were 178 American and 319 British planes.

RATION TOKENS TO CHANGE FOOD BUYING ON FEB. 27

The nation's housewives and retailers will have a new system of food rationing, beginning Feb. 27, when the office of price administration's token program goes into effect. The outstanding change will be that millions of small, round fiber "coins" will appear for use as change in the ration currency system. There will be red tokens for meats, fats and oils, and blue ones for processed foods, each with a value of one point.

The token quota for Illinois and the other six states of the OPA's midwestern region is nearly 250 million.

Retailers will receive their supplies of tokens in advance. Beginning today, food dealers may obtain tokens from the banks in which they have their ration stamp accounts.

The tokens will be turned over to the retailers after payment of an equal amount of points by ration banking check, stamps, or ration certificate. Tokens may be deposited in ration accounts as in the case of stamps, but their primary purpose is to remain in circulation as change for stamps.

Father Who Neglected 6 Is Put in Court's Charge

Judge Victor A. Kula in Court of Domestic Relations yesterday placed John Sternik under court supervision until Oct. 10 on the charge of neglecting his five children. Mrs. Marian Fisher, social worker for Juvenile court, said Sternik's wife, Helen, 24, ill and pregnant, and the children were found in a cold house at 1701 Augusta blvd. last Dec. 11. A housekeeper and medical attention have been provided and Sternik's treatment of his family has improved, Mrs. Fisher said.

RENTAL INCOME MUST BE SHOWN IN TAX RETURNS

Property Owner Granted Many Deductions.

[This is the 26th article in a series on the individual income tax.]

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Property owners who receive rental income report their net income or loss on the property as item 7 on page 1 of the long form 1040.

In arriving at the net income or loss, the property owner is allowed to deduct from the gross rental income such items as incidental repairs, taxes, property insurance, janitor's salary, maintenance, fuel, interest, and depreciation.

The calculations used in determining net income from rents must be shown and explained in schedules C[1] and C[2].

Expenditures for improvements and alterations are not deductible by the owner of rental property but may be added to the capital investment. Likewise, replacement expense is not deductible to the extent that the replacements arrest deterioration and materially prolong the life of the property.

Distinction Hard to Make.

The distinction between a repair and a replacement or alteration often is difficult to make. As a result of many decisions and rulings, however, some of the commoner expenditures have been classified as either deductible expenses or nondeductible capital investments.

The cost of painting the outside of a house used for business purposes, that is, to produce rental income, and the cost of papering and painting the inside, are deductible expenses. Ordinary small or incidental repairs that keep the property in ordinary efficient operating condition are deductible as repair expense.

A new roof, however, or a change in the heating plant or the plumbing system, or any other major alteration, would be considered a capital expenditure and would not be deductible.

The treasury department does not specify rates of depreciation that will be allowed. The rate will vary with the length of the estimated useful life of the property, and this will be determined in a large degree by the type of construction and the uses to which the property is being put.

No Depreciation on Land.

The treasury considers 50 years as a reasonable useful life of an apartment building of standard or sound construction, and 60 years for a dwelling. On a new apartment building, therefore, a 2 per cent annual charge for depreciation would be reasonable. No depreciation may be taken on the value of the land on which the building is located.

Except for interest and taxes, none of these expenses is deductible by the owner who uses his property for personal purposes, such as for his residence. Frequently, however, the owner occupies a portion of a property and rents the rest. In such cases the expenses chargeable to the rented portion are deductible.

For example, if the owner occupied half of a two family apartment he could deduct from rental income one-half of the annual depreciation, and one-half the repairs and other ordinary expenses.

[Tomorrow's article will discuss gains and losses from the sale of securities and other property.]

FARMERS URGED TO PUT INCOME INTO FERTILIZER

From many agricultural schools comes the advice that fertilizing is a good investment for farmers who have a little extra money on hand as a result of increased crop yields and higher market prices.

Farmers now are depleting their land in an effort to meet federal demands for more food. The usual land preserving crop rotations have been set aside in many cases to devote more acreage to corn, wheat, cotton, and other crops hard on the soil. There has been a decrease in hay and pasture lands necessary in a balanced crop rotation.

All these factors indicate a greater need for commercial fertilizers this season, the agricultural schools declare. Iowa State college at Ames recommends that one-quarter of Iowa's 11½ million corn acres be treated with commercial fertilizer.

A new University of Wisconsin bulletin states that far more ammonium nitrate now is being produced for munitions than is needed for war purposes. Large supplies of nitrate have been released for fertilizing purposes and the university recommends that farmers obtain some to build depleted pastures.

DROP RADIO SALE PROBE; 2 CHARGE GAG BY NEW DEAL

Halt Inquiry at Secret Majority Meeting.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16 [Special].—A "hush-hush" move to keep unsavory facts from the public was charged by minority members of a special house committee today in protest against suspension of the inquiry into the sale of radio station WMCA to a former high government official.

Following a meeting behind closed doors of the three man Democratic majority, it was announced the investigation would be suspended pending court action in the case. Donald Flamm, former owner of the station, seeks to invalidate the sale, which he has said was made under duress and was "greased from the White House down."

Protest against the unexpected action was made by Representatives Miller [Mo.] and Wigglesworth [Mass.], the two Republican members of the five man committee, neither of whom was at today's meeting, inasmuch as they had not been advised.

Charge Covering of Graft.

"This is part of the whole New Deal scheme to cover up pernicious burocratic practices and the graft that is inherent in such a maze as we have in Washington," they charged in a statement.

"It is perfectly plain that this is a hush-hush move, pure and simple, to keep unsavory facts from the public.

"For more than a solid year we have sat as a minority on this committee investigating the FCC and have watched while the present political administration frantically tried to prevent American people from learning the truth about the FCC and its sordid and illegal activities.

"We wonder—and the American people have a right to know—why the White House, the department of justice, the FCC, and high New Deal officials, past and present, are so fearful that the true facts about these and other matters in which the FCC played a part may become known."

One Not Told of Meeting.

They said neither of them was advised of the contemplated action and that one of them was not even notified of the meeting until after it had been held. They charged the three Democratic members "covered up and sought to shield the administration just as the facts began to hurt."

Flamm told the committee recently that he sold the New York City station to Edward J. Noble, former undersecretary of commerce to Harry Hopkins, in 1941 against his will, under threats that he would have his broadcasting license revoked by the FCC.

The Democratic members of the committee are Chairman Lea [Cal.], Hart [N. J.], and Magnuson [Wash.].

Locks Compared

(Story in adjoining column.)

Locks proposed by government engineers, and others in counter-proposal by city engineers, are shown on map. Government proposal was called no remedy for pollution yesterday.

FOUND GUILTY OF MISCONDUCT WITH STEPCHILD

Carl Bishop, 44, former Winnetka policeman, was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor before Judge Harry H. Porter in Evanston Municipal court yesterday. Bishop, who lives at 2326 Hastings av., Evanston, had been arrested on a complaint signed by his wife, Eleanor, charging him with misconduct with her 11 year old daughter by an earlier marriage. Bishop, a war plant employe, admitted in court that a morals charge had been involved when he left the Winnetka police department four years ago. Judge Porter delayed sentencing Bishop until March 1 pending Bishop's examination by the Cook county behavior clinic.

CITY TO OPPOSE LOCK IN GRAND CALUMET RIVER

A proposal by federal engineers that a lock be constructed in the Grand Calumet river west of its junction with the Indiana Harbor ship canal will be contested both in a written presentation and in oral argument at a public hearing scheduled for March 6 in the Gary city hall, Commissioner of Public Works Hewitt said yesterday.

The construction of the lock, Hewitt said, would add to the pollution now flowing into the lake thru the ship canal and working its way north into the vicinity of the Dunne and 68th st. cribs. The proposed lock is part of a plan to make the river navigable to large vessels by dredging it as far east as Clark st. in Gary.

Another Lock Unopposed.

As part of the general plan the federal engineers also have recommended the construction of a lock in the Calumet river lakeward of its junction with the Grand Calumet river near 130th st. Hewitt said this will not be opposed, but the city engineers will recommend that the latter lock be constructed in the vicinity of 93d st. and nearer to the mouth of the Calumet. He said this would prevent much of the pollution from the South Chicago industrial district from entering the lake.

In 1941 when United States district and division engineers recommended that the Grand Calumet river be dredged as far east as Cline st. in East Chicago, and that a navigation lock be constructed in the Little Calumet river west of the Michigan Central railroad bridge, both Chicago city and sanitary district engineers objected to the plan.

Bacteria Count Rises.

It was suggested at that time that a lock or dike be built in the ship canal near its junction with the Grand Calumet and a second lock be built in the Calumet river near its mouth. The lock in the ship canal, Hewitt said, would cut off the flow of sewage into the canal from the river.

The coliform bacteria count in samples of water taken at the Dunne crib last Monday rose to 490 per 100 cubic centimeters of water, as shown by presumptive tests completed by the health department yesterday. United States public health authorities have said that water containing more than 50 coliform bacteria per 100 cubic centimeters cannot be made safe by simple chlorination.

MEMORIAL FUND STOLEN.

Thieves took $214, including a jar containing $23.25 in collections intended for a high mass honoring an American killed at the Italian front, John A. Pappas, 457 E. 87th st., told police yesterday.

DILL WINS YALE AWARD FOR WAR ACHIEVEMENTS

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 16 (AP).—Complete accord between American and British fighting men is the most important single factor for winning the war, Gen. Marshall, army chief of staff, said today at Yale university ceremonies honoring a British military leader.

Yale awarded Field Marshal Dill, chief of the British joint staff mission to the United States, the Howland memorial prize, a medal given for distinguished achievement.

An announcement said Dill had been chosen for the honor "because of the large part he has played in establishing cordial and effective cooperation between the military establishments of the United States and Great Britain."

OPA BOOSTS TWO CITRUS FRUITS, VEGETABLES OFF

Oranges, grapefruit and repacked tomatoes will be costlier in Chicago area stores for a week starting today, but lower prices will prevail for snap beans, cabbage, lettuce, spinach, and eggs, it was announced yesterday by the office of price administration.

Pink meat grapefruit will go up a cent a pound, oranges 2 cents, and tomatoes 3 cents, the latter to 40 cents, the highest mark this season. Beans and spinach go down 3 cents a pound, cabbage 2 cents, and iceberg lettuce 1 and 2 cents.

All sizes of eggs will drop 1 cent a dozen, to a range of 42 to 54 cents.

$700 DAMAGE IN FIRE.

Damage of $700 was caused by fire yesterday in the Lincoln Wine and Liquor company store at 217 E. 35th st.

TEACHERS UNION WILL ASK PAID SICK LEAVES

Groups of elementary and college teacher members of the Chicago Teachers union met yesterday to hear discussions of plans for asking the board of education to restore sick leave, with pay, before the school year ends. Union spokesmen said details were still to be worked out, but one request would be for cumulative leaves.

Sick leaves were eliminated in 1933 when the schools went on a strict economy program because of financial conditions.

At present teachers in many cases must pay substitutes almost as much as the teacher's own salary, union spokesmen said.

UNION DISAVOWS DECISION BY SCHOOLS GROUP

A statement circulated yesterday by the Chicago Teachers union declared the union is not responsible for decisions of the citizens schools committee "unless the union itself votes to concur." The union did not vote to concur in a request of the organization conference of the schools committee to ask that Supt. William H. Johnson not be rehired in April, Arthur Walz, union vice president, said.

Walz said the union representative was authorized to speak only for himself, unless the union specifically concurred.

A statement in the union's weekly bulletin sought to clarify the union's connection with citizens schools committee, an issue raised after a recent communication to President McCahey of the board of education. The unsigned note indicated the schools committee was a front for the union.

The Fourth War Loan drive is not over —still 10 days left to buy extra bonds

Chicago and Cook County Lags in Sales to Individuals

A personal message of first importance to every citizen

True, we have already reached our quota in War Bond sales to corporations in Chicago and Cook County. BUT we are lagging in sales to individuals. In fact, we have to date sold only 55 percent of our individual goal. New York City and other metropolitan areas are ahead of us. Chicago can make up that missing 45 percent by February 26th. Let's dig deeper for those extra bonds and show the nation what Chicago can do.

Certainly Chicago and Cook County folks are just as interested in backing our fighting men as the rest of the country. But to date it isn't apparent. Our individual response to this drive to raise money for landing barges, planes and tanks is behind quota.

Here's what must be done!

Chicago and Cook County must raise $112,000,000 in additional bond purchases in the next 10 days to break even with our quota of sales to individuals. Every person with a sense of responsibility to American fighters owes it to himself to buy the limit, now!

Here's what YOU can do!

1. Act immediately—well before February 26th. It isn't too late to remedy the situation. The drive is NOT over.

2. Available bonds are Series E, F, and G; also C Notes for Tax Savings.

3. In addition to individuals, who are the only ones who can buy E Bonds, all types of investors can buy F and G Bonds and the Tax Notes. This means Labor Unions, Fraternal Orders, Churches, Clubs, Estates, Trusts, Partnerships, Associations and all organizations—including corporations.

4. Buy your Bonds anywhere—at any bank, security dealer, savings and loan associations, post office, movie theatre or bond booth in office buildings or many retailers and hotels. Buy through your own company, credit union or community center; through your local OCD office.

Or just call STAte 2424—you can buy by phone!

Whether you work in a war plant or a Loop office, run a home or head up a bank, your country needs your purchase of War Bonds right now in as big denominations as you can stand while this all-important Fourth War Loan Drive is on!

WHAT ABOUT IT, CHICAGO?

Pick up the phone and buy your bond!

You don't have to step out of your house or office—just dial STAte 2424 and an efficient Treasury representative will take your order. Or buy wherever you wish. Make it at least a hundred dollar bond—more if you can.

★

Issuing Agents... speed your returns of War Bonds!

Hurry transactions through your books; don't let them lag or pile up, with the risk of not qualifying within the Drive period.

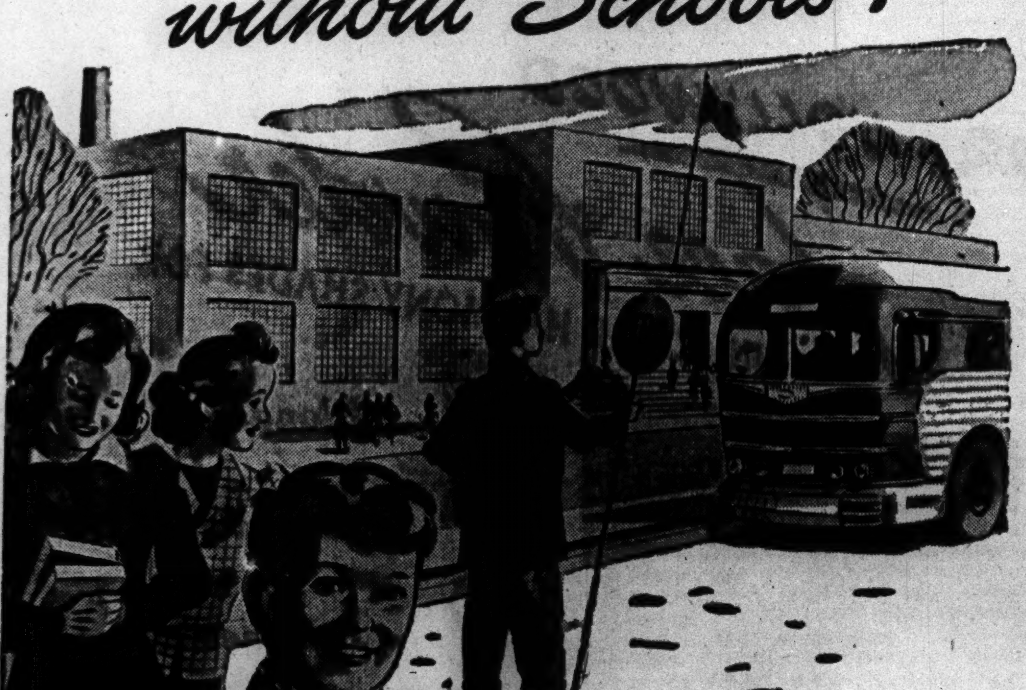
Can You Picture ILLINOIS without Schools?



Illinois' youngest generation is hard at its wartime job of learning to be good and useful citizens. We've all come to think of a good education for our children as the natural birthright of young Americans—but building up and administering a school system as fine as Illinois' is a gigantic task.

Nearly a million and a half students are enrolled each year in Illinois' schools and colleges. There are 13,799 primary schools, 1,208 secondary schools and 102 colleges and universities. The range of studies runs from kindergarten games through the three "R's" to the most advanced scientific and sociological research. Thousands of teachers are devoting their lives to this work—and to them goes much of the credit for its success, as well as to the administrators of each institution, to local and county school boards, and to the Illinois Department of Public Instruction.

We of the Greyhound Lines take the same pride as all others in Illinois in our State's educational achievements. We know that our own organization is aiding the school system both with tax support and transportation service. Those of us whose children are benefiting directly from the splendid schooling afforded them feel doubly proud.

In wartime even more than in peacetime, the things that draw us all together, that unify our efforts, that make us good neighbors in every sense, are the things that count most heavily. Both good education and good transportation have decisive parts to play in shaping the present as well as the future of Illinois in the post-war world.

GREYHOUND LINES

Thru the Looking Glass

Lilac, and all its variations, seems to be one of the most promising of all the colors that are being trotted out as a tonic for our wardrobes and our spirits these days. We are not sorry—but we would like to point out, ever so gently, that the purple tones aren't the easiest in the world on every woman.

It's a curious thing about that color. Some women have a passion for it. We have, ourselves. But before you plunge into it, subject your skin tone and your natural coloring to some pitiless scrutiny.

Sallowness, for example, should make you pause. Ever so many purple tones intensify natural sallowness or yellow undertones in the skin tint. Either make up specifically to conceal that subtle cast in your skin, or choose a shade of lilac or purple that isn't too, too deeply on the royal blue side.

There can't be any flat rules about this popular and beautiful color, we've decided. Some brunettes wear it with complete success, especially those with very clear skin and dark hair. Others can't and shouldn't touch it. Some auburn haired women who've never dared try it will find that it's one of the best colors they ever found—it's terrific in Hollywood. And blondes, unless they're definitely sallow, will often find that lilac tones give their skin the illusion of transparency that is one of the assets for those of that coloring.

One way to lick the skin tone problem if there is one is to use a fairer, pinker base and make up carefully over it. And remember above all, when lilac or purple move into your wardrobe that your lipstick must be more blue-red than orange red! ELEANOR NANGLE.

D. A. R. Record of War Service Told by Chief

Woman's part in the winning of the war and in keeping American homes intact for the return of men and women serving on the battlefronts are the chief concerns of Mrs. William H. Pouch, president general of the national society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, she said upon arrival in Chicago yesterday for a brief official visit with Illinois members of the society. Her only speaking appearance in Chicago was at an open D. A. R. luncheon yesterday in the Carson Pirie Scott & Co. tea room, which was arranged by the state regent, Mrs. J. De Forest Richards.

Reviewing the chief war projects of the organization's membership of 145,000, Mrs. Pouch reported that $280,000 had been given for the Red Cross blood plasma equipment program, $33,000,000 of war bonds had been purchased, and thousands of D. A. R. buddy bags or utility kits had been sent to service men.

Mrs. Frank L. Harris, national chairman of junior membership, who came from her home in Racine, Wis., to greet the president general, told of the war service program of the 700 junior groups thruout the country, including their Seeing Eye project, established to purchase Seeing Eye dogs for men and women blinded in military service.

Mrs. Richards declared that the Illinois society will ask the national society to indorse the Bolton bill, which would give army nurses a full commission rather than their present relative one.

Mrs. Pouch left last night for Indiana. Her round of official visits directed toward intensifying the society's defense work will take her into 20 states. The tour will end on the eve of 53d continental congress of the D. A. R., to be held in New York, her home city, in April. This is the third successive year it has been necessary to take the congress away from headquarters in Washington, D. C., because of crowded conditions in the capital.

Miss Mary Anderson.

Miss Mary Anderson, director of the women's bureau of the United States department of labor, addressed the 6th annual congress on industrial health, sponsored by the council on industrial health of the American Medical association, yesterday in the Palmer House.

"Women's greater importance in the war time labor force has focused attention on the working conditions under which they are employed," said Miss Anderson. Protection of industrial workers has developed in two ways, she continued, in the enactment of laws making protective conditions mandatory, and in the development within industry itself of health and medical practices.

Another result of women's participation in war time industry has been the enactment of laws in individual states protecting the health of the nation's 16,000,000 women workers, she added. Most of these changes in legislation are for the duration of the war only.

Two marine corps women's reservists in central division headquarters this week received promotions in rank. First Lt. Katherine B. Persons, recruiting officer, was elevated to the rank of captain, and 2d Lt. Phyllis T. Young, also in procurement, became a first lieutenant.

Capt. Persons, Lt. Young, and 2d Lt. Florence R. Bailey will be special guests at a dinner to be given by the board of governors of the Officers' Club of Chicago at 7 p. m. tomorrow in the Knickerbocker hotel. The dinner will be the first in the club's series of events honoring women in uniform.

Approximately 100 new WAC recruits will leave Chicago today for basic training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

Capt. Elizabeth C. Graham, chief WAC recruiting officer for Illinois, said yesterday: "This group is a refutation of the erroneous impression that men in service do not want women in their families to go into uniform. More than half the new contingent of WACs have husbands, sons, daughters, brothers, or sisters in the fighting forces."

Chicagoans among the recruits include Miss Jeanette O'Brien, 1638 W. 61st st., whose sister, Mary, is a member of the marine corps women's reserve, and whose brother, Daniel, is in the army.

One of the new Chicago recruits, Miss Lois McSweeney, 5308 W. Monroe st., has a sister in the air WAC. Another, Mrs. Mary Bell Belcher, 5327 Cornell av., has a daughter, Dana Z. Shipley, in the WAVES.

Mrs. Mabel Ringer, 6424 Kimbark av., has left her job as telephone operator for the army 6th service command headquarters to join the WAC. She has two sons serving in the South Pacific.

Mrs. Johnnie N. Wicks, 5700 Winthrop av., has a son, George, who has been reported missing in the Philippines, so she has left her job as a clerical employe of the United States Indian service to enlist.

The latest WAC contingent also includes one American-born Japanese woman, Miss Fumi Shimoyama. Her brother is a sergeant in the American army.

Navy Mother of 1944 Guest Aboard Sable and at Air Station

Mrs. Nellie H. Twele of Baltimore, Md., the 1944 navy mother, took time yesterday from her visit at Great Lakes Naval Training station to go aboard the U. S. S. Sable and tour the Glenview naval air station. Reporting her observations at Great Lakes, she said she found the men were receiving excellent care.

Mrs. Twele, who is 45 years old, has four sons in the navy. Her husband, Frederick, also is in the navy as a chief electrician's mate on duty in the South Pacific. But she isn't exclusively a navy mother, for another son, Staff Sgt. J. C. Twele, is with the army in England, and still another son, Lt. Bernard Twele, a pilot, has been missing since last October when his Flying Fortress was shot down over Germany.

Mrs. Twele, who is commander of the Navy Mothers club of Baltimore, is at Great Lakes for the week, and will broadcast to navy mothers thruout the country over the Blue network at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

A Boy of 5 Has Self-Relance He'll Succeed!

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

A friend was marketing, and was standing patiently in the grocery awaiting her turn. Suddenly, a dynamic little figure strode into the store, thru the group of women, planked some coins down on the counter and said, "I would like half a dozen eggs."

"Well son," said the storekeeper, "you will have to wait your turn. All these ladies are ahead of you."

The small boy paused. Then, "But they don't all want a half dozen eggs do they? My mother's in a great hurry."

"Oh, give him his eggs," said one of the women. So the small boy got his eggs and departed in businesslike fashion, only to be stopped at the door by an interested onlooker who asked, "How old are you?"

Holding the door open with his back and clutching the eggs carefully in one arm he looked up at the woman, thrust the other hand up toward her with the five small fingers spread then got busily on his way.

"He's going to get somewhere," said the storekeeper, and then he embarked upon a recital of this young five year old's doings. One day Johnny, wearing his ski suit, sat on the curb near a bus stop. A woman stood smoking near-by and, seeing her bus in the distance, threw away her cigaret rather forcefully.

It happened to land on the leg of the brand new Christmas suit, still alight. Affronted at what must have seemed to Johnny a deliberate act, he picked up the cigaret and brushed the lighted end against the woman's sheer stocking. It may even have been that he held it there a moment, for the stocking burned.

Fireworks certainly followed; the irate woman dragged Johnny to his mother's modest little apartment, demanded that he be spanked and demanded the price of a new pair of stockings. But he apparently put the matter so convincingly and so self-righteously to the two women, that Johnny got no spanking and the woman got no stockings.

"He's certainly going to get somewhere in this world," said the storekeeper shaking his head in a sort of nodding approval.

Do you ever wonder as you watch children, what they will be like when they grow up? I have a friend who has no children of her own, but she lives more or less in the midst of them, and she says that she is constantly intrigued as she watches them play or talks to them, by her conjectures as to what kind of men and women they will be.

The bidding:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 no trump | Pass | 2 no trump | Pass |
| 3 no trump | Pass | Pass | Pass |

This deal occurred in a 12 table duplicate game, and every North-South pair reached the same contract, three no trump. Eleven declarers brought home that contract without so much as taking a finesse. The twelfth declarer was fixed to the queen's taste at the very first trick!

At 11 tables West chose the normal, orthodox lead of the club jack. East had to cover with the queen, and in every case the declarer took the precaution of ducking. On East's forced return of a spade, heart or diamond, it was a cinch for declarer to establish nine tricks before losing control of clubs.

The unfortunate twelfth declarer saw a different opening lead. At his table West firmly laid down the club king! From that time on declarer had no chance. East's queen fitted neatly under West's card, and whether or not South held up the ace he was doomed.

Now let's see whether the king lead was well calculated or merely lucky. What did West stand to lose by his selection? If South had the club queen in addition to the ace, the lead would neither lose or gain. The same applied to the holding of the guarded queen by either dummy or East. If, however, any one of the other three players had the singleton queen, the opening lead of the king, rather than the jack, was vital.

The one danger of leading the king was that East might have held the ace and declarer the guarded queen. In this case West would lose the chance to trap the queen. This, however, was certainly an unlikely contingency in view of the bidding.

Robert Hall McCormick Weds Mrs. George Baker Robbins

BY JUDITH CASS.

CHICAGOANS will be interested to learn of the marriage yesterday in Tucson, Ariz., of Mrs. George Baker Robbins and Robert Hall McCormick. The announcement of the marriage is being made by the bride's daughter, Mrs. Foster Newhall of San Francisco.

The ceremony took place quietly in the courthouse patio and was performed by Judge William G. Hall of Superior court. It is expected that Mr. McCormick and his bride will remain in Arizona thru the spring and will return to Chicago to live.

The new Mrs. McCormick, formerly of Burlingame, Cal., was affiliated with the San Francisco Symphony association. She had been living in Chicago for the last year or so. Mr. McCormick, grandson of the late Leander J. McCormick, is a former president of the Chicago Opera company. His marriage to Eleanor Morris McCormick ended in a divorce a few days ago. It is the third marriage for the former Mrs. Robbins.

Other Weddings News.

When Lt. [j. g.] Henry C. Sutton suddenly received a week-end leave from his navy post in Brooklyn, N. Y., he and his fiancée, Miss Weona Armstrong, decided to be married at once. The wedding will take place at 6 p. m. Saturday in the chapel of St. Luke's church, Evanston. Mrs. William Armstrong of Evanston returned a few days ago from New York, where her daughter's engagement to the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. White Sutton of Honolulu was announced at a small dinner recently in the Hampshire House.

Miss Armstrong, a graduate of the Roycemore school, now is attending Finch Junior college. Last summer she served as a Red Cross nurse's aid at the Cook County hospital. Lt. Sutton was graduated from Stanford university. He and his bride will return immediately to Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barnett Cowap of Evanston announce the engagement and approaching marriage Feb. 26 of their daughter, Mary Constance, to George Leslie Tetlow, son of Mrs. George Tetlow and the late Mr. Tetlow of Evanston. The ceremony will take place in the Woman's club of Evanston at 8:30 p. m., with the Rev. Clifford H. Newham, Northwestern university navy chaplain, officiating. The bridegroom will receive his commission as ensign in the navy that day from the Navy V-12 program at Northwestern. The wedding cake will be cut with the sword which belonged to the bride's brother, the late Henry Cowap III. of the naval air corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shiverick have returned to Glencoe after a sudden trip to Norfolk, Va., where their daughter, Ruth Ann, and Ensign Clifford Lee Winters Jr. were married Feb. 5 in the naval base chapel. Ensign Winters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winters of Winfield, Kas., and his bride are at home in Norfolk. Also in Norfolk for the ceremony was Mrs. Bennett Hill Fishler Jr. [Mary Shiverick], who made the trip from Upper Montclair, N. J., to be her sister's matron of honor. Now that Lt. Fishler has gone overseas his bride of last October is remaining in the east to work in a nursery for war workers' children in Ridgewood, N. J.

Future Events.

The mails are filled with invitations and announcements concerning a number of interesting events. The board of directors of Christopher House, a settlement at 2507 Greenview av., announces a travelog by Burton Holmes on "Today's Mexico" Saturday night, April 1, in Scott hall, Evanston, from which the proceeds will go toward the support of the settlement's educational and recreational work in its neighborhood.

Mrs. Thomas G. Murdoch heads the benefit, which is eagerly anticipated by persons of all ages. As on Mr. Holmes' previous Christopher House benefit lectures, the hall will have a large share of children in the audience. The color motion pictures that Mr. Holmes took in Mexico last spring include scenes of the new volcano, Paricutin. Clyde Horn of Evanston is chairman of the Christopher House board, which is composed of 25 couples.

The Mary Crane league is inviting friends of the nursery school it supports at Hull House to a benefit tea-dance Sunday, Feb. 27, in the Boulevard room of the Stevens hotel. Mrs. Jack Cookman Hand of Evanston is chairman of the league. Another benefit on the league calendar is the annual luncheon, card party, and book review of the executive board, planned for April 17 at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Mrs. Russell P.

A Study in Black and White—For Spring

This crisp spring charmer in classic black and white features a slim dull black crepe costume slip with a vee inset of fine embroidered white sheer. The peplum blouse jacket of large black and white checked taffeta is tied at the waist with a grosgrain ribbon. The costume is available in a Chicago shop.

Checks Rated as Favorites in Attire for Early Spring

BY REA SEEGER.

Checks are favorites in early spring attire. Costumes having checks tell the coming of a new season with triumphant swank. You will see and probably wear slim, dark skirts of wool with checked jackets, entire suits made of large, small, or medium sized checks, and super-smart topcoats, short or full length, of large, bold checks. In some way or other checks will capture your extra money.

War time taffeta is one of the gayest taffetas of all time. It is used with abandon in wide, swirling skirts of house coats, in charming daytime dresses tied with black velvet ribbon for the subdeb; in stunning blouses, for jackets and coat linings, or even hats, gloves, and bags—in fact, to perk up anything that resembles a dull or dated wardrobe.

The accessory possibilities of this swishing material are endless. A mere one yard length of the stuff in any color or combinations of colors spells the magic that revives a dress or suit. Many of the simplest dull black models go dress parade with a fetching bow of taffeta laced thru wide slits in the bodice close to the shoulder or as a belt tied in front with a soft bow or tied at the back to simulate back fullness.

The smartest ensembles are those of straight-as-a-needle skirt topped with a jacket blouse. Whether the top is fashioned with short or long sleeves, with a high or deep vee neckline, the eye appeal is perfect, the sharp contrast typical of the spring trend of definite contrast. And the tops made of effective white and colored checks are especially successful first buys for the early spring wardrobe.

Rural Schools' Role Vital to Future of U. S., Says Educator

The rural child's education is more important to the future of the nation than is the city child's, Dr. Floyd Reeves, director of rural education at the University of Chicago, told the Great Lakes rural education conference in the Hotel Sherman yesterday.

A large portion of a city's population is made up of persons whose antecedents moved from the farm, and if present rates of migration continued for three generations three-fourths of the fourth generation of city residents would have farm ancestors, Dr. Reeves asserted.

In urging better education for rural youth Dr. Reeves said a great mass of information now available in dry government pamphlets and agricultural college research material could be revised and made interesting to rural teachers and pupils, who could adapt the information to their daily lives.

The speaker said rural pupils today have an advantage over city pupils because they are closer to production of the essentials of life than city children.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

Twelve to One.

I am going to lunch. Also I am going to buy a girdle.

"I'd like to see something in a two way stretch."

Have I suddenly turned green? Do I have a smudge on my nose? Why is the salesgirl looking at me like that? Contempt . . . pity . . . disgust?

"Lady, there's a war on."

I am nonplussed. She is happy. I try a new approach.

"Perhaps you have something in lastex?"

She is radiant. "No."

"Could you show me anything in size 24?"

"Maahdam, the smallest size we carry is 26."

I mumble something. I'm afraid I have offended her. She sighs. I look at my watch. It is 12:30. She faces me with an uncompromising look. I slink away.

Shopper's Special.

I have just enough time for lunch. I climb up on the stool and study the menu. I decide on the Shopper's Special. Here I make a mistake: I ask to have the tomatoes omitted.

"The tomatoes come with the Shopper's Special."

"Yes, I know, but will you please leave them off my sandwich?"

"Then you don't want the Shopper's Special?"

"Yes, I want the Shopper's Special . . . the sandwich, the coffee, the chocolate nut brownie . . . all but the tomatoes."

"I will ask the cook."

Apparently the cook is a reasonable fellow. He agrees: "But that will be 5 cents extra." I contemplate this; then I smile and nod as tho 5 cents were nothing at all. This does not impress the waitress. She is bitter about me.

A Man.

A man arrives to occupy the stool next to mine. The waitress brightens. She places silver, napkin, and water glass before him. [I have none of this.] She beams at him while he studies the menu long and hard. She waits, pencil poised for action. She suggests things. He growls at her. Eventually he slams down the menu.

"Shopper's Special."

She is all sweetness and light . . . glances at me and her face—darkness. I glance at my watch. I shouldn't have done this. It has displeased her. It is 3 minutes to 1. I give her a pleading look. She is hard. She flounces off, but comes back directly with one Shopper's Special. She gives it to the man. I look at my watch again, but this time I am careful she doesn't see me. Anyway she is busy examining her girl friend's new diamond ring.

It is 1 o'clock. She starts for the kitchen but is sidetracked by the cashier, who has a new story. She laughs and laughs and wipes the tears from her eyes. I also wipe the tears from my eyes. She continues on her way; returns triumphant with my Shopper's Special. Luscious red tomato slices are oozing from it.

Tomatoes make me ill. I eat them. I look at my watch. It is 1:20. I sacrifice my coffee and chocolate nut brownie. I reach for the check. It says:

| | |
|---|---|
| 1 sh sp | 40 |

I am 25 minutes late getting back to the office. I have no girdle. My stomach aches. VIVIAN CARROL.

U. of C. Seeks New Motto to Replace Latin

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Along with football, the next thing to be lopped from the college and university campus may be those nice looking heraldic vestigials first imported in the 18th century from England—the Latin mottos which few now can translate even if important.

At least the University of Chicago, which since its founding has not hesitated to smash cherished educational images, is calling for a new motto to supplant Crescat Scientia Vita Excolatur. Moreover, prizes totaling $750 have been offered by the Daily Maroon, Midway newspaper, for the best suggestions.

[Prof. Philo Logue, former associate in Tribune religion and education editorship, was recalled in the emergency to put some of the current Latin mottos into the American language. The Midway motto, now apparently on its way out, means, "Let Knowledge Flourish That Life May Flower," according to Philo.]

A hint of the new campus revolution was given by Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the university, Monday, as he spoke before the Northwestern university chapter of the American Association of University Professors. He declared himself against pretty Latin mottos as guides in education for the days ahead. As one replacement suggestion he quoted Walt Whitman. The motto reads:

"Solitary, singing in the west, I strike up for a new world."

An example of an English prototype of the conventional upward and onward kind of American college motto is Per Aspera ad Astra ["Thru rigor to the stars]. At Trinity college, Cambridge, it is Virtute, Studio, Ludo ["By honor, work, and play"]. Others from Oxford and Cambridge include Dominus Illuminatio Mea ["God is my light"], and Virtus Vera Nobilitas ["Honor is the true nobility"].

At Harvard the motto is Veritas ["Truth"]; Yale, Lux et Veritas ["Light and Truth"]; Brown, In Deo Speramus ["In God We Hope"]; Princeton, Dei Sub Numine Viget ["Under the might of God It will Flourish"].

When Northwestern university was queried as to its Latin motto a feminine voice gasped, "O, heavens!" A few minutes later the mystery was solved. It was Quaecumque Sunt Vera ["Whatsoever Things Are True"].

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 16.—After national publicity, "Sister Kenny," with Rosalind Russell, has been shelved until end of the year, and maybe won't be made then. Which gives Roz a chance to do "Roughly Speaking," for Warners. I loved story about its author, Mrs. Pierson. When her family came to see her off on the Century, she broke down and said, "This is nonsense, my going to California alone. We'll all go." So the whole family piled back into the station wagon, went home, packed, and drove out. They're still here, and all have jobs. Husband and a daughter work in a war plant, and they're still living in a motel. Rich people should be that happy. . . . Ginger Rogers' "Gibson Girl" also postponed till midsummer. Story trouble. . . . Boris Karloff finishes "The Climax" and "Destiny" for Universal. He'll return to New York and do another mystery-comedy which Russell Crouse and Howard Lindsay are writing. It won't open till fall.

Happy Fatigue.

Talked with the Humphrey Bogarts, who spent seven weeks in Italy. They got within 4 miles of the front. "You've never seen mud till you've seen it over there. Tanks sink right out of sight," he says. "Casablanca looks like Beverly Hills. It's beautiful." Boys called him "Chicago," not "Bogey." . . . Now I've heard everything! That trouble was brewing in the Pat O'Brien household. Next thing you know, gossips will be separating the Cecil de Milles. Those who started the foul rumor about Pat and Eloise got nothing but shrieks of laughter from Pat. "It's going to take more than Hollywood peeping Toms to break us up!" he said.

Everybody's Doing It.

Edward G. Robinson, on the "Mr. Winkle Goes to War" set, is writing a novelette, called "The Man Who Went Away," about an actor who depicts gangsters and villains until his own character becomes warped. But Eddie screams, "It's not autobiographical!" It's being done for a magazine. . . . David Selznick's "Tales of Love and Romance" will come from De Maupassant, Balzac, Sherwood Anderson, and other authors. Naturally, he can't say which stories. Many of them are in public domain and somebody might beat him to it. I do hope he does "The Necklace" by De Maupassant. I always thought there was a great picture in that.

Dreams and Dreams.

Moss Hart had a dream which turned out to be a tour de force for Gertrude Lawrence called "Lady in the Dark." She made it live. The picture turns that dream into a nightmare and makes caricatures of Ginger Rogers and Mary Phillips—two swell actresses. Mary Phillips is supposed to assist at running a fashion magazine. Yet while she's working in the picture, only once does she take off her hat or gloves, or lay aside her muff. The circus sequence shows great imagination. It's three and a half million dollars' worth of cake frosting, and will probably make money. . . . And on the other hand, a dream sequence in "Up in Arms" really comes off. Danny Kaye finds himself in a jungle full of fog and Goldwyn girls perched in trees. Trees are air-conditioned and steam heated at the same time. Steam throws a pretty plume above each girl's head; the air blast keeps her cool. But Danny keeps you laughing.

Just Ramblings.

The bobby sox brigade will be pretty angry if their Sinatra comes down with the measles. He worked opposite Gloria de Haven a whole day before either of them knew she had 'em. . . . Peter Lawford, who really got started in "White Cliffs," signed for "Picture of Dorian Gray" before he does "Mrs. Parkington." . . . Sigrid Gurie sold her zoo and collection of birds, and all she kept were two ocelots, male and female. . . . Back east Mary Pickford attended a dog show with Fred Allen. Fred was quipping about Mayor La Guardia finding shade under a St. Bernard. He was there to toss out the first flea—or vice versa. . . . "The Negro Soldier," made by Frank Capra for the war department, will be distributed free, and can be seen in theaters if you ask for it. . . . Talent scouts will have a field day at Betty Rowland's ball of fire opening on the strip tomorrow night, what with Gus Schilling, expert comic, and Lee Trent, a natural, doing their bits. I'll bet all three will be grabbed for good parts before week's end. Trent's under contract to R. K. O., but what parts that studio's given him! . . . Anne Baxter's back east selling bonds, and Natalie Visart, who's designing her gowns for "Guests in the House," needed Anne's figure. One was made of plastic and rushed out. Reminds me of the time Mae West sent her figure to Paris to have her gowns made there. When they arrived, they didn't meet around the middle by 12 inches!

Mickey Rooney Goes Western in 'Girl Crazy'

"GIRL CRAZY."

A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, directed by Norman Taurog, starring Judy Garland and Mickey Rooney, and presented at the United Artists.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Highlights of this movie musical are the episode in which Mickey Rooney gets thrown off a horse and that in which Judy Garland, with a galaxy of young males in cowboy costume, sings "Biding My Time." The first is awfully funny and the second downright beguiling.

Otherwise the picture is mostly Mickey Rooney with his mouth open, first as a Broadway playboy and second as a young man of the west.

The playboy goes west because his pop thinks, and rightly, that he's girl crazy. Anyhow the lad hasn't been doing any too well at Yale and Mr. Churchill figures a dose of the small western college at Cody, Ariz., where, he's been informed there hasn't been a girl seen for years, might be good medicine for the silly feller. . . .

So west goes Danny. There he falls in love with the postmistress—also niece of the college dean—and, when the college is about to close because of a sharp decrease in enrollment, figures out a way to put it back on its feet. His plan incorporates 100 beautiful girls—which gives Busby Berkeley a chance to go into one of his elaborate numbers. . . . Silly.

As you may surmise, Danny is not at first very happy in his new environment, and nobody thereabouts is particularly happy about having him around. . . . Time, of course, remedies all that.

To me the production seemed pretty flat as a whole.

See you tomorrow.

INSTALMENT XXXIV.

CLEVER DEDUCTION.

Miss Silver smiled at Elliot Wray.

"Miss Wray left her fingerprints on both doors of that room. She would hardly have gone out that way if she had not wished to avoid some one who was coming in by the study door."

Elliot said, "Well, well. She's one of the unfortunate people who can't tell a lie, you know. Don't be too hard on her."

"I do not, of course, know who the visitor was."

"You surprise me."

"But I am quite sure that Mrs. Wray knows. However, we will leave that for the moment and come back to the other reason why the Times remained unopened. It is the more important of the two."

"You said it was put there to cover something. Did you mean that it was put there to cover the cylinder with any blueprints?"

"Yes, Mr. Wray."

"What makes you think so?"

"It is very simple, Mr. Wray. At nine o'clock, which was just as the ladies were coming out of the dining room, the maid, Polly Parsons, went into the study to make up the fire. The Times was then on the table. At round about ten minutes to ten, when you and Mr. Pearson and Lane were all in the study within a few minutes of one another, the Times lay on the writing table at Mr. Paradine's left hand. It was still there and still unopened when Mrs. Wray came down just after ten, and when Mr. Mark arrived at eleven."

"For the matter of that it was still there in the morning."

"And it was covering the cylinder with your blueprints?"

"Yes."

Miss Silver said, "There is a strong probability that the cylinder was placed there between nine o'clock, when Polly came in to do the fire, and about ten minutes to ten, when Lane saw the Times in position to cover it."

"That's not possible."

"Pray, why do you say that, Mr. Wray?"

"Because no one in the family had the opportunity of putting it back between those times. Nobody was alone."

"Mr. Pearson?"

"Lane was already in the study when he got there. Besides—" He finished the sentence with a shrug.

"I agree that the time would be a very unlikely one for any one to choose, the Ambrose party having just left, and the family separating for the night."

"An incredible time," said Elliot. "Besides Lane was there first. As you say, he noticed the Times."

"Yes. I was not seriously considering Mr. Pearson. Everything points in another direction."

"None of the men left the dining room, Miss Silver."

"I am aware of that, Mr. Wray. But one of the ladies did leave the drawing room."

Elliot's fair brows made a rigid line above a gaze of singular intensity. He said, "Who?"

"Miss Paradine."

"You're a brave woman! Have you any idea what sort of explosive you're handling?"

"I am giving you the result of what I have observed and deduced, Mr. Wray. I should be glad to continue."

"I should be glad if you would."

"If you will consider the facts quite impartially you will admit that Miss Paradine was the sole member of the family who had the opportunity of replacing your cylinder. Miss Paradine left the drawing room a few minutes after nine with the avowed object of bringing down the New Year's gifts which she had prepared for her guests. She was away for a short time, but it would not have taken her long to do what I believe she did do. Having deposited the cylinder upon Mr. Paradine's table, she had only to set the baize door ajar and listen, to make sure that there was no one in the hall before she returned to the drawing room with her gifts."

"Grace Paradine!" he said. "Why?"

"Don't you know why, Mr. Wray? I think you do. Forgive me if I speak plainly. She hates you—she is jealous of you. She has separated you from your wife. She has a very intense nature, and it is wholly set upon Mrs. Wray. It is quite impossible to be in the same room with the three of you without becoming aware of this. Mrs. Wray is aware of it too. It troubles her deeply. She is pulled in one direction by upbringing and by what she thinks of as loyalty and duty, and in another by all her natural instincts and feelings. Now consider Miss Paradine's position. She has achieved what I think she set out to achieve—a separation between you and your wife. I do not know how she effected it, but she is a woman of considerable force of character and, I think, quite unscrupulous where her feeling for Mrs. Wray is concerned. And then you come up here on a business visit. She casts about for something that will prevent them. It occurs to her that if valuable plans were lost, the breach between you and the Paradines might be rendered complete. It seems from your statement of what Mr. Paradine told you that Mr. Richard was aware that his uncle was bringing home papers of such importance that he would not leave them in the office unguarded while he went to wash his hands, but desired Mr. Richard to remain there during his absence. Mr. Richard has struck me as an amiable and rather talkative young man. I think we shall find that he mentioned the papers to his aunt. I am persuaded that she then found some opportunity of abstracting them, and that Mr. Paradine was aware that she had done so. He told you that he knew who had taken them, did he not?"

Elliott nodded.

"I have been very specially struck by the fact that Mr. Paradine seems to have felt no uneasiness about the loss of these important blueprints. You described him as being in very good spirits."

He said grimly, "O, yes—he was enjoying himself."

"Don't you see what that implies, Mr. Wray? A valuable secret was missing. If Mr. Paradine was able to enjoy the situation, it means he was perfectly persuaded that there was no military reason for the theft. He must, for instance, have been quite certain there was no danger that the blueprints might be photographed."

A Sailor's Plea for Slide Rules Is Told by Sally

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

We hope that our readers will be able to fill the following request which comes from a navy man stationed in this locality:

"Dear Miss Brown:

"After reading your column in THE TRIBUNE I thought perhaps you were the person to help us. Several of the men here have returned from service overseas for special radio training and we are badly in need of slide rules or, as engineers call them, 'slip-sticks.' We have found them very difficult to obtain and quite expensive, even when they are purchasable. I thought that perhaps some of your readers who have taken engineering in one of its various phases but no longer follow that line might have slide rules which they no longer need. If there are any tucked away gathering dust those forgotten rules would be literally God-sent because we need them badly and find them practically unobtainable.

"This city has been grand to all service men and we hope she can add to her laurels by helping us find some of these rules which we really need. Anything you can do will be appreciated. H. J."

The writer also added that he was not looking for charity and that the men are willing to pay a price for them, but under the rules of this department any donation must be an outright gift.

We will be glad to provide further information to any interested reader.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Last year's potato crop was the largest on record—25 per cent more than were grown in 1942. We've still got a big job of potato eating to do to make room for 1944's crop. Potatoes are a basic food, and in England have been used to supply the vitamin C that Americans get from oranges. There's a lot less vitamin C in a potato than there is in an orange, of course, but if you eat enough potatoes you can get the same amount!

Potatoes are more important to us as an energy food, and for their B vitamins and minerals.

Eat your baked potatoes with the skin on, say nutritionists. The skin and the portion next the skin contain iron. Cooking potatoes in the skin keeps in vitamins and soluble minerals which otherwise would be lost in the cooking water.

Sweet potatoes are plentiful, too. Neither kind of potato costs any points. We can have all we need and want of them.

Another basic food—"henfruit"—is with us in abundant supply. A lack of eggs would sorely tax the homemaker in planning nutritious meals and in cooking even the most ordinary dishes. But eggs are rolling to market in a great avalanche. Latest estimates by the war food administration indicate that every man, woman, and child has a 347 egg share of this year's crop. That's pretty nearly an egg a day for every one, an ideal situation in eggs!

In Britain the ration is three fresh eggs a month, plus a five ounce package of dried egg powder. And you can't poach or fry dried egg powder. We are extremely fortunate.

Remember that the color of the eggshell has nothing to do with nutritive value. Any fresh egg is a fine source of high quality protein, important minerals, and at least five vitamins!

Buy top quality eggs for poaching, soft-cooking, frying. For cooking purposes, other grades are good enough. Buy eggs which are kept refrigerated. Eggs deteriorate at room temperature.

A third plentiful blessing which we have with us is the orange. Citrus fruit is our best source of the important vitamin C, so necessary for normal growth and development in children, and for keeping all of us healthy. Buy oranges and grapefruit for heaviness, which means juiciness. Don't place too much emphasis on the color. Some of the ripest, juiciest, most beautifully developed oranges are naturally pale, or naturally greenish.

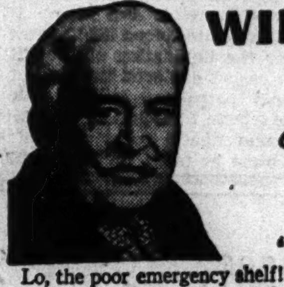
WILSON'S WEEKLY Bulletin By George Rector
Food and Nutrition Consultant to Wilson & Co.



"MOR" FOR THE SHELF

Lo, the poor emergency shelf! Formerly so well stocked with canned goods that you could prepare a complete meal in just a few minutes; now it is more likely to look like Old Mother Hubbard's cupboard. To remedy this, a few ration points set aside each week, just for your emergency shelf, would be a good investment. Come a last minute need, you're ready!

Broiled MOR Rarebit

1 tbsp. Wilson's Certified Margarine
1½ tbsp. flour
¼ tsp. dry mustard
½ cup milk
⅓ lb. Wilson's Certified Cheese, grated
6 slices bread
1 can MOR, cut in 12 slices

Make a white sauce of the first four ingredients, add grated cheese (about ⅓ cup), remove from fire and stir until cheese is completely melted. Toast the bread on one side. On untoasted side spread cheese sauce and place 2 slices of MOR on top. Put under broiler, 400° F., for about 12 minutes. Serves 6.

How good to find a can of MOR on the shelf when there comes a day that might otherwise be meatless! These toasted sandwiches are something you can really get your teeth into, and they'll amply take care of six meat-hungry people.

MOR Meat for Your Points

Cost per serving of this hearty main dish is only one meat point per person, including point-cost of cheese. Yes, you really get more for your points when you buy MOR because it's 100% meat—no bone, no gristle or waste to add up extra points.

With meat supplies limited, it's well to realize how much food value as well as enjoyment inexpensive, low-point MOR offers. Good reason for keeping several cans on hand, always!

PLANS IMPORTANT

An emergency shelf is as good as the plans that lie behind it. So be sure to plan a menu that can be prepared easily from foods on the shelf and those usually kept on hand.

My suggestions for good companions to the MOR Rarebit in the illustration include baked potatoes, Harvard beets (made quickly from canned beets) instead of salad unless you have the makings for a salad in the refrigerator, spinach (also from a can), olives or radishes and peach shortcake.

Keep the shortcake mix always on hand . . . it will keep for weeks if you make it of Bake Rite Shortening.

Last Minute Help

And, so your guest can really help if she feels so inclined, it saves time if you can hand her a recipe for the dish she is to make. So keep the recipes handy, too, along with the menu and the food on your emergency shelf.

Yours for simpler entertaining,
George Rector

DEMAND BRITISH DO THEIR PART IN 'OILING THE WAR'

Probers Urge Easing of U. S. Burden.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—The senate Truman committee investigating the national defense program called upon the British today to share their oil with the United States in return for the oil drained for the war from American reserves.

Sen. Brewster [top] and Sen. Mead.

The committee acted in support of the recommendation by two of its members who were among the five senators who recently returned from a tour of the world's fighting fronts. The returned senators are Brewster [R., Me.] and Mead [D., N. Y.], serving as a subcommittee of the Truman group.

Reporting to the senate on their overseas investigation, they submitted a statement of the state department relating the British opposition to operations of American oil companies in the middle east since the last war.

Charge U. S. Exploited.

Emphasizing that the United States "has borne the brunt of oiling this war," the senators reported that this country has provided upward of 85 per cent of the aviation gasoline used by the allied nations and is currently producing 70 per cent of all the petroleum used by the allies.

The report embraced Brewster's original speech last November in the senate upon his return from the battle fronts, in which he said that the British had supplied only 8 per cent of the oil for the war, tho having reserves equal to those of the United States.

The report said American petroleum reserves would be exhausted in 12 to 15 years at the rate they are being used, while British oil would be sufficient for a century.

Ask Oil Transfer.

"For that reason, it would seem fair to ask our allies, particularly the British, to recompense the United States for this excessive depletion by a transfer to us of a compensating volume of proven reserves outside this country," the report said.

In preparing their report, the senators asked the state department for information on its foreign petroleum policy.

The department said that after the last war the British took the position that the United States was not entitled to participate in the development of mandated territories because it had not ratified the Versailles treaty or joined the league of nations.

Fight Objection.

The state department fought this objection on the ground that the United States had contributed to the victory, but years were required to break down British resistance.

Even so, it was not until 1934 and 1935 that American oil companies were able to break thru British influence to gain concessions in Kuwait and Saudi Arabia for some of the Persian gulf oil. It is the oil of these countries that Ickes has proposed to transport to the Mediterranean by a pipe line to be built by the Petroleum Reserves corporation, which he heads.

Ickes announced the plans for the pipe line on Feb. 5, shortly after Senators Brewster and Moore [R., Okla.] had introduced a bill providing for the liquidation of the PRC.

The report deplored the lack of a national petroleum policy. Some saw a rebuke for Ickes in the statement that "basic policy determinations must be made by congress."

HOUSE APPROVES BIG PROGRAM TO FIND NEW FUELS

Oil for 3,000 Years in Coal and Shale.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16 (AP).—The house passed today by a standing vote of 140 to 13 legislation designed to furnish the United States with synthetic oil and gasoline made from coal, shale, and other resources which experts have said are good for a 3,000 year fuel supply.

The bill, which had strong bipartisan support, would authorize establishment of experimental plants by the bureau of mines to produce liquid fuels from various substances such as coal and oil shale, which the country has in quantity, in order to assure a continuing supply of domestic motor fuel and aviation gasoline.

With interior department officials asserting that known petroleum reserves in the United States are sufficient for not more than 14 years at the current rate of usage, the house started action to meet the problem before it became acute.

Urges Government Lead.

Rep. Randolph [D., W. Va.], author of the legislation, said the government must take the lead in developing inexpensive and efficient methods of obtaining motor fuels from coal, oil shale, and other substances. Once developed, the system will be turned over to private industry for operation.

The bill authorizes appropriation of 30 million dollars to construct and operate demonstration plants. Three of these probably would be built. All would be operated by the bureau of mines which already has conducted some experiments in a small laboratory at Pittsburgh, Pa.

The secretary of the interior would be authorized to acquire secret processes, technical data, inventions, and other rights under patents granted by this or any other nation. Supporters pointed out Germany, Great Britain, and Russia already are producing large amounts of synthetic fuel and that some alien patents seized by the government might be valuable in working out a program.

"Enormous Amounts" Possible.

The bureau of mines recently reported to Ickes that experiments in applying the hydrogenation process to coals indicated this country can develop "enormous amounts" of gasoline and oil from its coal reserves, estimated at 3 trillion tons. This, said the bureau, could yield 800 billion barrels of oil and could supply United States needs for 3,000 years at the April, 1941, rate of consumption.

Dr. R. R. Sayers, director of the bureau, told Ickes petroleum from coal is similar to crude petroleum and yields a relatively higher percentage of gasoline and oils. There is little doubt, he added that at some future date the hydrogenation of coal will be "essential to our progress."

MILK DEALERS SEEK TO BOOST PRICE HALF CENT

The Associated Milk Dealers of Chicago yesterday again petitioned the office of price administration for an increase in the price of retail milk. The new petition asks for a raise of one-half cent a quart, said Paul Potter, executive secretary of the association.

A previous petition for a one cent a quart raise was denied last month by the OPA. Potter said only one-half cent more is asked now because of a reduction in prices paid by evaporated milk dealers, who buy in competition with the fluid milk handlers.

"There has been an increase of one-third of a cent per quart in the cost of raw milk on the farm since a year ago," Potter said. "Along with this the sale of cream and other by-products has been curtailed and our labor costs have risen."

SUICIDE REFLECTS POLISH TRAGEDY.

Mrs. Janine Woynar, 45, of 7659 Kingston av., inhaled gas in her home Tuesday night because of worry over relatives living in Poland, a coroner's jury was told yesterday. The jury found that she had acted with suicidal intent.

Bebe, Brookfield Zoo Hippo, Expects 5th Child

Bebe, the Brookfield zoo's 3,500 pound hippo, is in confinement again, Robert Bean, the zoo director, said yesterday. The confinement is Bebe's fifth since she and her husband, Toto, were purchased from the Memphis [Tenn.] zoo 10 years ago. Her previous four offspring have been sold to other zoos for a total of $8,000. The new arrival, expected today or tomorrow, will weigh some 50 pounds.

BIG FIELD ASSURED FOR KENTUCKY DERBY

GIANTS' PASCHAL TAKES GROUND GAINING TITLE

Beats Jack Hinkle by a Margin of 36 Inches.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

(Figures on next page.)

Bill Paschal, who was just one of several war time rookies when the National Football league teams went to training camp last fall, never will forget how valuable 1 yard can be in a football game, or a season for that matter.

Bill Paschal.

By the margin of 36 inches the young man from Georgia Tech won the 1943 league ground gaining championship from Jack Hinkle, a second year back with the Philadelphia Eagles in the league's closest race in history in that field of endeavor. Paschal, New York Giant full back, and Hinkle each hold honorable discharges from the army air corps.

Two Yards in the Mud.

While the Giants were playing the Detroit Lions in the mud on Nov. 7 the New Yorkers needed a sure fire plunger for a much needed first down. On the Giant physician's orders Paschal, injured, was sitting out the game. But he sneaked into action long enough to buck for 2 yards. This subrosa play was the one which actually netted him the championship, altho young William had no thoughts of being the league's best until he started piling thru the Washington Redskins in the three final games of the season. Against the Redskins on Dec. 5 he gained 188 yards, high in 1943 for a single game.

Paschal had 572 yards in 147 attempts for a 3.9 average. Hinkle ripped for 571 yards in 116 thrusts for a 4.9 average. Harry Clark of the Bears who was the best, or almost the best, at doing things with a football under his arm, was third with 556 yards in 120 tries. His average was 4.6. Fourth was the veteran Ward Cuff, now in the army. The New York Giant star ran 80 times for 523 yards and the best average of the leaders, 6.5 yards.

Bears Yield to Phil.-Pitt.

The Chicago Bears, perennial leaders in ground gaining, yielded to Phil.-Pitt., which ground out 1,730 yards in 459 attempts. The champions rolled up 1,651 yards in 424 chances, thus outaveraging Phil.-Pitt., 3.89 to 3.76. The fact they finished second to the eastern club is no indictment of the Bears, who were pass conscious last season.

Dante Magnani of the Bears raced 79 yards against Brooklyn for the longest touchdown run from scrimmage. Don Hutson forgot his role as pass catcher long enough to average 6.8, best in the league, in six runs from scrimmage.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

THERE long has been a tendency on the part of employes who work in the local room of a newspaper to make light of the responsibilities of the men in the sports department. . . . They feel that readers buy a paper for war news, political guessing, reports of sensational crimes, etc. . . . This department, of course, has contended that items of that character make an ideal cover for the body of the newspaper—the sports pages. . . . We believe we now have factual evidence to back it up. . . . Those of us whose daily work is in sports, in peace and in war time, often are chided about being too close to our trade. . . . It is suspected, perhaps, that we appraise sports interest with magnifying glasses, despite the size of crowds which turn out whenever there is an event of above average attraction. . . . Most newspapers make frequent surveys, calculated to find out what people do or do not like about their journal. . . . There is none, it seems to us, that indicates a trend more accurately than a detailed report of telephone inquiries. . . . The person who makes a telephone call to a newspaper is more than casually interested in his inquiry. . . . He goes to a phone, pays his coin, and asks a specific question. . . . The telephone department of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE keeps a meticulous record of all inquiries made on every subject. . . . Thru the courtesy of Miss Anne Garrow, manager of The Tribune telephone department, we have the complete record for 1943. . . . It contains some startling totals—totals supplied by the telephone department, not the sports department, understand.

For the purposes of the moment we shall use requests for war news as a comparative listing, because it is constant and certainly above average general news inquiry. . . . Hold onto your hats, youse guys on the telegraph desk, city desk, and cable desk, because here we go. . . . January—War news, 5,617 calls; basketball, 5,530; hockey, 2,215; football, 1,300. . . . March—War news, 5,861 calls; basketball, 10,410; hockey, 6,815. . . . April—War news, 4,744; election returns, 15,100; baseball, 18,116; fight results, 1,435. . . . June—War news, 3,881; baseball, 64,400. . . . August—War news, 4,779; baseball, 92,775. . . . November—War news, 3,434; football, 68,453; hockey, 2,972. . . . These figures are the more impressive when you consider that hundreds of thousands of young men who normally would be making telephone calls on sports topics are now in military service. . . . However, they still ask their questions by V-mail or other means of communication, as any sports editor can attest.

Miss Garrow's report included other interesting sports data. . . . On June 20, 1943, for example, more than 1,000 inquiries were received as to whether or not the White Sox game would be played that day. . . . The weather was threatening. . . . The average sports page reader may not be able to rattle off quickly what Latin verbs take the ablative, but he knows what he wants in news. . . . None of this, "it is reported from sources that usually are reliable," goes with him. . . . He wants the score, not just a guess.

OHIO'S HAWAIIAN SWIM STAR WILL DEFEND 2 TITLES

Nakama Carries Buckeye Hopes in Big 10 Meet.

Little Keo Nakama, Hawaiian free style star on Ohio State's swimming team, will attempt to duplicate his record breaking performances of last year at the Big Ten conference championship meet in Northwestern's Patten pool Saturday. Nakama set new records in winning the 220 and 440 yard crawl events.

Ronnie Trumble.

Every member of the great Buckeye team of last year which won both the conference and national collegiate titles is in military service except Nakama, who was rejected because of lack of height. Nakama and Bob Stone, freshman diver, constitute the Ohio State entry for this year's meet.

Merton Church Returns.

Merton Church of Michigan, winner of the 50 yard free style last year, is the only other defending champion returning. Church is one of four lettermen who make the Wolverines a heavy favorite to capture the title. The other veterans are Ace Cory, Chuck Fries, and John McCarthy, all free stylers.

Northwestern, which won all of its dual meets except the two with Michigan, has several potential individual champions in Ronnie Trumble, diving, and Bob Tribble, backstroke. Both are undefeated. Jim Gamble, free style, and John Walsh, breast stroke, are other Purple contenders.

Only Maroons Are Missing.

All conference schools will be represented except Chicago. Preliminaries will be held Saturday morning with finals scheduled for Saturday night starting at 7:30.

Warriors Lose in Milwaukee Upset, 42-38

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 16 [Special].—Camp Grant's basketball team suffered a 42 to 38 defeat tonight at the hands of the Allen Bradley company industrial quintet to mark the fourth loss of the season for the Warriors. Camp Grant, earlier in the season, defeated the Allen Bradley quintet, 60 to 35, in a game played in Rockford.

Camp Grant led, 10 to 6, at the end of the first quarter; 25 to 16 at the half, and 30 to 29 at the end of the third quarter. However, in the final quarter the Allen Bradley team rallied and the Warriors were unable to find the range on the basket. Lineups:

LIST OF ENTRIES MAY TOP 1943 TOTAL OF 110

Platter Named for $75,000 Race.

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN.

Platter, the Pimlico Futurity winner, rated by many observers the most promising 2 year old of 1943 despite a record of but two victories in seven starts, heads the list of nominations for the 70th running of the Kentucky Derby, according to advices from Louisville, Ky., home of the tradition-laden event which will be run this year on May 6. Nominations closed last midnight.

Some doubt had existed that George D. Widener, Philadelphia sportsman, would name Platter for the Derby because of an aversion to early spring racing for thorobreds, but it was announced at the Erdenheim farm in Pennsylvania yesterday that both Platter and Lucky Draw will be given the opportunity to run in the $75,000 fixture.

They'll Race in Chicago, Too.

Platter didn't fare so well in his earlier races last year, but did demonstrate stamina and an apparent liking for the longer events. After being beaten five straight times, the son of Pilate-Let's Dine, the latter a descendant of Jack High, once the holder of the American record for the mile, hit a winning stride, taking the mile and one-sixteenth Pimlico Futurity in the mud, and the Walden Stakes, also a mile and a sixteenth. In both races Platter came from far back at the stretch turn and ran over his field.

The subscription list for the race is likely to exceed last year's, when 110 thorobreds were named, but the full roster of 3 year old nominees will not be made public for three weeks. However, the names of Occupy, Belmont Futurity winner, and the fillies Durazna, Harriet Sue, and Miss Keeneland are reported in the hopper. The list also is almost sure to include such stars as Olympic Zenith, Gay Bit, Weyanoke, Pensive, Black Badge, Alorter, Jezrahel, Rodney Stone, and Director J. E.

Standout May Emerge.

These are the horses which are most likely to figure in the outcome of most of the nation's major 3 year old races this year, including the rich Chicago events, the Arlington Classic and Washington Park Derby.

There's no Count Fleet, no Alsab, no Whirlaway, no Bimelich in the lot and that fact alone will tend to make the Kentucky Derby a wide open affair. But as has often been the case, some 2 year olds emerge from mediocrity as 3 year olds and good ones improve.

Occupy, off his record for races and money won in 1943, ranked as the champion 2 year old, but his status is uncertain. Then there's Pukka Gin, highly regarded by many eastern horsemen, and Dance Team, which showed exceptionally well as a 2 year old.

And a Hawaiian Colt!

Ben Jones may have a sleeper in Pensive, owned by the Calumet Farms. It was raced sparingly in 1943, but could be the star of the year at distance routes. Director J. E. is another which may show his best beyond a mile and Henry Lustig, owner of the Longchamps stable, may have something in Professor Lee.

Among other colts of prominence, based on what they did as 2 year olds, are Royal Prince, Rodney Stone, Stymie, By Jimminy, Bellweather, Smolensko, Boy Knight, Tropea, Pressure, and Dustman.

A Hawaiian nominee, Kope Kona, a bay colt which never has started, Honolulu being closed to racing since the start of the war, was the first announced nominee and has been stabled at Churchill Downs since January.

REPORT NAZIS HAVE DEPORTED SKI CHAMPION

New York, Feb. 16 (AP).—The Swedish newspaper Afton Tidningen said in an article reported today to OWI that the Nazis had deported Birger Ruud, Olympic ski jumping champion, who was placed in a concentration camp in Norway last February.

Birger Ruud.

The newspaper said Ruud had been shipped to Germany, adding:

"They dare not liquidate Ruud and, as he doggedly refused to listen to German proposals, they wanted him far from home."

Ruud, with his two brothers, Sigmund and Asbjorn, the five Haanes brothers, and 18 other Norwegian skiers were arrested by the Nazis in February, 1943, for "arranging illegal skiing contests for the unofficial Norwegian championships" and placed in a concentration camp at Grini. Most of the athletes were released during the spring and summer.

CLEVELAND HAS NEW GLOVES ACE

Joey Salcone Is Bantam with Everything.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Cleveland, long a synonym for Golden Gloves excellence, already has assembled another powerful team for the annual Tournament of Champions in the Chicago Stadium on Feb. 28 and 29 and March 1.

On that always formidable squad from Ohio is 16 year old Joey Salcone of Warren, O. Joseph is right happy about his role as the bantamweight representative of the Cleveland Plain Dealer crew. He knows that in order to go on to the championship finals in the Stadium ring on March 10, he must battle his way thru the best 118 pounders from 28 other cities, and he's fit and ready for the job.

Challenge from High Seas.

Joey has another problem, however. It was presented in the form of a letter handed to him on the night of Feb. 4, after he had won the Cleveland bantamweight championship. The dark haired Italian-American youngster has not yet reached the status of a fan mail recipient, but after reading the V-mail missive, he announced he would do all in his fistic power to fulfill its terms.

The letter, in part, follows:

"I'm out on the high seas, but my thoughts today are with the Golden Gloves in Cleveland. I don't know who is favored to win in the bantamweight division and it doesn't make much difference, but please tell the eventual winner that if he doesn't take all the titles in sight, he'll have to settle with me after this 'big fight' is over."

Held Letter in Reserve.

Salcone looked at the signature, "Troy Bellini," and that was enough. He recalled that he had seen Bellini fight a number of times in Warren before he himself

KLEIN PLANNING COMEBACK WITH PHILLIES AT 38

Former Slugger One of Team's Coaches.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP).—Coach Chuck Klein of the Phillies, once one of the National league's greatest sluggers, plans to make a comeback during 1944.

The 38 year old outfielder figures he can play in 75 or more games provided he can condition himself. Last year he hoped to play quite a number of games, but Trainer Doc Bruce's commando tactics, he says, were too much for him.

TWO PIRATES SIGN.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP).—Pitcher Nick Strincevich and Outfielder Jim Russell have returned their signed contracts to the Pirates, the Pittsburgh baseball club announced today.

Strincevich mailed his 1944 contract from his home town of Gary, Ind., where he has been working in a steel mill. Russell came to Pittsburgh from his home town of Fayette City, Pa., between shifts of his war plant job to affix his signature.

This is the third time the Pirates have brought Strincevich back since they optioned him out following his purchase from the Boston Braves nearly three years ago. The big right hander was with Toronto last season and played a major part in the Maple Leafs' capture of the International league pennant. He won 15 and lost 7.

Russell, who is 4-F in the draft, came to the Pirates last season from Toronto.

VANDER MEER AWAITS CALL.

Wyckoff, N. J., Feb. 16 (AP).—Johnny VanderMeer, Cincinnati pitcher, whose three week post-induction furlough expired today, still is awaiting a call to active duty from the navy.

MARSHALL FIVE HOPES TO BUILD STRING UP TO 101

BY MARK COX.

The first 100 games are the hardest! There's no doubt about it in the mind of Lou Weintraub, director of prep basketball's longest known winning streak of 94 games by Marshall's junior group, but he'd prefer 101, if it's all the same.

It's not greed that prompts Lou to set up this new goal, just a desire to see his Commandos add a fifth City league title and second city-wide coronet to their collection of consecutive triumphs dating back to December of 1939.

Tough Path Ahead.

Lou's never become accustomed to seeing those little fellows lose since adding the basketball coaching to his baseball directing duties at Marshall five years back, and he doesn't feel this is the time to start. The Commandos have two games remaining before capturing the necessary nine contests to win the west section honors and then advancing into the play-offs which open the first week of March.

If they are successful in carrying on against the top flight assortment in the north and west sectional play-offs, they'll face the select representatives from the central and south regional competition. A triumph in the final of the four play-off games then would net No. 100 and furnish them the privilege of advancing into the meeting with the winner of the Catholic league in quest of 101 and a subsequent second successive city-wide championship.

However, Weintraub doesn't possess that same satisfactory sense he's carried into the four previous play-offs, simply because he feels this is the poorest team of the five, but he insists "my boys" have as good a chance as any one else.

All New Team.

The first reason for the present group's questionable strength is that none of the members was good enough to fit into last year's pattern. Dave Levitan was back from the 1943 quintet that captured the first all city contest last year, but he was graduated at midsemester.

The present lineup is sparked by Forwards Ray Lowy and Arnold Greenstein, who average better than 10 points apiece. To use Coach Lou's words, their strong points are making points. Hub of the attack is Irving Hartman, a rugged rebounder, and he is flanked by Guards Orville Shane and Julius Davis.

Had Close Call.

In pointing out the present team's vulnerability, Weintraub cites the Crane game of three weeks ago when the Commandos came within a quarter of losing—a new situation from where he sits on the juniors' coaching bench. But, sure enough, Marshall overcame a tie that existed at the start of the period and went on to win by 10 points.

The Commando commander has gone a long way in exploiting the junior type of basketball with his boys' sensational streak, and it now has reached the point where Marshall students will resort to most any end to stay within the height requirements of 5 feet 7 inches. In the days when weight was the determining factor he's seen boys jog and drill by the hour to make the limit, but he still gets a laugh out of the youngster who heard you were an inch shorter at night than in the morning so never went to bed the evening before the November measurements.

MARILYN QUINN CAST AS STAR IN SKATING REVUE

One of the new stars in "Ice-Capades of 1944," coming to the Chicago Arena Feb. 29, is Marilyn Quinn of Syracuse, N. Y. The 17 year old ingenue of the ice, who already has won the national junior championship in Madison Square Garden, was rated the foremost contender for American women's fancy skating supremacy when the outbreak of war canceled competition.

Marilyn joined the cast of "Ice-Capades" and is billed as "Junior Miss." The youngster exhibits a combination of acrobatics and rhythm on ice.

Madison A. C. to Be Host to Milwaukee Ring Team

A Milwaukee amateur boxing team will meet Madison Athletic club representatives in the Madison arena tomorrow. The invaders will include Jack De Spar, 160 pounds; Harold Williams, 152; Earl Moder, 147, and Leonard Love and Leroy Dornecker, each 135.

A Lesson in Mathematics

These Marshall High school juniors have won 94 successive basketball games and are hoping they can run the string to 101. That would give them another City league title. Coach Lou Weintraub is pointing out the process by which their goal can be reached, but the boys aren't so sure it's all as simple as that. The players are (seated, left to right) Ray Lowy, Jackie Brazier, and Arnie Greenstein. Standing (same order) are Irv Hartman, Orv Shane, and Juji Davis. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Meister Braus Roll 3,201 in Classic Circuit

Altho the Washington Shirt bowlers won two games over the National Bowling Equipment team to take sole leadership of the second half Classic league race on the Logan Square Recreation alleys last night, the big noise was made by the Meister Braus, city champions, who compiled a 3201 series in winning two over Thompson's Restaurants.

Every member of the Meister Braus rolled more than 600 to pace 16 of the 30 league bowlers who hit that total or better. Joe Sinke's 223, 230, 254—707 led the team and the league for the night. The Meisters went into a three way tie with Thompson's and Monarch Beers for second place as a result.

The Monarch Beers totaled 3025 to win two games over the United States Brewery team with the aid of Dick Winsberg's 675 series. Scores:

CLEVELAND HAS A BOY WONDER IN GOLDEN GLOVES

had ever seen the inside of a gymnasium.

"If I can fight just one-tenth as well as Troy did, I'll be satisfied," was Joe's promise to Sports Editor Sam Otis and Alex Zirin, the Plain Dealer's boxing expert. They had received Bellini's letter several days before the Cleveland finals, but had pigeonholed it until the tournament was over, with the thought of spurring on their bantamweight winner.

Young Salcone, a junior at Harding High in Warren, will need no further incentive than the Bellini letter. Without being aware of it, he conducted his campaign with the knowledge that he was following in the footsteps of such great Cleveland Golden Glovers as Jesse Levels, Ted Kara, Don Gonzalez, Tony Janiro, Jackie Wilson, and of course, Bellini.

Recall Bellini's Exploits.

For the benefit of new Golden Gloves enthusiasts, it should be emphasized that Bellini was one of the best and most popular youngsters ever to fight in Golden Gloves. As a 118 pounder from Cleveland in 1934, Troy was a sensation in the Tournament of Champions and the National A. A. U. event. He then went on to whip the champion of Poland in the International Golden Gloves bouts. Right now, after having participated in the North Africa landing, he carries a navy rating of pharmacist's mate, and is somewhere in the North Atlantic.

Troy's 1944 counterpart is distinguished by his reticence, but there's no holding his trainer, Jack Thompson, a Warren city fireman who was a top flight professional welterweight several years ago.

Trainer Lauds Salcone.

"I've handled dozens of fighters in the last few years, but Joey tops 'em all, in willingness and natural ability," Thompson said recently. "The kid loves the game and he's probably the easiest boy to train I've ever had. He wouldn't know how to break training if I asked him to do so."

Salcone prepared for his job in the Tournament of Champions by whipping Paul Reed of Akron. The latter, a former novice champion who has since been honorably discharged from the army chemical warfare division, was rated the favorite over Joey off of his experience, but the Warren boy, who hasn't been beaten in 20 fights, pitched a peck of left hooks at Reed's chin and won the decision.

Joey also holds two decisions over a teammate, Rudy Molinaro, who will be the Cleveland 112 pound standard bearer. They're the only two bouts Rudy has lost.

MICKENS MAKES CHICAGO BOXING DEBUT MONDAY

Gene Mickens, Fort Wayne, Ind. heavyweight, will make his Chicago debut in a six round bout against Pug Wilson of Gary in Marigold Gardens Monday.

MORE ELASTIC PACTS USED BY UNDERWRITERS

U. S. Criticism Gets Quick Response.

BY CHARLES GOTTHART.

Investment bankers, concerned over a government threat to the legality of their historic underwriting agreements, began operating under a new set of rules yesterday as they resumed large scale corporate financing that had been held up during the fourth war loan drive.

Agreements under which more than 60 million dollars of securities were offered the public underwent modification from former practice, and in some respects the changes were significant to the public as well as the banking fraternity.

Most significant was the elimination of the syndicate agreement that the original offering price of some of the issues be maintained for a specified period, such as 30 days.

More Discretion Permitted.

Participating investment houses were given more discretion in altering the original price to meet changing market conditions and thereby more readily sell alloted portions of bond and stock issues. The modification was adopted in some of the agreements because of a department of justice assertion Saturday that the agreements followed for years were in violation of anti-trust laws.

The department took this stand in a case before the securities and exchange commission and maintained that penalties imposed by the National Association of Securities Dealers on six members for failure to adhere to price agreements were illegal. The case may not be determined finally until it reaches the United States Supreme court, but some of the new underwriting agreements were modified as a precautionary measure.

Biggest of the offerings yesterday was 40 million dollars of Phillips Petroleum company 2¾ per cent debentures, marketed at 101 and accrued interest thru a banking group headed by the First Boston corporation. The corporation later announced that orders had been received "considerably in excess of the amount of debentures reserved for the selling group." Altho the bankers declined formal comment on any change in policy, the success of the offering indicated none of the syndicate members had deviated from the announced price.

Utility's Shares Marketed.

Another offering was 400,000 shares of Central Illinois Electric and Gas company common stock of $15 par value, marketed at 19⅛ by a syndicate including Allen & Co. and Bear, Stearns & Co. of New York. This enabled public participation in the utility's voting stock for the first time since control was vested in the Consolidated Electric and Gas company, which is now disposing of the stock.

The syndicate obtained the issue at competitive bidding ordered by the SEC, and upset reported plans of a group headed by the Central Republic company of Chicago to obtain the issue thru private negotiation and offer the stock at 18½.

Masonite corporation entered the market with an offering of 60,790 common shares at 40½ thru a banking group headed by Blythe & Co. Masonite, large producer of hardwood, announced the funds would be used to expand its operations.

Hooker Electrochemical company, New York, offered 50,000 shares of $4.25 cumulative preferred stock at $100 a share thru a banking group headed by Smith, Barney & Co. Of the proceeds, $1,410,030 will be added to working capital after redeeming outstanding first mortgage bonds and 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock.

County Securities Offered.

Cook county securities totaling $7,500,000 were offered by Seipp, Princell & Co. at prices to yield 0.80 to 1.40 per cent for 1¾s, according to maturity, and 1.60 to 2 per cent for 2½s. The bonds are being issued to retire an equal amount of general obligation indebtedness.

Harriman Ripley & Co., Inc., heads a group offering today 75,000 shares of West Indies Sugar corporation $1 par common stock owned by the National City Bank of New York at 19⅞. This stock represents the remainder of 470,178 shares originally registered, the other 395,178 having been publicly offered last May.

The SEC authorized the Florida Power corporation to issue and sell at competitive bidding 16½ million dollars of first mortgage bonds and sell privately 4 millions of 3¼ per cent debentures to the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance company.

Mokan Plans Stock Trade for Panhandle

Directors of Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company [Mokan] yesterday recommended to stockholders approval of a plan under which they would be offered, first, the right to buy part of Mokan's majority holdings of 531,638 shares of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line company common stock at $30 a share; and, second, to exchange their Mokan shares for remaining Panhandle shares in Mokan's treasury.

The proposals will be voted upon at the annual meeting March 21 in Wilmington, Del.

Provides Debt Retirement.

The plan contemplates paying off Mokan's indebtedness of $5,050,000 to certain banks and insurance companies, secured by deposit of 372,147 Panhandle Eastern common shares. Mokan holders would get the right to buy one Panhandle share for each 10 common shares held or for each 200 B shares held.

After payment of the secured debt, stockholders would have the privilege of exchanging their stock for Panhandle Eastern on the basis of two Panhandle shares for each nine Mokan common shares or each 180 B shares, or for any equivalent combination of common and B shares.

Exchange Offer Optional.

The company's announcement explained that exchange under the plan, if it is ratified, would be optional with each stockholder until April 15, 1945, and that voting for its adoption would in no way require a holder to exercise the exchange privilege.

It added that "because of the attractive price at which the Panhandle Eastern shares are being offered to Mokan stockholders, the directors did not deem it necessary to have the offering underwritten."

Over-the-counter brokers yesterday quoted Panhandle Eastern at 39 bid, 41 asked.

B. & O. SETS ASIDE 9 MILLIONS FOR BOND INTEREST

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 16 (AP).—The Baltimore and Ohio railroad's board of directors has appropriated $9,612,858 of the carrier's 1943 income to pay on March 15 the contingent interest on the several issues of system bonds, Roy B. White, president, announced today.

White explained that with this distribution, all interest made contingent under the company's plan for modification of interest charges and maturities, dated Aug. 15, 1938, and accrued to Dec. 31, 1943, will be paid. Under the 1938 program the interest was payable on or before May 1.

GRAIN FUTURES CLOSE HIGHER, INFLUENCED BY RISE AT WINNIPEG

Grain prices rallied near the close of trading yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade after an early break to a new low for a month. Short covering was the principal factor in the upturn. Rye led in activity and closed ⅝ to ⅞ cent a bushel higher after dipping 1 cent early. Wheat was ⅛ cent lower to ¼ cent higher. Oats gained ¼ to ½ cent and barley finished 1 to 1⅜ cents higher.

The rally had its inception in strength in Winnipeg where shorts were reported to have tried to cover in a narrow market and ran prices up about 2 cents from the early low.

Canada Fears Post-War Air Orphan's Role

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—Canada, whose territory will be traversed by many important world air routes after the war, is apprehensive of domination by England and the United States in international aviation matters and will make no commitments until the intentions of those countries are known, a Canadian government official told THE TRIBUNE today.

"Our greatest fear in international aviation is that we will be smothered in the capacious bosoms of our two greatest friends, England and the United States," he said. "Consequently, we are not committing ourselves to either country and we will form no policies until we know what they intend to do."

Operations Are Extensive.

Canada has a flourishing aviation industry, with the government-owned Trans-Canada Airlines operating from coast to coast. Several private companies fly north-south routes between the population centers in the southern part of the dominion and mining and trading centers in the far north.

Post-war international air operations from Canada may be limited to TCA, the official said. He emphasized, however, that his government so far is not committed to the "chosen instrument" policy under which rights to all such operations would be given to one company.

Expected to Confer Soon.

Granting the right of passage over her territory to foreign air carriers will be the chief bargaining asset of Canada in discussing post-war aviation with the United States and England.

Representatives of the three countries are expected to meet in Washington soon.

Owner Unable to Sell Road as SEC Directs

Unsuccessful efforts of Illinois Power company to dispose of the Illinois Terminal railroad, a subsidiary, in compliance with an order of the securities and exchange commission, were disclosed to the company's stockholders yesterday in its annual report. The SEC order, originally issued in 1942, gave Illinois Power until April 14, 1944, to divest itself of the railroad.

The holding company act of 1935 provided that an order of this nature shall be complied with within one year, but the commission is empowered to extend the time for another year. If the property should not be sold by April 14, the situation may present new problems under the "death sentence" act requiring some special action by the SEC.

Operate 470 Miles of Lines.

The terminal railroad, which operates 470 miles of steam and electric lines in central Illinois, is carried on Illinois Power's books at $47,855,028, which is "substantially in excess of probable current realizable amounts," the company conceded.

"Possible purchasers of the property are railroads serving adjacent territory," the report said. "None has indicated any desire to negotiate; in fact, the two most logical purchasers approached by the company said definitely they had no interest in the purchase."

Investment bankers have advised the company that an advantageous public offering of the railroad's securities did not seem possible, the report said.

The railroad last year had a net income of $1,015,314, compared with $1,505,976 in 1942.

Parent Earns More.

The parent corporation, formerly Illinois Iowa Power company, reported the highest operating revenues in its history during the year ended Dec. 31, amounting to $26,710,863, and a net income of $3,276,019, compared with $2,979,769 in 1942.

American Woolen company's sales during 1943 decreased to $197,505,135 from $205,181,461 in 1942, but profit increased to $5,475,421, equal to $15.64 a preferred share, from $4,823,831, or $13.78 a preferred share. Back dividends on the preferred stock at the close of 1943 amounted to $72.75 a share.

The earnings for both 1943 and 1942 were after provision of 2 million dollars for war contingencies, and in 1943 of 2 million dollars for contract renegotiation, compared with $2,580,000 in the preceding year. Federal taxes totaled 27 million dollars during 1943, compared with $26,870,000 a year earlier.

CHICAGO FUNDS BACK MEXICAN TRADE GROWTH

Glore Heads Group in New Venture.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Chicago capital is taking part in a new commercial enterprise engaged in industrial and business activities in Mexico, it was disclosed yesterday. The venture marks an important departure from earlier practices in foreign development in that Mexican capital will participate with American capital on a 50-50 basis and Mexican citizens will operate companies owned by the enterprise. It is expected to strengthen Chicago's position as a foreign trade center.

Charles F. Glore.

Charles F. Glore, senior partner of Glore, Forgan & Co., Chicago investment house, heads a group of Chicagoans and others who have invested in the Mexican development as a personal venture. Heading the Mexican group is Salvador Ugarte, chairman of the board of the Banco de Comercio, Mexico City.

Capitalized at 1 Million.

The operation is carried on by a Mexican firm named Impulsora Comercial e Industrial, S. A., which means Industrial and Commercial Development company. The firm is similar to the private banking companies which formerly operated in the United States and which helped develop industry in this country. It is known in Mexico as a financiera.

The authorized capital of the company is 5 million pesos [approximately 1 million dollars], of which 2,500,000 pesos [$500,000] has been paid in—half by Americans and half by Mexicans. Ugarte is the president.

Altho the company already is operating a number of interests in Mexico, the largest expansion is expected to take place after the war. Difficulty of obtaining machinery, equipment, materials, and other items needed for the various activities because of the war is delaying some of the company's objectives, and a substantial part of its previous effort has been in preparation for the post-war period.

The Impulsora [as the company is known] has acquired Kalb, Moran & Co., Mexico City, a stock brokerage house. It has merged four flour companies into one company and is engaged in electric light bulb, acid resisting glass, and some other lines of manufacture.

Under the program set up for the venture Mexicans will supply management for the various activities and Americans will supply technical knowledge and "direction" for the enterprises.

Predicts Trade Expansion.

Under the program companies controled by Impulsora will be entirely Mexican and consequently will be operated under the protection of Mexican tariff and other laws. Nearby profits, if any, will be reinvested and the Americans look for their profit in the future growth and development.

"Enterprises such as ours should help to strengthen Mexico industrially and commercially, helping to bring about an improvement in the standard of living for the people," Glore said. "Expansion in Mexico should be followed by expansion in business relations between that country and the United States."

Suppliers for Army Warned of Impending Slash in Prices

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—Contractors supplying the army were warned today by Brig. Gen. Browning, director of army purchases, that the war department will force a reduction in the prices it is paying for war materials.

Asserting at a press conference that "we feel convinced that if we can put increased pressure on prices it will tend to raise production, Gen. Browning said manufacturers would do well to familiarize themselves with army pricing methods and policies.

Bomber Prices Slashed.

Slashes in the cost of the B-24 bomber, the 50 caliber machine guns, and light tanks that have been effected in the last two years he gave as examples of what other manufacturers must expect. He said the army air forces recently contracted for 4,500 B-24 bombers at a price of $137,000 each, compared with a price of $238,000 each for 1,200 B-24 bombers placed with the same firm two years ago. On this one contract alone the army saved 450 million dollars, he said.

One contractor reduced his price on the 50 caliber machine gun 60 per cent, from $510 to $200 each, Gen. Browning reported. Light tank prices were cut from $45,000 to nearly $22,000 each within a year. As production of war materials is leveled off, contractors effecting these reductions will get the army's business; others will be dropped, he warned.

"Tightening up on contractors

thru prices does the same as competition during peace time," Gen. Browning said.

An average overall reduction in the last two years of 20 per cent in the prices of items bought by the war department has resulted in saving of more than 9 billion dollars, Gen. Browning estimated.

He said the technical services of the army have been instructed by Lt. Gen. Somervell, commanding general of the army service forces, that by June 1 all contracts for repeat and continuation orders are to be placed at prices that can be exempted from renegotiation.

People and Events

J. V. Lanigan, passenger traffic manager of the Illinois Central railroad, announced yesterday that he will retire April 1 because of ill health. He organized the first all-expense tours ever conducted by a railroad; inaugurated the parking of Pullman sleeping cars for housing at large conventions, and originated the shipping of automobiles by freight for railroad passengers to use at their destinations. He started with the Illinois Central in 1906, and has held his present position since 1927.

Albert A. Epstein, assistant regional wage stabilization director of the WLB, will discuss the effect of the extended work week on wage stabilization tonight at a dinner of the Office Management Association of Chicago, in the dining room of the Chicago Real Estate board.

2 MILLION TONS OF METALS ARE GIVEN CARRIERS

Largest Allotment Since War Began.

The war production board has allotted 2 million tons of steel, copper, and aluminum for domestic transportation during the second quarter of 1944, including metal to build 18,500 freight cars and to roll 550,000 tons of new rail, the office of defense transportation, claimant agency under the controled materials plan, announced yesterday.

The allotment was the largest for any quarter since the war started, the ODT said, and amounted to 1,812,000 tons of carbon steel, plus proportionate amounts of alloy steel and the other metals, or 94.5 per cent of the amount asked by it. Allotment of carbon steel for the first quarter this year was 1,538,645 tons.

Allots Full Rail Tonnage.

The WPB allotted for the first time the full ODT request for tonnage for rail. Track accessories totaling 29,500 tons were approved, in addition to further amounts for frogs, switches, and other products. The request for materials for 25,000 freight cars was cut to 18,500, which the WPB said was the maximum capacity of car builders.

ODT officials said carriers have placed orders falling "far short" of the car makers' capacity, and that unless they expedite orders the materials and capacity available will not be fully utilized.

Increase Auto Parts Steel.

The ODT's entire request for 137,000 tons of carbon steel for automotive replacement parts was granted, a 47 per cent increase over the 93,000 tons allowed for the first quarter.

"While this is expected to improve the parts situation in the next few months, production difficulties on critical engine, transmission, and axle parts still are being met," ODT said.

PROFIT SELLING CAUSES UNEVEN STOCK MARKET

Rally in Carriers, Oils Is Cut Short.

New York, Feb. 16 (AP).—The stock market turned uneven today under a burden of profit cashing that crushed attempts to advance under the leadership first of rails, then of oils. Transactions decreased to 871,750 shares.

Carrier shares were in demand at higher prices in early dealings, then persistent selling brought a decline. The Associated Press rail average was 0.2 lower.

The petroleum rally was short lived but helped a few of the lower priced issues fractionally. Many prominent industrials, some of which advanced during the forenoon, declined at the close.

Altho some interests again remained aloof, underlying investment was buoyed by a flow of dividend reports. American Telephone, off slightly after the start, finished ahead ⅛ at 157⅝ after declaration of the regular quarterly payment of $2.25 a share.

BOND MARKET UNEVEN.

New York, Feb. 16 (AP).—The recently strong rail division of the bond market was mixed today and active profit selling accounted for many closing declines of fractions to a point or more after new gains in the early dealings.

Reflecting steep advances in some issues of the Illinois Central and one or two other systems the Associated Press rail average climbed to a new seven year high at 85.6.

Total market dealings were $19,724,000 compared with yesterday's $25,821,800.

CHICAGO STOCKS RISE.

Prices again moved higher on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday altho trading volume declined to 20,000 shares. Four issues closed at new 1943-'44 peaks: American Public Service preferred, up ¼; McCord Radiator, up 3; Consumers company A, up 1, and Aetna Ball Bearing, up ¼. Illinois Central, the volume leader, closed ⅛ lower. Other active stocks included Commonwealth Edison and Chicago corporation common, unchanged, and New York Central, down ⅛.

STRICT CONTROL PUT ON OUTPUT OF HEAVY TIRES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16 (AP).—Tightened controls on the manufacture of heavy tires for trucks, buses, tractors, and farm implements were announced today by Rubber Director Dewey, acting to alleviate a severe shortage of heavy duty tires for military and industrial transport.

New regulations require "claimant agencies" such as the war and navy departments for military tires, the war food administration for farm tires, and the office of defense transportation for civilian truck and bus tires—to submit estimates of their needs for each three month period to the office of the rubber director.

Dewey will allocate tire quotas to the agencies in much the way that the WPB allocates critical metals to them. Immediately afterward, Dewey will issue a directive to each tire manufacturer giving him a production schedule covering all the types of tires he will produce.

HOG PRICES SAG ALTHO RECEIPTS CONTINUE LIGHT

The market for hogs eased yesterday when buyers balked at recent increases above the $13.75 a hundred pounds floor price. Despite continued small volume packers bought many light butchers as much as 5 to 10 cents lower.

Both the top and average moved down 5 cents, to $13.95 and $13.65. Only one load averaging 215 pounds brought the top price. Nearly all good 260 to 330 pounders offered brought $13.75, with the clearance complete early in the forenoon for all farmer owned stock.

Lambs sold steady to 10 cents higher, with the top at $16.60 equaling the highest since last April.

Weakness was apparent in many cattle sales.

NEW EMPLOYES CREATE STORAGE FIRMS' PROBLEM

The storage industry is confronted with the problem of a large number of inexperienced employes, Defense Transportation Director Eastman told the second war time warehousing industry conference yesterday in the Edgewater Beach hotel. The transportation industry, which will have a bigger load this year than last, faces the same problem, he said.

Eastman said the for-hire carriers were having difficulties, particularly financial, but asserted the nation must not lose their services. He asked the storage operators to aid the truckers in their operations.

Electric Range Output Set at 22,000 for Six Months

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16 (AP).—Production of 22,000 electric ranges for military, federal housing and essential civilian needs during the last half of 1944 was scheduled today by the WPB. Manufacture of the cooking appliances will not be permitted in plants where production would interfere with the completion of other war work.

Johnson & Johnson Plant Gets 3d Star for 'E' Flag

The Chicago surgical dressing plant of Johnson & Johnson today will be the first to fly three stars on its army-navy "E" pennant in the Clearing industrial district, the district announced yesterday.

RADIO PROGRAM WILL DRAMATIZE BABY'S GROWTH

The Human Adventure program has as its subject for tonight "The Growth of a Baby" and will detail in dramatic form Dr. Arnold Gesell's researches into this subject. The program is broadcast by W-G-N with the coöperation of the University of Chicago at 7:30 p. m. every Thursday.

Since radio studios don't ordinarily admit children under 6 [unless they are Quiz Kids] Miss Nannette Sargent will gurgle, laugh, cry, and otherwise speak for the baby. Miss Sargent, who qualifies as a pretty baby herself, got her start playing the role of the bride in a production of "Tom Thumb's Wedding" when she was a mere 2 years old. She gave up the drama, however, a few years later and became a dancer. A fall and a fracture caused her to give up dancing and she turned to radio work a few years ago.

The venerable Oscar Strauss, now past 70, will appear as guest conductor of W-G-N-Mutual's Treasure Hour of Song at 8:30 tonight. Highlights from his newest operetta, "Do-Se-Do," will be given their radio premier.

The National Barn Dance troupe apparently has a hangover from St. Valentine's day: A "kiss party" has been scheduled for the Eighth Street theater hayloft session next Saturday. However, it turns out that they will not play postoffice. The songs will have to do with the subject of kissing.

RUSH WAR WORK HERE TO BEAT LABOR DEADLINE

March 1 Freeze by WMC Feared by Bureaus.

Chicago's volume of war production will be restricted virtually to March 1 levels if the war man power commission on that date designates the area as one of critical labor shortage, a WMC spokesman in Washington, D. C., said last night. At the same time, it was disclosed that the army, navy, and other procurement agencies were rushing war contracts into the Chicago area in fear of a No. 1 war worker scarcity classification. This technically would prevent manufacturers from accepting any contracts that could be placed elsewhere.

The Chicago Association of Commerce reported that, in the two weeks ending last Saturday, 174 contracts, totaling more than 15 million dollars, were rushed to Chicago plants. William H. Spencer, regional WMC director, said that the volume probably would keep up or even increase until March 1, when Chicago's classification for next month will be announced.

No Decision Until Feb. 25.

The Washington WMC representative asserted that statistics compiled by the agency in an intensive study of Chicago's labor supply and demand make it imperative that war contracts be diverted from the area until an adequate labor force had been mobilized to complete existing contracts on schedule.

Spencer said before leaving for Washington yesterday that the labor supply and demand ratio in Chicago was "not much better, if any, than a month ago." He emphasized, however, that no decision on Chicago's status would be made by WMC Chairman McNutt until after Feb. 25, when the survey will have been completed. Spencer will confer in the capital with McNutt and Guy Richardson, local transportation chief of the office of defense transportation, on Chicago's man power problems.

Chicago's Importance Realized.

It was learned that federal procurement agencies are interested in keeping Chicago out of the No. 1 classification because of the area's major importance as a war production center and the restrictions attendant upon a No. 1 listing. WMC sources in Chicago also predicted that if the area was reclassified its war contract volume would not suffer to any extent because Chicago had production facilities not available elsewhere.

The WMC Washington spokesman said that present man power recruiting programs being developed for Chicago by the regional WMC, Mayor Kelly, and industry eventually might balance the city's labor demand and supply.

Spencer said that a labor priorities plan to give certain industries and plants first call upon skilled labor and a system of trading workers among plants will be put into effect in Chicago within a month. He warned manufacturers that under this priorities program plants with a high rate of labor turnover will get the fewest new workers.

Labor Waste Condemned.

Spencer declared such plants wasteful economically and in the use of man power. They will be penalized in inverse ratio to the need for their products, he disclosed.

Lending of skilled workers by plants with a temporary surplus of help to those with an urgent need for additional man power will be carried out with full protection for the rights of worker and plant alike, he explained. Most union leaders have approved the plan, and workers on loan will be paid at least as much as they receive on their regular jobs, he added.

WLB APPROVES HIGHER PAY FOR 4,297 WORKERS

Pay adjustments, which will allow higher earnings, were granted to 4,297 employes of Chicagoland plants by the regional war labor board in decisions announced yesterday by Edgar L. Warren, new chairman of the board, who also said increases for 209 employes had been denied.

A straight increase of 5 cents an hour was given 1,000 members of the Chicago Electrotypers union No. 3, employed by 33 firms. Warren said the increases were permissible under the "little steel" formula. Journeymen will get $1.72½ cents an hour and helpers a fixed percentage. The raise is retroactive to Nov. 1, 1942.

Wages of 295 waiters, waitresses, kitchen men, and sales clerks in 67 railway camps and restaurants were raised to 50 cents an hour. They are employes of the John J. Grier company. No union was involved. Other decisions included:

Harley Smith and 11 tobacco processing firms in Wisconsin: 1,050 employes, no union. Scales of 45 to 60 cents an hour approved, compared with current pay of 38 to 50 cents.

Ohio Oil company and Oil Workers International Union, 285 Bridgeport workers affected. Increase of 10 cents an hour. Same for 493 workers at Wood River and Brownstown plants.

Eagle Roller Mill company, New Ulm, Minn., and 209 members of General Workers' union, AFL. Voluntary application for 5 cents an hour increase denied under "Little Steel" formula limits.

American Plywood corporation, New London, Wis., and carpenters' union, 223 workers to get 2½ cents an hour increase.

Bendix Home Appliance company, South Bend, Ind., and United Automobile workers, CIO, 581 members to benefit under new incentive plan.

Continental Electric company, Geneva, no union, 370 workers given new incentive plan.

Three Held to U. S. Jury on Alcohol Tax Charge

James Russo, 27, and Sam Serritella, 22, both of 249 W. 24th pl., and John P. Dispensa, 23, of 2919 Wentworth av., charged with possession of 40 gallons of untaxed alcohol, were held to the grand jury yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Anne Remus, 1716 Balmoral av.]

THE QUESTION.

What courtesy was extended to you by a stranger?

WHERE ASKED.

Michigan Square building, 540 N. Michigan av.

THE ANSWERS.

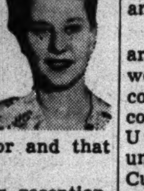
Mrs. Victoria Gernhofer, secretary, 5914 Madison st.—All that stood between me and a rapid exit from a Michigan av. bus was an elderly stranger who paid my fare. I boarded the bus, tried to ram what I thought was a dime into the coin receptacle, and discovered it was a new penny. I had a $10 bill, but the driver couldn't change it.

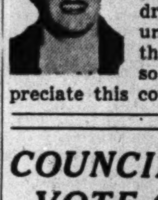
Franc Lengyel, industrial designer, 211 E. Ontario st.—As a child, waiting for a bus in Berlin, a policeman advised me to step into a nearby building so I wouldn't be so cold. Recently, when I was waiting for a Michigan av. bus on a windy day, a Chicago policeman showed me the same consideration.

Miss Margaret McCauley, industrial designer, 6383 Sheridan rd.—It was early spring, and I was dressed in my newest clothes. In typical Chicago fashion, a cloudburst occurred as I waited far from shelter for a bus. A woman let me share her umbrella, and really gave me most of it.

Martin Ressner, accountant, 540 N. Michigan av.—When riding street cars, buses, and the subway, I frequently become so absorbed in a newspaper that I miss my destination before I know it. In my rush to get off, I sometimes forget my briefcase. In every instance, a stranger has run after me to return it.



Miss Barbara Hartman, receptionist, 6734 Clyde av.—En route to work one day I lost my Illinois Central railroad ticket and when the collector came around I found I had no money either. A woman sitting next to me, a person I had never seen, paid the conductor and that is all there was to it.



Miss Frances McCahey, receptionist, 8843 Harper av.—Near my home there is a shuttle bus that does not stop at my house, but at night, and even on pleasant ones, the drivers halt at my uncharted stop, so that I will not have so far to walk. I appreciate this courtesy very much.

COUNCIL DELAYS VOTE ON PAPER MILK CARTONS

Objections of two aldermen yesterday deferred a vote in the city council on an ordinance amendment permitting the use of paper cartons for milk.

The matter was postponed to March 15, and in the meantime, public hearings will be held, if necessary.

In another action, the council, on Mayor Kelly's recommendation, enacted an ordinance protecting the civil service rights of city employes who leave their jobs to work in war plants. Their places are to be filled by temporary appointments.

Appointment of Virgil E. Gunlock as deputy commissioner of subways and super-highways also was approved.

EMPLOYERS TOLD WAY TO BAN CIO ELECTIONEERING

Employers who object to CIO political activities and fourth term electioneering by union members in their war plants may appeal to the regional war labor board to stop it, Edgar L. Warren, new regional chairman in Chicago, ruled yesterday.

"The board has never taken the stand that it can or should order a company to pay workers for activities other than production or operational in a plant, and I do not believe that it will do so," Warren said.

War Workers Complain.

He issued the statement after hearing that war workers were complaining about the CIO's political canvassing in Chicago region plants during working hours. The employes said CIO union shop stewards and other union committee members were asking them to sign in duplicate cards of a political nature.

They charged the union officials were devoting time to their political affiliations and said that, in some instances, arguments for a fourth term for President Roosevelt had been presented to them.

"Political or other activities of union members in their plants on company time," Warren said, "are matters between employer and union.

Approve If Both Agree.

"If both agree that an activity either may or may not be engaged in, the board's policy is to approve the agreement on the theory that the question is one of company, not board, concern and policy. The board, to my knowledge, never arbitrarily has ordered the inclusion of a permissive clause covering this activity.

"Most frequently the question of nonproductive activity during working hours comes before the board in old contracts up for renewal approval, both in disputes and voluntary agreement cases, and the board as a rule approves provisions of the expiring contracts on the theory that it is a matter both sides have previously agreed upon."

HEARINGS BEGUN ON PAY RAISE IN PACKING PLANTS

Hearings before a national war labor board panel for wage increases and other contract demands on behalf of 350,000 employes of the "Big Four" meat packing companies opened yesterday in the Morrison hotel. The packing companies involved are Swift, Wilson, Cudahy, and Armour.

Representatives of three unions are presenting the demands of the workers in the 80 plants of the companies located thruout the country. The unions are the CIO United Packinghouse Workers' union, the AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's union, and the independent National Brotherhood of Swift Employes. Atty. Daniel D. Carmell is presenting the AFL union's demands to the board.

The hearings are expected to continue several weeks. The unions are asking a 10 cent an hour wage increase with another 5½ cent hourly increase, retroactive to August, 1942, to adjust interplant differentials. Among other demands are an increase in the work week guaranty from 32 hours to 40 and 48 hours, and an additional 10 cents an hour for night workers.

Prof. Milton Handler of Columbia university is chairman of the panel. Other panel members are Fullerton Fulton, representing the CIO; Patrick Sullivan, AFL; G. E. Mordock Jr., industry, and W. C. Crowe, the independent union.

Blast in Kankakee Plant Injures 3 Women Workers

The army disclosed yesterday that a half pound block of TNT exploded in a press in the Kankakee ordnance plant Tuesday night, injuring three young women workers and damaging machinery. Pearl Chargon, 605 Lincoln st., Kankakee, still is being treated for burns in the plant hospital. The other victims, Evelyn Swanson, 835 Cleveland av., Kankakee, and Alice M. Taylor, Elwood, were less seriously hurt.

Appointment of city and county chairmen of the Red Cross War Fund campaign, which opens March 1, was announced yesterday by Martin H. Kennelly, general campaign chairman. Otto C. Doering will head the city division, composed of 108 committees, and H. T. East and George R. Mitten will serve as co-chairmen of the counties division, which includes the remainder of Cook county, Du Page county, and the southern half of Lake county.

Emphasis was placed on the organization's military and naval welfare service in talks by executives of the Chicago Red Cross chapter at a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce in Hotel Sherman yesterday. Miss Marie Youngberg, director of the service, told how the chapter's five centers served as liaison between service men and their families, advising authorities when emergency furloughs were advisable, and giving financial and other assistance to service men's families.

Mrs. James Cathcart, chairman of the volunteer service, related the activities of the eight divisions of that service, in which 92,650 volunteer workers donated 11,020,294 hours of work in 1943. James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter, and Joseph H. King, vice chairman, also spoke.

AXIS LED IN PLOT TO CRIPPLE U. S., ARMY MAN SAYS

But Dark Day Is Past, Tells Editors.

Axis plans to knock the United States out of the war before there was a chance to enter it by the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor almost succeeded, and it is frightening to consider how close the axis came to rendering this nation impotent, Col. John G. Salsman, supervisor of the midcentral procurement district, material command of the army air forces, said yesterday. He spoke at the 60th midwinter meeting of the Inland Daily Press association in the Hotel Sherman.

Col. Salsman said that Dec. 7, 1941, was the darkest day in American history—"much darker than any one was willing to admit at the time, and darker than most of us realize even now."

Miraculous Production Wins.

Since Pearl Harbor, he continued, labor, management, and the air forces material command have achieved a miraculous production victory that has given America the largest air force in the world. He disclosed that in September, 1939, when Hitler invaded Poland, the United States produced 117 planes, most of them obsolete before they took to the air.

"In September, 1943, the total was 7,598, and the monthly output now has climbed to about 9,000," said Col. Salsman. "Production of aircraft and aircraft equipment in 1944 must be increased by 75 per cent over the average of 1943, 25 per cent over the average of the last three months of the year."

Col. Salsman warned that the end of the war still is far away. He said that the second front in Europe is "in the not distant future."

Press Rallies Workers.

Col. Salsman told the press association members that they can help solve the man power problems of war industry by acquainting the public with the vital importance of the work to be done.

In praising management and labor for their achievements in converting industry to war production, the army officer criticized workers who from time to time have waged unlawful strikes. Altho the vast majority of labor union members have stayed at their posts, he asserted, war production is so closely integrated that any strike seriously impairs output.

New American Recalls Bonaparte's Misfortune

Leo Bennigsen, 40, who said he was a great great-grandson of Count Levin August Bennigsen, a Russian general who helped stop Napoleon, was naturalized yesterday before Judge Walter R. O'Malley in the City court in Aurora. Bennigsen, an auditor for Sears, Roebuck & Co., said he fled from Russia after the revolution and came to the United States in 1924.

BURGLAR GETS GAS TICKETS.

Ration coupons for 1,400 gallons of gasoline and other items valued at $175 were taken in a burglary of his gas station at 7051 Cornell av., Joseph Bisping, 7124 East End av., reported to police yesterday.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

DEPENDENCY DISCHARGES.

There have been so many inquiries regarding the conditions under which a dependency discharge may be obtained that we have decided to set out the conditions in this article so that the whole problem can be understood by the Yank and his dependents.

Section V. of army regulations 615-360 gives the authority and conditions under which a dependency discharge may be given. [The requirements, etc., are about the same for navy, coast guard, and marines.] Paragraph 40 [a] states: "When by reason of death or disability of a member of the family of an enlisted man, occurring after his enlistment, members of his family become dependent upon him for care or support, he may, in the discretion of the secretary of war, be discharged from the service of the United States. [b] During the emergency, it is essential that man power be conserved. Therefore, releases from active service on account of dependency will be granted ONLY when the necessity therefor is extreme and where the evidence required by paragraph 42 has been submitted and clearly indicates that the release of the enlisted man is necessary to prevent or relieve destitution."

Paragraph 42 states: "[a] The evidence required is affidavits showing that—[1] Enlisted man's presence at home is necessary for the support or care of members of his family. [2] This condition has arisen due to the death or disability occurring in the enlisted man's family since his enlistment or induction. [3] Discharge of the enlisted man is necessary to prevent or relieve destitution and the necessity therefor is extreme."

The following points from paragraph 42b are important: "[1] The term 'members of the family' includes only the following: Wife, children, father, mother, brothers, sisters, any relative who has stood in loco parentis to the enlisted man prior to his enlistment. [2] Death or disability occurring in the enlisted man's family is NOT sufficient grounds for discharge on account of dependency UNLESS it results directly in making a member of the enlisted man's family ACTUALLY dependent upon him for [physical] care or support and discharge is necessary to prevent or relieve destitution." [Destitution, of course, means the family or dependent would be placed on charity despite the enlisted man's salary and government allotments and despite any additional income from any other source.] "[3] Dependency caused by anything other than death or disability is not cause for discharge under this section. For instance, desertion of the enlisted man's mother by her husband, or the marriage of a brother who supported the mother prior to marriage, is not grounds for discharge under this section. [4] When disease of a member of the enlisted man's family existed prior to his enlistment or induction BUT BECOMES WORSE to such an extent as to make the care or support of the enlisted man necessary, discharge may be authorized."

INJUNCTION SUIT ON L FARE RAISE SET FOR MARCH 6

An injunction suit that may have an important bearing on the value of the elevated railroad properties, which the city is seeking to purchase, was set yesterday by Judge Walter J. La Buy of the Circuit court for a hearing on March 6.

The suit was brought by the Chicago Rapid Transit company and is directed at the Illinois commerce commission, which refused several months ago to permit the company to advance fares from the current 10 cents to 12 cents [or 13 cents with a transfer]. The "L" requested that the I. C. C. be enjoined from interfering with the collection of the higher fares.

In its order the commission said 10 cents was the maximum charged for a similar service in the United States. Attorneys for the "L" contended that the return from the present fares was so small that the order amounted to confiscation of property.

Hearings on the case already have been held before a master in chancery, Charles A. McDonald, whose report upheld the position of the elevated.

Lacks Permit to Practice, Chiropractor Convicted

Lawrence E. Pearson, 48, of 4021 N. Harding av., was found guilty yesterday by a jury before Judge Russell W. Keeney of Du Page county in the County court on a charge of practicing as a chiropractor without a license. Mrs. Lorraine Johnson, an investigator for the state department of registration and education, testified that he diagnosed and treated her supposed ailments. Judge Keeney will hear a motion for a new trial Feb. 28.

Czecho-Slovakia—Still in the War

This is a new map of Czecho-Slovakia, which was absorbed territorially by bordering countries in 1938 and 1939. Most of it was taken by Germany, altho Hungary took a small part and Poland a still smaller part. The present government of Czecho-Slovakia is functioning in London and Czecho-Slovakian troops are fighting with the allies. Czecho-Slovakia has an area of 54,244 square miles (about that of Florida), and in 1939 its population was 15¼ million. Legends on the map show how the country was broken up. Locations of sources of principal products are indicated.
